[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Foreign exchange rates, led by the English pound sterling, played fast and loose today in checker board fashion over the lowest plane of values ever reached in this country. From a previous depression of $4.80 registered at the opening of the market, sterling made its faltering way by leaps and bounds to $4.55 1-2 in the late afternoon and fell back at the day's end to $4.54. Francs dropped at a single stride from 6.03 to 6.09, reaching their lowest value. Lire hovered around 6.54, approximately twenty-six per cent below their normal worth. Reichsmarks zigzagged between 80 3-8 and 80 5-8. The entire market was in convulsions throughout the day, although the tendency toward hysteria lessened toward the close.

The leading bankers however were said to be calm. One foreign exchange expert asserted tonight that he had obtained £6,500 pounds sterling had been bought in this market today. The utterly divergent quotations at the opening and the close he ascribed largely to speculators. This view, however, was not generally accepted and

PROGRAMME OF DEFENSES.

Wilson Preparing One for Several Years in Advance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Sept. 1.—With danger of serious trouble with Germany apparently removed, President Wilson, it was said authoritatively tonight, believes he can proceed with more freedom in the development of his national defense plans because there can be no suspicion that they are directed against any particular nation. The President's idea, it was said, is to prepare a programme for several years in advance, and in doing so to secure the expert opinion of army and navy officers who have been watching military developments in Europe. Expenditures for the army and navy are to be kept as low as the President thinks consistent with the plans to be presented to him by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels.

PHYSICIAN AND HIS COMPANION SHOT WHILE RIDING IN AN AUTOMOBILE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Sept. 1.—Dr. C. Franklin Mohr of this city and Newport, who, with Miss Emily Burger of this city, was mysteriously shot while seated in his automobile on a dark road in Darrington last night, died at a hospital today. Miss Burger was reported better, and it was believed that her wounds would not prove fatal.

George W. Healis, Dr. Mohr's chauffeur, is held by the Barrington police, who are not satisfied with his declaration that he saw no other automobile at the time Dr. Mohr and Miss Burger were shot.

Miss Burger today said another car approached them from the rear, and as it came alongside several shots were fired at Dr. Mohr and herself.

Dr. Mohr was a graduate of Johns Hopkins University. He was married twelve years ago, but his wife had sued him for separation and he entered a counter-suit. Miss Burger had been employed by Dr. Mohr as an office assistant for about three years.

COMMENTS ON THE SITUATION.

A dispatch from Posen indicates the Germans will not try to take Petrograd, but move southward to Odessa to form a line of communications around the Balkan states between Austria and Turkey. Official dispatches show the Teutonic allies are making a special effort to drive the Russians out of Eastern Galicia and thus prepare the way for the march to Odessa and the boat trip to Constantinople. With the Arabic crisis between the United States and Germany past, peace talk is being revived. The Germans admit they expect peace to emerge from the conference between Lansing and Bernstorff yesterday. In this connection it is interesting to observe that Cardinal Gibbons, on a peace mission, is to see President Wilson today.

PETROGRAD OR ODESSA?

Now's the Kaiser's Time to Choose.

Russian Capital Already is Said to be in Early Stage of Evacuation.

Germans More than Likely will Set Themselves to Black Sea Route.

Roundabout Way to Turkey may Soon Decide the Fate of the Dardanelles.

BY OSWALD SCHUETTE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POSEN (Germany) Sept. 1.—Petrograd realizes more keenly than any other part of the world how demoralized are the harassed and driven armies of the Czar. It is known that the Russian capital is already in the early stages of evacuation in view of the expected fall of Riga. If the latter city is captured by the Germans panic will reign in Petrograd. But will the German forces actually strike next at the Czar's capital?

Politics and not military strategy may decide the objective of the next offensive movement by the German forces. The main Russian armies are apparently in a hopeless position in the Pripet swamps and the Bialowiesc forests and are ready to fall to pieces. Shall Germany's victorious armies strike at Petrograd or Odessa?

Petrograd would be the center of the world's attention if the German armies marched toward it, but even the capture of Petrograd would hardly bring the Russians to their knees. The actual Odessa objective, however, is the establishment of a German line of communication to the Black Sea around the Balkan states; it would also establish connections with Turkey and definitely end the doubt about the outcome of the fighting at the Dardanelles by making impossible further progress there by the allies.

The next possibility is a real offensive against Italy. So far the Austrians have only taken a defensive position toward the Italians and have suffered small losses in the attacks upon their mountain strongholds.

On the west front the biggest objective is Calais, but the eastern war zones have gradually assumed greater importance. Here the German and Austrian forces are pounding away relentlessly and terrible fighting is now in progress in the Russian swamps and forests.

LUTSK CAPTURED BY THE GERMANS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA, Sept. 1 (via London, 8:40 p.m.)—The Russian fortress of Lutsk has been captured by Teutonic forces, it was officially announced today by the Austrian War Office.

The Russian fortress of Lutsk is located in the province of Volhynia, about sixty miles east of the River Bug on a branch of the main-line railway running from Southern Russia, northward to Brest-Litovsk. It is one of the triangle of fortresses which lie about fifty miles from each other in this region, the other two being Dubno and Rovno. It has a population of more than 30,000.

So far as official reports have indicated it is the most easterly point on Russian territory reached by the Teutonic troops. Its capture marks the fall of the tenth fortress within a month under Austro-German attacks.

The text of the announcement follows:

"The fortress of Lutsk is in our hands. The Fifty-ninth Regiment of Infantry at the point of the bayonet ejected the Russians from the railway station and entered the town at the same time with the enemy. The town yesterday evening was cleared of the enemy.

"Near Baily-Kamien, in North Galicia, the army of Gen. Von Boehm-Ermolli broke through the enemy line on a front of twenty kilometers (twelve and one-half miles.) The double defeat forced the Russians fighting west of the Stry to retreat behind the river.

"The army of Gen. Von Bothmer yesterday captured Zborow. Fighting on the Stripa is proceeding. North of Bucsacs counter-attacks were repulsed."

JAPS MAY HELP IN DARDANELLES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 1, 5:20 a.m.—What appears to be an intimation that Japan will co-operate in the plan to force the Dardanelles is contained in an interview with Baron Hayashi, Japanese Ambassador to Italy, sent to the Petit Parisien by its Rome correspondent.

"We must not allow our enemies to profit by information about the movements of troops," he replied to a question about the Dardanelles.

"We have not ceased to collaborate with our allies to the extent assigned to us. The world will be astonished when it knows what we have done, what we are doing, and what we are willing to do. The Russians are nearest to us and we can be most useful to them. Rest assured it is the greatest desire of Japan to assist in the sacred cause of civilization."

J. G. HOAG IS ROBBED OF DIAMONDS AND MONEY.

ARMED with a sponge saturated with chloroform, a masked burglar entered the home of J. G. Hoag, No. 652 West Eighteenth street early this morning, and after overpowering the master of the house with the deadly fumes, got safely away with a a quantity of valuable jewelry and $54 in cash. During the burglary, Mrs. Hoag, who is slightly hard of hearing and a sound sleeper, was not awakened in her room in another part of the house.

The burglar entered through a back door. He entered Mr. Hoag's room and was working on the small safe there, when the owner of the house awoke. Mr. Hoag started for the intruder, and was received with the saturated sponge, full on the face. The burglar held the sponge there until Mr. Hoag was overcome.

After taking all the valuables in sight, the burglar noticed a diamond ring on the sleeping man's finger. He tore this off with such force that it ripped Mr. Hoag's finger severely.

A woman's gold necklace, a brooch, studded with garnets, and numerous diamond and gold rings were stolen. When Mr. Hoag recovered from the effects of his stupor he notified the University Police Station and detectives started on a hunt for the burglar.

The stabbing occurred after the return of the McLaughlins from an automobile ride. An ordinary dinner knife was the weapon used.

Mrs. McLaughlin accompanied her husband to the hospital. While detectives were trying to question her there, she suddenly jumped up and, seizing a large inkwell from the office desk hurled it through the window.

GERMANS YIELD ALL WILSON DEMANDED.

"Fundamental Principles Recognized," Says Secretary of State Lansing.

Strained Relations Between Washington and Berlin Apparently Passed into History When Von Bernstorff Submitted in Writing the Assurance that no More Liners are to be Sunk Without Warning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Strained relations between the United States and Germany over submarine warfare apparently passed into history today after Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, informed Secretary Lansing in writing that prior to the sinking of the Arabic his government had decided that its submarines should sink no more liners without warning.

Oral assurances to this effect had been given by the Ambassador last week. But it was not until Count von Bernstorff, after a call at the State Department today, returned to the Embassy and sent a letter to Mr. Lansing quoting instructions from Berlin concerning an answer to be made to the last American note on the sinking of the Lusitania that officials frankly admitted their gratification over the changed position of the Imperial government.

Secretary Lansing said in a formal statement that the letter "appears to be a recognition of the fundamental principle for which we have contended." He immediately sent the communication to the White House and discussed it in cheerful vein.

VISIBLE RELAXATION.

Everywhere in administration circles there was a visible relaxation of the tension which had existed ever since the Lusitania tragedy, though lessened by the earlier assurances of Count von Bernstorff and advices from Ambassador Gerard as to the attitude of officials in Berlin.

The next step, it is stated authoritatively, will be a formal communication from the German government, disavowing the destruction of the Arabic and tendering regret and reparation for American lives lost in the disaster if the attack was made by a German submarine. Even if the submarine which torpedoed the liner subsequently was sunk by a British man of war, as has been suggested both from Berlin and London, the Berlin foreign office is expected to send its disavowal as soon as a reasonable time has passed without a report from its commander.

Once the situation growing out of the Arabic incident has been disposed of, the response to the long unanswered American note on the Lusitania will be dispatched and if Germany's explanations and proposals in this case are accepted by the United States, both officials and diplomats here expect the way to be cleared for an understanding between the two governments on the subject of freedom of the seas. In German circles it is freely admitted that in Berlin a hope prevails that such an understanding would be followed by insistent action by the United States to stop interferences with neutral commerce by Great Britain and her allies which prevent Germany from importing food supplies for her civil population.

BERNSTORFF'S LETTER.

Count von Bernstorff's letter, which revealed for the first time that Germany had prepared an answer to the Lusitania note which was about to be dispatched when the Arabic was destroyed, follows:

"My dear Mr. Secretary: With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contains the following passage:

"'Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety to the lives of noncombatants, provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance.'

"Although I know that you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question until the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above, because this policy of my government was decided on before the Arabic incident occurred.

"I have no objection to your making any use you may please of the above information.

"I remain, my dear Mr. Lansing,

[Signed] "Very sincerely yours,

"J. BERNSTORFF."

LANSING'S STATEMENT.

In connection with the letter Secretary Lansing made the following statement:

"In view of the clearness of the foregoing statement, it seems needless to make any comment in regard to it other than to say that it appears to be a recognition of the fundamental principle for which we have contended."

Secretary Lansing interpreted "liner" as used in the letter to mean all peaceful merchant ships. Later in informal conversation the German Ambassador explained that regular passenger vessels were meant. There seemed to be no disposition however to question the intention of the Berlin government to grant the fundamental demands of the United States, and officials were inclined to wait for the formal communication without discussing the meaning of terms. It was pointed out too that the cases at issue between the two governments concern passenger liners and that so far no question had arisen as to a freight vessel carrying Americans in her crew.

Chief Justice White, who was among Secretary Lansing's callers, declared the outcome was the greatest diplomatic achievement of the United States in a generation.

Hearing out reports that the German submarine which sank the Arabic had herself been sunk, State Department officials today revealed that a report was received from Ambassador Page at London the day after the sinking of the steamer, indicating that a German submarine had been destroyed near the scene of the Arabic disaster.

ONE HUNDRED MEXICANS CROSS BORDER IN TEXAS.

Fearing an Attempt at Reprisals for the Killing of Pascual Orozco Sheriff and Cowboys are Hurrying to Hot Springs to Investigate—Carranza Denies that He is Fomenting Revolt in Guatemala.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SIERRA BLANCA (Tex.) Sept. 1.—A report received tonight stated 100 Mexicans have crossed the border in the neighborhood of Hot Springs, El Paso county, Tex.

Fearing an attempt at reprisals for the killing of Gen. Pascual Orozco and four companions in the Green River Canyon by a local posse on Monday, Sheriff Edwards has left for Hot Springs. Cowboys and ranch owners are hurrying to reinforce the sheriff. Hot Springs is on the border about twenty-five miles from here. There is no telegraph or telephone communication.

AS TO GUATEMALA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 1.—Reports that Gen. Carranza was assisting revolutionary leaders of Guatemala in organizing an expedition against President Cabrera received here today from apparently authentic sources, were met with a firm denial by the Carranza faction. Villa sources, however, insisted that Gen. Blas Corral, Carranza commander at San Cristobal, State of Chiapas, had encouraged Guatemalan revolutionists by allowing them to organize under his protection and had loaned them 2000 rifles.

They asserted he would not have so acted without consent of Gen. Carranza. The dismissal of the Guatemala Minister from Mexico by Gen. Carranza, it was pointed out, indicated Carranza's resentment toward Guatemala.

MORE GAINS FOR ALLIES ON GALLIPOLI PENINSULA.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 2, 12:10 a.m.—Further gains for the allied forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula are chronicled in an official report received from Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the British forces operating against the Turks. The report says:

"Further fighting on the 27th and 28th on the northern section of the line has resulted in the capture of an important tactical point commanding the Buvuk-Anafarta Valley to the east and north, and an appreciable strip of the ground occupied by the Australians and New Zealander corps."

RUSSIANS WIN AND THEN LOSE.

Hold Germans at Grodno but are Split in Galicia.

Austrians Storm and Capture the Fortress at Lutsk.

Early Rains are Expected to Greatly Aid the Slavs.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The minor fortress of Lutsk, which, with those of Dubno and Rovno, forms a fortified triangle on Russian territory just north of the Galician frontier, was captured by the Austrians today, according to the official report from Vienna. It is in this direction that the Austro-German offensive has been the most aggressive during the past few days, the object being to separate the Russian army, which has been retreating through the Pripet marshes from that operating in Galicia. The latter forces yesterday inflicted, so the Russians claim, a rather severe defeat on the invaders.

The capture of Lutsk, however, is likely to compel the Russians, despite their victory, to evacuate that part of Galicia still held by them; otherwise their flank there would be seriously threatened.

HOLD THE GERMANS.

Along the rest of the front, except in the center, where the Austro-Germans continue to make a slow advance, the Russians appear to be holding their own. They have thus far prevented the Germans from crossing the Dvina at Friedrichstadt, where a battle has been in progress for several days; they have arrested the German offensive between that point and the Gulf of Riga and are still holding their ground between Kovno and Vilna and before Grodno, although the Germans have approached the outer positions of Grodno fortress.

In the opinion of military writers here the Russians now stand a good chance of winning the race for time. Within a few weeks the autumn rains will be here and it is pointed out, unless they can succeed in gaining a decisive result before that time, the Austro-Germans can hardly hope to smash the Russian armies before, under cover of the long winter, they are reformed and re-equipped. At present the Austro-Germans are straining every nerve to win this decision, but they have been greatly delayed by the intensity of the Russian counter-attacks and the stubbornness with which the Russian troops hold the positions protecting their retreating comrades.

LOSSES ENORMOUS.

The Russian losses, of course, have been enormous. According to Berlin, the Russians have lost 1,000,000 in prisoners since May 2, the date on which the drive began in Western Galicia, while during August alone the capture included more than 350,000 men and 2500 cannon. The Austro-German losses, too, have been heavy in killed and wounded. While the strain on the troops has been terrific. They still have, according to Petrograd estimates, about 2,000,000 men on the eastern front, 300,000 being in the Riga region, more than 1,000,000 in the center and from 600,000 to 700,000 in Galicia.

For a week the French have been pouring an avalanche of shells into the German lines in the west. It is not believed that this ammunition would not be used simply for the purpose of damaging the German trenches, and therefore an early general offensive is looked for.

HIS BOAT SHELLED BY A SUBMARINE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamer Rosano arrived today from Cardiff, bringing Capt. Wrye and the crew of seven of the British schooner St. Olaf, sunk by a submarine fifty-eight miles off Gallyhead, Ireland, on August 19.

Capt. Wrye said he was bound from Llanelly, Wales, for Parrsboro, N. S., when a German submarine appeared off the port side of the schooner and ordered the vessel abandoned.

"The submarine commander gave us ten minutes to get away," said Capt. Wrye. "Just as all hands were pulling away, the submarine opened fire on the schooner, shelling her until she filled and capsized. We returned to the wreck and hung on until the Rosano came along more than five hours later."

TO BUY AIRSHIPS FOR HOLLAND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Lieutenant-Commander Henri G. Van Steyn of the Dutch navy, was one of the arrivals today on the steamer Noordam from Rotterdam. He said he held a commission to purchase an unlimited quantity of aeroplanes and hydroplanes for Holland from American manufacturers.

"From observation during the war we have concluded that the American aeroplanes and hydroplanes are the best," said Commander Van Steyn. "All of the machines will be used by Holland as a part of the national defense improvement now being undertaken there."

SWISS NEUTRALITY VIOLATED AGAIN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

GENEVA (Switzerland) Sept. 1 (via Paris, 4 p.m.)—German aviators violated Swiss territory yesterday for the fourth time. Five German military aeroplanes flew inside the Swiss frontier opposite the French town of Delle.

Although under fire from French artillery the aeroplanes turned back. One damaged much came down near the Swiss village of Bulx, but afterwards took to the air and escaped toward Alsace.

BRITISH WRITER SENT TO PRISON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MANCHESTER (Eng.) Sept. 1, 5:42 p.m.—Theodore Sington, a British journalist of German parentage, was sentenced today to a term of six months in jail for writing for American newspapers matter "calculated to prejudice the relations of the British government with neutral countries."

When arrested on August 21 Sington denied that his articles were intended for publication.

there were indications that there had been large dealings in small amounts after sterling had strengthened to 4.52.

For reasons not seen on the surface, optimism was more apparent tonight than analysis of the situation seemed to warrant. A persistent report prevailed that relief was in sight. It was said that the delegation of British financiers and treasury officials sent here to mend England's battered credits were almost within sight of land. The blue pencil of the censor had crossed out all news from abroad of their sailing for New York, but it was thought possible they would be found aboard the American liner St. Paul, due to dock here tomorrow.

It was assumed tonight that the contemplated English credit loan to be established here would be of such proportions that it would be a national rather than a New York affair.

GOVERNMENT PAYS PAR.

Study of the exchange today brought to light unusual developments. Not the least of these was the discovery that of all the American institutions sending money to foreign countries or receiving it from abroad the United States government alone could not profit by the loan rates, at least so far as international money orders, issued by the Postoffice Department, are concerned. While the English pound was selling in Wall Street at $4.50, the postoffice, several blocks away, was paying standard, normal rate of $4.87. Senders of money orders to England had to pay $4.87 to the pound; recipients of money orders from England were given that sum here.

The same situation prevailed at the postoffice so far as other foreign moneys were concerned. Lires, depreciated twenty-six per cent. in foreign exchange markets, were exchanged at par over the money order counters at the postoffice. This was due, it is said, to ancient treaties, which fixed in rigid terms the exchange values of money between the United States and its associate powers in the issuance of postal orders. The limit of any one order, however, was $100, although there was no restriction within reason to the number issued to any individual.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

The situation last year was directly the reverse. Exchange on sterling soared to about $7 at the time when American tourists, stranded abroad, were seeking funds. One enterprising individual, it was reported, knowing that the principal rate was $4.87, hired clerks and sent them by relays for several days to the postoffice to obtain $100 orders. These orders, on which he saved $2.13 on every pound, he expected to sell at a figure under the prevailing rate of exchange, but high enough to make a handsome profit. The intention was divined and the Postoffice Department insisted upon his returning the orders and paid him back between $40.00 and $50,000.

AMERICAN DOLLAR POPULAR IN LONDON

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 1 (4:25 p.m.)—Sterling dropped to 4.48 in the foreign exchange markets here today.

The sensational drop would have created something akin to alarm in the city but for the knowledge that the banks have actively taken the arrangement of the matter in hand, and the belief that the trouble will be over very shortly.

Today's erratic movement in cable transfers, which closed yesterday at 4.59 and opened at 4.54½, frightened merchants into covering their near and forward positions. This created a great demand for dollars on a short market following the rate down to 4.48. At this rate a large quantity of American securities were marketed, thereby helping a recovery to 4.52. But the market was still very uncertain and closed around 4.52½.

E. F. Davies, chairman of the committee of foreign bankers on exchange problems, discussing the situation, today, said:

"Exchange is likely to go much lower unless the long talked of credit is quickly arranged. Merchants on this side are seriously considering a curtailment of buying orders in America wherever possible as importers have incurred large exchange losses."

FRANCE CAN SPARE BILLION AND HALF.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 1.—"France could send before the end of the war a billion and a half francs gold to the United States without affecting her financial position in Europe," said Senator E. Almond today. Senator Almond is an eminent authority on financial questions and spokesman of the Finance Committee of the Senate.

"While we can do this and will do it, if America insists," he continued, "we on this side consider that the greatest service which can be rendered to France is to co-operate in stabilizing the exchange market, which Americans can do to their own advantage as well as to ours, by granting a loan, the proceeds of which would pay for supplies purchased in America. The only alternative is to submerge American banks with gold to meet all payments. This we can do as easily as was done a few years ago, when the Bank of France sent 100,000,000 francs to relieve the situation in Wall Street."

RUSSIA TO USE PAPER MONEY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Aug. 31 (via London Sept. 1.)—The Finance Committee of the Duma presented a bill today extending the rights of the State bank to issue paper money. The committee report discussed the entire problem of meeting war expenses, stating that the sums needed were so large that all possible sources of revenue must be used—taxation, internal credit operations, an issue of paper money and foreign loans.

"For 1915," the report stated, "the estimated expenses are over 10,000,000,000 roubles ($5,000,000,000.)

"The revenue from ordinary receipts is estimated at 2,796,000,000 roubles ($1,398,000,000) while credit operations up to the present time have yielded 4,181,000,000 roubles ($2,090,500,000) leaving over 3,000,000,000 roubles ($1,500,000,000) yet to be provided."

To Nurse the French Wounded.

Lady Hope Nelson.

Lady Hope Nelson, formerly of St. Louis, after much persuasion has prevailed on her husband to give his consent to her becoming a nurse at the front and will enter a French hospital to fit herself for nursing. Lady Hope Nelson before her marriage was Miss Isabel Valle, and was described by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, as the most beautiful woman in the world. She became acquainted with Mrs. Vanderbilt at Newport. When she was presented at the Court of St. James, London society chronicles described her as the most beautiful American ever seen at court. Cable messages received in America say that Lady Hope Nelson will start from her home, at Batsford Park, Morton in Marsh, Lieicester, immediately. Her husband is in Ireland training recruits. A sister-in-law, Gladys Hope Nelson, is at the front driving a motor ambulance she took to France. Lady Hope Nelson is the daughter of Dr. Jules Valle. Her husband is the heir to Sir William Hope Nelson's wealth, made in steamships.

Neutrality.

GERMAN WAY BLOCKED BY THE RUMANIANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME (via Paris) Sept. 1.—It is understood here that the Rumanian government has decided to stand firmly by its policy of declining to permit the central empires to forward arms and ammunition through Rumania to Turkey. The statement was made here today on good authority that Rumania has explained her attitude to the central powers substantially as follows:

Rumania desires to maintain strict neutrality. She is confirmed in her attitude by the existence of war between Italy and Turkey, desiring to preserve the intimate relations and friendship between herself and Italy.

ARTILLERY ENGAGEMENTS ALONG THE FRENCH FRONT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 1, (10:25 p.m.)—The following official communication was issued by the War Office tonight:

"Artillery actions have occurred in the sector to the north of Arras and in the regions of Roye and Quennevieres.

"The enemy has thrown some shells on Soissons and Rheims, and our artillery has directed a very efficacious fire against the enemy trenches on the front of Aisne and Champagne.

"In the Argonne the Germans during the course of the day bombarded our front on several occasions with bomb throwers and guns of various calibers, particularly between the ravins of La Houyette and La Fontaine-Aux-Charmes. Our batteries and our trench guns replied and silenced the guns of the enemy.

"In the Vosges there has been a rather violent cannonading in the Bande-Sapt and at Combekopf.

"On the night of August 28-29 our aeroplanes bombarded the German installations at Ostend, the cantonments at Middlekerk and the station at Thourout.

"Enemy aeroplanes have dropped bombs on Luneville. It is reported that there were some victims among the civil population."

ALLIES FIGHTING TURKS LOSING HEART, BERLIN SAYS

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via Sayville.)—The Overseas News Agency says:

"Telegrams from the Dardanelles report that the morale of the expeditionary force is badly shaken. A French soldier who was taken prisoner declared that the Germans would be in Paris before the allies got to Constantinople. The troops are reported as pessimistic over the prospect of a winter campaign. Spread of the dysentery epidemic that already is decimating the force is feared.

"English newspapers declare that Lieut. Goschen, son of Sir William Goschen, the former British Ambassador at Berlin, who was wounded before his capture and with other British officers later placed in strict confinement as a measure of reprisal for Great Britain's treatment of German submarine officers, had not had his privileges restored under the mutual agreement whereby the confined officers were put on the same footing as other prisoners. It is explained that Lieut. Goschen's case was an exception, for the reason that it was necessary to send him to the hospital at Magdeburg for treatment.

"The semi-official Milli News Agency at Constantinople has received advices from Bagdad that the British lost more than 3000 men in attempting to take possession of Bender Buchir. The excitement of the natives is declared to be increasing."

LOW EXCHANGE HELPS PROFITS.

UNCLE SAM BUYS IN THE OPEN MARKET.

Although Usual Rates Must be Adhered to in Money Order Transfers, Outside Purchasers Gives the Government 27 Cents Clear on Every Pound Sterling Handled.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The United States government is making a handsome profit on international postal money orders as a result of the prevailing low exchange rates on foreign currency in American markets.

Third Assistant Postmaster-General Dockery said tonight that the business was particularly profitable now, not only with England, but practically all the belligerent nations with whom orders are being exchanged.

"Money order exchanges with European nations," Mr. Dockery said, "are enormously in our favor. We are selling many more orders than we are cashing and the business operates to our advantage with nearly all the belligerent powers."

He explained that while the English pound exchange was regulated by postal conventions between the United States and Great Britain and could not decline below $4.87, the government could purchase exchange in the open market today at $4.50 and transmit it to England to redeem postal orders for which $4.87 had been received here, thereby netting a profit of nearly 37 cents on each pound.

When war was declared and many Americans were stranded abroad, the situation was reversed and operated under the conventions to the advantage of the foreign governments. The United States then lost heavily on international money orders, because of the rates which prevailed.

HARD FIGHT FOR GRODNO.

Germans are now in Front of Outer Line of Forts.

Upper Narew is Crossed by Bavarian Prince Leopold.

Many Prisoners Taken by Kaiser in August.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via Sayville.)—German troops fighting for Grodno are now in front of the outer line of forts of that stronghold, according to today's official statement from German army headquarters. The text of the statement follows:

"Western theater of war—The situation is unchanged.

"Northwest of Bataume an English aeroplane was shot by one of our aviators.

"Eastern theater of war, army of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg—On the western front of Grodno our troops are in front of the outer line of forts.

"Between Odelsk, east of Shkolka, and the forest of Bielovicza the enemy is being further pursued.

"Army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria — The Upper Narew has been crossed.

"Army of Field Marshal Von Mackensen — Our pursuit continues. Wherever the enemy has made a stand he has been defeated.

"Southeastern theater of the war — The troops of Gen. Count Von Bothoere, in the face of stubborn resistance by the enemy, stormed heights on the banks of the Stripa, north of Eborow, overcoming a temporary delay after a repulse of the enemy's resistance.

"During the month of August the number of prisoners taken by German troops in the eastern and northeastern theaters of the war and the quantities of war materials captured during the same period, totalled more than 2000 officers and 260,839 men taken prisoners and 2300 cannon and 560 machine guns taken.

"Of these 20,000 prisoners and 237 cannon were taken at Kovno. About 90,000 prisoners, including fifteen generals and more than 1000 other officers and 1300 cannon and 150 machine guns, were taken at Novogeorgievsk. The counting up of the cannon and machine guns taken at Novogeorgievsk has not been finished, however, while the count of machine guns taken at Kovno has not yet begun. The figures quoted as totals, therefore, will be considerably increased.

"The stock of ammunition, provisions and oats in the two fortresses cannot be estimated.

"The number of prisoners taken by German and Austro-Hungarian troops since May 2, when the spring campaign in Galicia began, has therefore increased to considerably more than 1,000,000."

TWO MEN HELD ON SUSPICION.

AMERICAN AND AN UNKNOWN ARE STOPPED IN LONDON.

Both are Accused of Violating the Neutrality Laws of the United States by Fraudulently Obtaining Passports and Washington is Making an Investigation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Sept. 1.—Officials of the Departments of State and Justice are investigating alleged breaches of neutrality involving E. V. Gasche and Andrew D. Meloy, a New York business man, born in Pennsylvania, now detained in England. The men were taken from the steamer Noordam by British authorities on August 3 at Kirkwall.

Gasche sailed on the Noordam with a passport as a Swiss. Investigation has convinced officials here that he is the same man who applied to the State Department under the name of E. V. Gates just before the Noordam sailed for a passport as an American citizen, and who failed to furnish letters desired by the department to identify him with business ventures he claimed to be interested in.

In his initial application to the department, Gates said he wanted to visit Southern France to buy wines, and later expected to visit England, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Efforts are now being made to prove that he is neither Gates nor Gasche, but a German of some prominence.

According to information at the State Department, Meloy was taken from the ship because of his alleged associations with Gasche. Miss Hattie E. Bropey, stenographer to Meloy, who was also reported to have been taken off the ship, was allowed to proceed with Mr. Meloy's wife, according to advices received here.

BRITISH THREAT TO THE ITALIANS.

BERLIN (via Sayville, N. Y.) Sept. 1.—The Overseas News Agency says:

"The Messaggero of Rome indiscreetly reported the proceedings of a Cabinet meeting at which was revealed a sharp difference of opinion whether Italy should declare war on Turkey. The Messaggero's article, which was suppressed by the censor showed that Premier Salandra was wavering. The matter was clinched when the British Ambassador at Rome, Sir J. Rennell Rodd, made such strong representations on behalf of his government that the King was unable to withstand the pressure. England stated that unless Italy declared war on Turkey the British government would be obliged to withhold money and coal."

THE GERMAN VIEW OF GREY'S ATTACK.

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via Sayville.)—The Overseas News Agency says:

"The North German Gazette says in an officially inspired article that the fierce attack of Sir Edward Grey upon the German Chancellor and the German Minister of Finance, who said that Germany's enemies would have to pay the expenses of the war, shows England was hit in her most vulnerable spot. The hot sallies of the British press on the same subject also show that the idea of paying for the war out of her own pocket evidently is much more unpleasant to England than the plans of German annexationists who desire to take over territory belonging for the most part to England's allies."

NAMES A REGIMENT FOR HINDENBURG.

KAISER'S ACTION TO PERPETUATE THE MEMORY OF BATTLE OF TANNENBURG.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via Sayville.) — Emperor William, says the Overseas News Agency, addressed a telegram to Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in commemmoration of the anniversary of the battle of Tannenburg, in East Prussia, in which the Emperor alluded to as "a deed of arms unparalleled in history" and the basis of other powerful blows administered since then—the winter battle of the Masurian lakes, the battles of Lodz and Lowicz, and the wonderful campaign leading up to the most recent events.

"All German hearts," continued the telegram, "beat higher when you are thought of. I feel that I should again thank you on this day from the bottom of my heart. You have engraved your name in iron letters on the tablets of history.

"I order that the regiment of which you were recently appointed honorary colonel shall forever bear your name, and be known as infantry regiment General Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, Second Masurian Regiment, No. 147."

DENIES WOMEN ARE MISTREATED.

GERMAN REFUGEES IN LONDON ARE SAID TO BE GIVEN EVERY PROTECTION.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Home Secretary issued a denial tonight of statements published in the United States that German women and children in London are being exposed to the fury of mobs, which are encouraged by the police, whenever they venture out of doors; are prevented from buying food and are compelled to subsist on what they can beg.

The Home Secretary says that all German women desiring to return to Germany are given facilities for so doing and that, together with their children, they receive the same police protection as British subjects and similar relief from the guardians of the poor if they are destitute.

FRENCH CAPTURE ISLAND OF RUAD.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 1.—An official communication issued by the Ministry of Marine tonight says:

"The Island of Ruad (Syria) lying between Latakiyep and Tarabindus, has been occupied by a detachment from the French squadron, which holds the blockhouse and the Syrian shore. The French flag was hoisted at 9 o'clock this morning. There was no resistance, the population according the troops a warm reception.

"The Island of Ruad lies two miles off the coast of Syria. Its population of some 2000 is largely engaged in navigation and sponge fishing.

ALLY TROOPS SHOW STRAIN.

Bitter Complaints of the Men on Gallipoli Peninsula.

Excessive Heat is Telling on the British Forces.

Losses Around Anafarta Figured at Twenty Thousand.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

TURKISH HEADQUARTERS ON THE GALLIPOLI PENINSULA, Aug. 22 (via Berlin and wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., Sept. 1.)—It has been impossible to ascertain the total losses of the British in the Anafarta region in the fighting which followed the landing of a fresh expeditionary force on August 6 and 7. The losses in dead on the whole Gallipoli front which the allies sustained as a result of the general offensive movement coincident with the Anafarta landing exceeds 20,000 men. Most of the bodies are still unburied. One battalion was annihilated.

Officers at the Turkish headquarters are of the opinion that the British have expended in the actions of the last two weeks nearly all the troops landed on August 6 and 7. The Turkish losses are not light, but they do not approach those of the British. The ground thus far occupied by the British is of little military value if an attack on the Dardanelles forts is their objective.

The Associated Press correspondent saw a score of British prisoners. The faces of the men showed the strain under which they had been. They complained of the quality and quantity of the food which they had received. They said they had had only meat, preserves and biscuits. The water supply was poor and insufficient and the sanitary service was overtaxed by the numbers of the wounded, so that many sick soldiers were unattended. Some of them, the prisoners said, were abandoned and fell into the hands of the Turks.

From the stories of the prisoners it would appear that the great heat and the lack of sufficient food and good water is having a depressing effect on the British forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

The foregoing is a portion of a dispatch written on August 23 by the Associated Press correspondent with the Turkish army at the Dardanelles. Owing to the uncertainty of transmission and the action of various censors, through whose hands the dispatch would pass before reaching the United States, the correspondent routed one copy by way of London and a duplicate by way of Berlin. The dispatch via London was received and published on August 26. It was identical in phraseology with the dispatch received today via Berlin except that the London cablegram did not contain the foregoing passages which evidently were stricken out by a British censor.

VON TIRPITZ REPORTED ILL.

GOOD BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA.

Monthly Bulletin Issued by Federal Reserve Board.

Many Crops Reported in a Flourishing Condition.

Oranges Said to be Bringing Satisfactory Prices.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 1.—The monthly bulletin of the Federal Reserve Board, outlining the work of the board and general business conditions in the reserve districts during the month of August, was made public by the Treasury Department today.

Referring to the San Francisco Reserve Bank district, the bulletin states that this district is suffering from the unsettled conditions of the exchange markets and from the lack of ships. It is pointed out that the latter condition will be accentuated by the impending transfer of the Pacific Mail Company's steamers from trans-Pacific to Atlantic service.

During the month of August the bulletin announces the addition of the Continental National Bank of Los Angeles to the intra-district clearing system.

The analysis of business conditions in California during the month, as outlined in the bulletin is, in part as follows:

"Lumber is in slightly better demand, but prices are the lowest in the history of the industry on the Pacific Coast. Sales are reported at less than the cost of production. Production of petroleum in the California fields is now at a rate of approximately 250,000 barrels per day. Although consumption is slightly greater, the amount in storage is so large, and competition so keen that prices are depressed. Copper mining is very active and prices high.

"New building is at a low ebb and a good deal of unemployment is reported. Railroads are busy and have increased their shop forces. Increased earnings are shown, but in this district are chiefly due to the passenger department.

CITRUS OUTPUT.

"The Valencia orange crop has largely been gathered and is being marketed at very satisfactory prices. Lemons, however, have accumulated in warehouses and have moved very slowly at low prices. Hot weather in the East would stimulate the demand. In deciduous fruits the raisin industry is reported as flourishing and the situation as to prunes reasonably satisfactory, but conditions are unsatisfactory as to other fruits, including apples in Oregon and Washington.

"The yield of wheat in California has probably not been more than 40 per cent of expectation, but in other parts of the district the yield has been good and the acreage large, resulting in a large exportable surplus. Transportation difficulties are causing slow marketing and much warehousing. The barley crop is reported good. Hops are selling at prices as high as 15 cents. Cattle, mules, horses, sheep, wool, are all commanding good prices."

GENERAL CONDITIONS GOOD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—A report issued by the Federal Reserve Board today indicates that business conditions in the United States have changed but little in the past month. The report indicates slight improvement with large crops in sight. The following in special lines stimulated by foreign orders and money still easy and plentiful.

Boston reported increased emergency orders in all lines of trade, but retail dealers and department stores show business below normal figures. Unsettled labor conditions are troubling manufacturers.

From the New York district it is reported that industry is more active with foreign orders the principal stimulus. Wholesale trade is good, bank clearings have been increased over July and stock transactions were notably larger in volume.

GOLD INCREASES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Gold to the amount of $37,607,000 was imported into the United States in the first twenty days of August, while exports were only $1,578,000, according to figures announced today by the Federal Reserve Board. Both exports and imports were mostly in United States coin. The largest shipment of the period was an importation of $21,916,000 in the week ending August 13, from English bankers to strengthen credit in the United States. A big shipment last week for the same purpose was not included in the report.

CAPT. EBERLE APPOINTED.

Commandant of the Washington Navy Yard to be Head of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Rear-Admiral William F. Fullam was relieved today of his assignment to the United States Naval Academy, to be succeeded by Capt. E. W. Eberle, now commandant of the Washington navy yard and superintendent of the naval gun factory. Admiral Fullam will succeed Rear-Admiral Charles F. Pond, in command of the Pacific reserve fleet at Puget Sound, the latter being ordered to Portsmouth, N. H., to be commandant of the yard there.

While Acting Secretary Roosevelt issued the new assignments, he acted at the direction of Secretary Daniels, who is on a tour of inspection of Atlantic Coast naval stations. No reasons were given in the department's announcement of the changes.

Rear-Admiral Fullam was detailed as superintendent of the academy February 7, 1914. His action last spring in recommending the dismissal of seven midshipmen for irregularities in examinations led to an investigation by a board of inquiry attended by revelations concerning the widespread use of so-called "dope" at examinations. The board recommended the dismissal of two of the midshipmen and the imposition of less severe penalties upon the others involved, and urged radical changes in the method of conducting examinations. The report was approved so far as the disciplinary measures were concerned, but the examination changes will be worked out through the new superintendent.

Admiral Fullam now is in command of the academy practice squadron which has just passed through the Panama Canal on the homeward journey from San Francisco. The order for his relief at the academy becomes effective September 10.

WOMAN'S OPINION OF LASTING PEACE.

MRS. SHAEDLER SAYS IT CAN ONLY COME THROUGH CONGRESS OF NATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Freedom of the high seas and a congress of neutral nations for settlement of all international disputes will be necessary before universal peace may obtain, according to Mrs. Anna M. Shaedler, president of the Independent German-American Women's Club, who spoke today before delegates to the fall meeting of the organization.

Mrs. Shaedler was a delegate to the recent woman's peace conference at The Hague.

"It will take years and years for the belligerent countries to assume normal conditions, if ever they can do that," Mrs. Shaedler said. "Especially little Holland, the nation that has borne the brunt of most of the troubles of the war owing to her situation among the warring factions. Universal peace can come only through freedom of the high seas and a congress of neutral nations that will determine all international disputes."

Accident.

DE LUXE FLYER IN A WRECK.

FREIGHT CRASHES INTO SANTA FE LIMITED NEAR JOLIET.

One Woman is Badly Hurt and Scores Bruised as the Result of a Misunderstanding of Dispatcher's Orders—Huge Engines Come Together Head-on.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JOLIET (Ill.) Sept. 1.—A mix-up in dispatcher's orders placed the lives of 200 passengers on the California Limited, crack Santa Fe coast train, in jeopardy today. One person was injured and scores were bruised when an Alton freight crashed head-on into the de luxe flyer at Plains, four miles south of Joliet, at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Mary Wheeler, Peoria, was injured internally when she was thrown to the floor of a Pullman coach by the force of the collision. The limited, bound for Chicago, was standing at the Plains siding awaiting the passage of an Alton train. According to Plains operators, the flyer was on the wrong track, through a misunderstanding of dispatching orders.

Both roads use the same right of way at Plains. The Alton train came from the north. A curve obstructs the view of the track at this point and before Charles Lundberg, Alton engineer, could stop, the locomotive crashed head-on. The fireman and engineer jumped to safety. The engine and one baggage car on the flyer were derailed by the impact, while two freight cars were telescoped.

Conductor George Landis of the Santa Fe Limited pacified his passengers, who were on the verge of a panic over the collision.

ELEVEN MILLION ACRES ELIMINATED.

AREA OF THE PUBLIC DOMAIN CONSIDERABLY REDUCED DURING THE YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—More than 11,200,000 acres of public land were eliminated from the public domain during the past fiscal year, the annual report of Commissioner Tallman of the General Land Office will show. There remains 278,544,404 acres open in the public land States, in addition to approximately 300,000,000 acres in Alaska.

Nevada has the most public land, 55,417,746 acres, and Missouri, with only 923 acres, reports the least. California has 20,635,923 acres, Arizona 36,810,327, New Mexico 27,788,357 and Oregon 15,442,178.

F-4 IS SLOWLY GIVING UP DEAD.

TWO MORE BODIES ARE FOUND BUT NEITHER IS POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

HONOLULU, Sept. 1.—Two more bodies were found late today by the men engaged in clearing the hull of the submarine F-4 and one of them is believed by Lieut. Kirby B. Crittenden to be the remains of either Lieut. Alfred L. Ede, who was commander of the diver, or of Ensign Timothy A. Parker.

It was the discovery of an officer's cap near the remains, which were found in the after part of the battery compartment, that led to the belief that one of the bodies was that of an officer.

The insignia on the cap was gone and the naval authorities express doubt if identification will be possible.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER Col.) Sept. 1.—In the absence of an expected opinion from the Attorney-General, defining its power to deal with reluctant witnesses, the Colorado military court of inquiry today confined its investigations to charges of financial irregularities against Maj. George Lee and Capt. A. B. Darlene. These are among the charges presented to Gov. George A. Carlson by a committee of officers and former officers of the National Guard, headed by former Capt. Philip S. Van Cise.

The hearings consisted mainly of the examination of documentary evidence. One witness, Capt. Bert M. Lake, commanding Battery B, was questioned at the afternoon session.

Chicago Board Locks Horns with Labor Federation.

All Members of Teachers' Union Must Get Out.

Religion and Politics Enter into Political Warfare.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 1.—The Chicago School Board and the city of Chicago are now lined up against the forces of organized labor in what promises to be the most bitter battle in the city's history, to determine whether the school board or the Teachers' Federation shall control the public school system. By a vote of 11 to 9 the school board this afternoon adopted what is known as the Loeb resolution, which, in effect, makes it mandatory for all teachers, members of the federation, to resign from that organization or surrender their positions in the schools. The resolution also forbids the future employment of any teacher who is a member of the federation.

MAYOR BACKS BOARD.

Inasmuch as the Chicago Federation of Labor is on record with a statement that it will go the limit in backing the Teachers' Federation, it is plain that a battle royal is in prospect. Mayor Thompson has announced that he is firmly back of the school board. The terms of several trustees who are favorable to the federation have expired and it is fair to presume that their successors, who are to be appointed by the Mayor, will not be federation partisans.

Religion, politics and other elements will enter into the fight. It has been claimed that the federation is absolutely dominated and chiefly made up of members of one religious faith. Ousting of the federation and other radical changes in the management of the public schools was one of the burning issues in the last municipal campaign and explains, to considerable extent, the overwhelming plurality given Mayor Thompson. It is said the present president of the school board, Michael Collins, never attended the public schools. He was educated in a parochial school and it is said that his children will attend parochial. There was considerable resentment over his choice as president of the public schools.

ALLEGES BOODLE.

Margaret Haley, leader of the federation, said today, before the meeting of the board, that evidence would be submitted to the next grand jury to show that a plot existed to wreck the federation and that money had passed for this purpose. Miss Haley and a delegate from the Federation of Labor visited Acting Gov. Canaday in an effort to head off the school board, but nothing came of the conference. Gov. Dunne was in Boston at the time and Lieut.-Gov. O'Hara was out of the State.

There was much acrimonious debate this afternoon prior to the test vote and ugly charges were bandied between the opponents. It is expected the first step by the federation will be to seek an injunction preventing the dismissal of any teacher who is a federation member.

Spanish War Veterans Opposed to Compulsory Service of Citizens in the United States Army.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SCRANTON (Pa.) Sept. 1.—The Spanish American War veterans in national convention here today refused to approve a resolution favoring compulsory service in the United States. E. L. Toomey, Hawaii; William Johnson, Porto Rico, and John Smith, Philippines, were not opposed for deputy commanders-in-chief. Mrs. Mary B. Hamilton of California was elected president-general of the auxiliary.

L. C. Dyer of St. Louis, a former past department commander of the organization in Missouri, was unanimously elected commander-in-chief.

Neil T. McDonald of Massachusetts was elected senior vice-commander over Erskine L. Solomon of Wilkesbarre, the vote being 221 to 134. E. R. Conley of Scranton was elected junior vice-commander over Charles F. Williams of Cleveland, O., 214 to 133.

The support of the organization to President Wilson was pledged by the commander-in-chief.

STATE FRUIT AUCTIONS.

New Yorkers Believe They Have a Way to Get Product of Orchards to the Consumers.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Fruit auctions, by which the State department of foods and markets hopes, to aid both producer and consumer, began today at Red Hook, N. Y. Nearly 50,000 barrels of apples were offered for sale. The biggest peach crop the State of New York ever knew will be offered at auction in this city within a week. If this auction idea is successful, it will be extended to every type of fruit and produce extensively grown in the State.

BANKER ARRESTED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 1, 9 p.m.—According to the Central News James F. J. Archibald, an American newspaper correspondent who was apprehended by the British authorities when the steamer Rotterdam, bound for Rotterdam from New York, put into Falmouth a few days ago, was carrying dispatches to Berlin and Vienna from the German and Austrian embassies at Washington.

It is asserted by the Central News that Archibald was charged with performing an unneutral service. He was subsequently released, but the dispatches were retained by the officials.

WARNING APPLIES IN UNITED STATES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 1 (via London, 2:48 p.m.)—Following the example of Germany, the Austro-Hungarian government now announces, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, that all Austrians and Hungarians in neutral countries, particularly in the United States, are warned not to work in factories, producing war material for enemies of the dual monarchy. This newspaper says that violation of this decree is punishable by imprisonment of ten to twenty years, and even by capital punishment under certain conditions.

AMERICAN BARK HELD UP AT SEA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 1. — The American bark Ruth Stark of Boston was held up by a German submarine while bound from Liverpool for this port on August 3. According to Capt. Rawding, the submarine fired first what was probably meant as a warning for her to heave to, but a second shot, he said, appeared to be aimed at his vessel. Sails were lowered when the second shot was fired.

Soon afterwards the submarine came alongside and after learning the identity of the bark and her destination permitted her to proceed.

"FRAMERS OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE U.S.A." NO. 1

George Washington—"Father of His Country"

EVERY AMERICAN knows that without "Immortal Washington our National Independence would have been impossible. Few, however, know that the greatest battle of Washington's life was fought to secure for his countrymen the Constitution of the United States. Almost immediately after the Revolution it seemed that all the great sacrifice of blood and treasure had been in vain. The original thirteen states refused to work in harmony, either in spirit or in law. The new Republic was tottering to its foundations. At this critical period in American history the most brilliant men of each state met in convention and unanimously elected Washington as President—undoubtedly the most momentous gathering of the kind the world has ever known. Here he displayed as great ability as law-maker as he had as a warrior. For months the Fathers of the Republic labored, and finally adopted our present National Law, which forever guarantees Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. This was in 1787. Seventy years later Anheuser-Busch established their great institution upon the tenets of the Federal law which Washington did so much to create. Like all of the great men of his time, he was a moderate user of good old barley brews. For three generations Anheuser-Busch have brewed honest malt and hop beers. To-day 7500 people are daily employed to keep pace with the ever-increasing public demand. The great popularity of their famous brand—BUDWEISER—due to quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, has made its sales exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles.

BLOWS HIS BODY INTO SMALL BITS.

OREGON MAN STANDS ON CAN OF POWDER AND CALMLY LIGHTS FUSE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OREGON CITY (Or.) Sept. 1.—At the spot where his mother and father hanged themselves twenty-five years ago, Gottfriend E. Boese stood on a can of gunpowder on his farm near here early today and lit the fuse. Parts of his body were scattered all over a five-acre field.

The explosion broke every window in his house, 400 yards away, and threw his wife and three sons from their beds.

Boese was 50 years of age and twice had been committed to the State Asylum for alcoholic insanity. Twenty-five years ago his father hanged himself to an apple tree. A few months later his mother's body was found hanging to the same limb. Recently the tree died, and was cut down. The stump was destroyed this morning. Boese placed the explosive at its root, lit the fuse and apparently with his body balanced against the stump, stood calmly watching the approaching spark until it reached the powder.

STILL NO TIDINGS FROM STEFANSSON.

NATIVES ALONG THE SIBERIAN COAST HAVE NO WORD OF THE EXPLORER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NOME (Alaska) Sept. 1.—The steamer Corwin arrived today from a trading trip to Cape Serge, Siberia. The natives along the Siberian coast had heard nothing of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, who, with two companions, left Martin Point, west of the mouth of the Mackenzie River, March 22, 1914, going north over the ice in search of new land, and who expected to reach Banks Land. As the explorers did not arrive at Banks Land and as they have not been heard of along the Canadian Alaska coast, it was almost the last hope of their friends that the men might have been carried to Siberia on the ice, whose drift is steadily westward from the mouth of the Mackenzie. There is still a chance that the men have reached Wrangell Island, northeast of Siberia. On this island the survivors of the Stefansson ship Karluk found refuge until rescued. The rescue party left on the island caches of food and supplies.

The Corwin reports that the Arctic is closing earlier than usual. She was unable to go further than Cape Serge and ice is already found as far south as the Diomede Islands.

FRESH FIRES BREAKING OUT.

Greatest Danger in Oregon is in Malheur Forest.

Farm Houses and Crops are Reported Wiped Out.

In Other Section the Flames are Under Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 1. — The forest fires of Oregon, which in the last few days have called out hundreds of men, still offered critical resistance tonight, although the fires, which have been the most serious the last week, were reported generally under control.

A new fire was reported tonight in the Malheur forest near Myrtle Creek, in Grant county. Five men are fighting this blaze and several hundred acres have been burned over. Calls have been sent for additional men. This blaze, which is in Central Eastern Oregon, is the most threatening. Several farm houses are reported burned.

In the northern part of Eastern Oregon the fires are reported under control, but still needing attention.

MT. HOOD FIRES OUT.

T. H. Sherard, assistant district Forester at Portland, received reports from the Mt. Hood district tonight. They indicated that the fires were under control. The department is taking no chances, however, and hundreds of fighters are scattered throughout the burning areas.

A new fire in the Deschutes National Forest, near Fort Rock, is causing considerable anxiety. The flames are eating into some valuable yellow pine.

Fires still are raging in the Crater National Forest, near Butte Falls, in Southern Oregon, and in the White Salmon and Wenatchee districts of Washington. The fires in the Ochoco forest, reported yesterday, are under control.

Forestry officials today announced that the forest fires have cost $25,000 in Oregon and Washington for labor alone in July and August.

A grain fire in Umatilla, Eastern Oregon, today destroyed 2000 sacks of threshed grain.

BOHEMIAN CLUB SAFE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA ROSA (Cal.) Sept. 1.—Back-firing, started yesterday to save Bohemian Grove from a brush fire sweeping down Pocket Canyon, thirty miles northwest of here, got beyond control today and turned before a west wind toward Summer Home Park.

The fire was reported late today to be within a mile and a half of the park, where there are a number of costly homes. Several hundred men and boys are attempting to keep the fire from reaching a 160-acre tract of timber in its path toward Summer Home Park.

Bohemian Grove, the summer camp of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, was out of danger today, it was stated.

RAIN HELPS IN IDAHO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAND POINT (Idaho) Sept. 1.—Rain in sections of Northern Idaho aided the forest fighters in checking the flames today.

JITNEY BUSSES ARE TAXABLE.

RULING OF SUPERIOR COURT UPHOLDS THE OAKLAND LICENSE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Sept. 1.—On the grounds that the operation of 5-cent busses constitutes a "business," and is therefore taxable, the Superior Court today upheld Oakland's $40 annual license. The specific case brought by Leroy M. Phillips was instituted to test the city's ordinance and will be appealed. Five-cent operators interested have claimed that the State license covers the situation.

FREAK EGG LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

MEASURE TO LABEL EACH ONE IN EVERY DOZEN RULED OFF THE BOOKS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The law passed by the last Legislature requiring imported eggs to be labeled was declared unconstitutional today by Judge George A. Sturtevant in the Superior Court. The law was declared to interfere unduly with interstate and foreign commerce and to restrict unreasonably the rights of individuals.

The decision was given in habeas corpus proceedings brought by William M. Foley, secretary of the California Master Bakers' Association and the San Francisco Retail Bakers' Association. Foley was arrested in a test case.

The law required that all imported eggs be labeled and that a card three inches long, printed with letters half an inch high, be inserted with products of imported eggs and that a sign six feet long, announcing the fact that imported eggs are used or sold, be hung in places where such eggs are sold or used.

Judge Sturtevant said he had examined the statutes in question, but had failed to find any requirement that persons wear signs reading "I have eaten imported eggs." "Nor have I found any statute requiring any to wear a sign reading 'I do not use honey manufactured by bees,'" he said. "Had I found such a statute I would have considered it as valid as the ones before me."

Foley's release under habeas corpus proceedings closed the case, as he could not be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. Judge Sturtevant said if another case were brought before him he would enable it to be taken on appeal to the Supreme Court.

BIG EXPOSITION IS OUT OF DEBT.

FORMER PRESIDENT TAFT WILL BURN THE MORTGAGE TOMORROW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1. — William Howard Taft, who, as President of the United States, turned the first spadeful of earth on the site of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, agreed today to burn the mortgage on the exposition at the ceremonies Friday to celebrate "out-of-debt" day. Resolutions directing the final payment of indebtedness on the exposition were passed yesterday by the board of directors and plans announced for fitting exercises.

A check for $110,159.02 was handed by Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, to the Union Trust Company in full payment of a mortgage as security on a loan of $962,240.98. The mortgage was delivered to Mr. Moore, the title of the exposition to its property cleared and the mortgage will be given to Mr. Taft to burn.

Mrs. Nellie Means on Trial in Ukiah on the Charge of Having Murdered Clarence Tracy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

UKIAH (Cal.) Sept. 1.—The actual trial of Mrs. Nellie Means for the murder of Clarence Tracy May 27 began today before a jury sworn in at the close of yesterday's session. The "unwritten law," often advanced as a defense in trials of men, was pleaded by the defense. Mrs. Means stated that police said, she fired the shot which killed Tracy in defense of her husband, Millard E. Means. The latter was acquitted of the murder of Tracy July 20.

It was not until after Means testified, in his own defense, that he did not fire the shot that killed Tracy, that Mrs. Means told of her alleged act.

Search Instituted in Washington State for F. J. Van Sicklen of New York, Who is Missing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NORTH YAKIMA (Wash.) Sept. 1.—Search was instituted here today for F. J. Van Sicklen, following a report from New York that a man of that name, living here, had disappeared on his way East.

The only possible trace was a statement from the police that when they asked a woman to leave town about a month ago she said her name was Van Sicklen and appealed to a local branch of a big benevolent society for protection, saying her husband belonged to a California club of the order.

CHOKING A SIREN.

A Bag of Sawdust Down Her Throat Sufficed and Somebody May Get Arrested.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 1.—Surcease to residents near Bellingham, Wash., of the moans of a siren in Bellingham bay was temporarily brought about recently when someone shoked a bag of sawdust down the throat of the resonator, according to a report received by the United States lighthouse office here today.

The office has received several complaints recently of the doleful noise created by the siren. The lighthouse authorities have started an investigation to bring about the arrest of the person who stopped the sound.

INCORPORATION NEXT.
VETERINARIANS NEW MOVE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND (Cal.) Sept. 1. — The American Veterinary Medical Association, now holding its annual convention here, decided today to incorporate the association, which has been in existence, it was announced, fifty-one years. The purpose of incorporation, it was stated, was to simplify the business management of the association's monthly magazine. The veterinarians held their annual banquet tonight.

The cargo is composed of flat cars, dump cars, boilers, drills, shop machinery and repair parts. Heavy shipments from Seattle of rails, cars and lumber for the Alaska railroad will take place this month.

The Professor in Explaining the Tribulations of a President to the University Students Says If He has no Sense of Humor He may as Well Quit His Job.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY (Cal.) Sept. 1.—"If you didn't have a sense of humor in the Presidential chair, you might as well give up the job. Humor absorbs the jolts." So spoke William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, at the Greek Theater, University of California, today, in the course of his second lecture on "The Presidency, Its Powers, Duties, Responsibilities and Limitations."

The speaker took up the question of Presidential powers, going into details as to the various powers, such as appointment, removal and the distribution of patronage, which have become vested in the Chief Executive. He referred in personal vein to his own experiences and annoyances and declared that the question of official precedence at functions was "one of the funny things" in Washington.

"It would be a great comfort," he said, "if someone would fix the order. I had the head of the big scientific bureau submit a brief to me proving that he ought to come after the judges of the Supreme Court. I have preserved that brief for future reference to show what the study of science may bring forth."

Mr. Taft told of the tribute paid to him by a mother, for whom, when he was Secretary of War, he had been able to do a favor. When he informed her that the request would be granted she was overcome with joy, struggled for a while to find suitable expression and then blurted out:

"Oh, Mr. Secretary, you are not nearly as fat as they say you are."

EAST SHIPS UP FOR SALE.

Pacific Mail Company is Now Negotiating to Sell Its Seven Remaining Vessels on this Coast.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1. — Negotiations are pending for the sale of the remaining seven vessels of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, it was said today by A. F. Frey, assistant to the general manager. Mr. Frey said the sale might be made in a few days.

Five large vessels in the trans-Pacific trade were sold a month ago and three smaller vessels two weeks ago. The seven involved in the present deal are the City of Para, Peru, San Jose, Pennsylvania, Newport, San Juan and Aztec, all under the American flag running to Mexican and Central American ports.

Early in the year Pacific Mail officials announced their vessels would be tied up to port or sold when the provisions of the seamen's act became effective. Several months ago it was announced sailings would be discontinued before November 4, when the act takes effect.

The new law, it was said, would make profitable operation of the vessels impossible. Efforts were made to teach the Chinese, who predominate in crews of the Pacific Mail, enough English to comply with the provision requiring three-fourth of crews, in each department, to understand orders in the language of the commanding officers. Health, food and employment regulations, it was said, would be onerous.

One hundred and twenty-five employers of the company here were dropped from the pay roll yesterday. Others will be released when the ten remaining vessels are sold.

Property at various places is being sold, it was said, and all forces of employees, wherever the company has offices, are being reduced in size, in preparation for the final closing out of the company's business.

AMERICANS SAFE AT DURANGO.

Many Families to Leave Because of Food Shortage.

Arrangements for Peace Conference go Steadily On.

Details of the Chase that Cost Orozco's Life.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Sept. 1.—Fifty Americans and other foreigners at Hermosillo, Sonora, who recently requested transportation from Guaymas to the United States, have decided to leave by rail by way of Magdalena, the State Department announced today.

The statement added that advices from Durango, dated August 30, said that since the recent occupation of that city by Villa forces American interests generally had been respected. American families soon will leave there for the United States because of the food shortage.

Germany's acceptance of the American declarations on submarine warfare has cleared the way for renewed action on the Mexican situation. Another meeting of the Pan-American conferees probably will be hastened as the result of clarifying American relations with Germany.

Gen. Carranza's response to the Pan-American appeal still is awaited. The long delay has given rise to two views. Some officials believe influences at work to induce Carranza to enter a peace conference are having favorable effect. Some others believe Carranza has determined not to answer the appeal at all.

Previously it had been understood that Maytorena would retire September 12, the office of Governor being taken by Alberto Morales, and the military chieftainship by Gen. Felipe Angeles. WILD CHASE FOR OROZCO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SIERRA BLANCA (Tex.) Sept. 1.—The story of the twenty-four-hour man hunt which ended in the death of Gen. Orozco in the Green River Canyon between the Eagle and the Lonesome Mountains Monday reads like a page from a border romance. The chase was in the wildest part of the Big Bend country. Twenty-four ranch owners, cowboys, customhouse officials and troopers of the Thirteenth Cavalry participated.

The warning that raiders were in the vicinity was sent over the rural telephone circuit Sunday noon. The raiders were then considered merely another party of outlaws who had thieved during the last four years. Every ranch-house became a scene of activity with preparations to ride to the ranch attacked.

The raiders were first discovered as they approached the Love ranch Sunday afternoon. The Mexicans galloped to the pump station on the ranch where they were discovered by Deputy Sheriffs R. C. Love and Will Shock.

Orozco and his companions sent a shower of shots at Love and Shock and made a running fight for liberty.

A posse of ten men organized quickly, picked up the trail of Love and the deputy sheriffs who clung to the trail of the raiders, firing shot for shot until darkness closed in. Then it was decided to continue the chase through the night. As each ranch-house was passed additions were made to the posse.

PURSUED ALL NIGHT.

The night trail ran through the Eagle Mountains over perilous paths to high ridges. When dawn broke the posse found it still held the trail, which now led across a plain to Green River Canyon, in the High Lonesome Mountains.

At the entrance to the canyon the posse found a camp fire still glowing, and an advance body was thrown out to pick up the Mexicans. By 8 o'clock they returned with news that the Mexicans were encamped in a box canyon apparently secure from pursuit. Their horses were unsaddled and hobbled at some distance from the camp fire.

The posse advanced stealthily, and then dismounted and climbed the rugged sides of the mountain, and a volley was poured down.

At the first volley one Mexican was killed and the rest dashed for the protection of boulders and returned the fire. The posse killed one of the remaining four at the next shot. Gen. Orozco and a companion then sought shelter of a small draw.

Gen. Orozco's companion was riddled with bullets as he stepped from the shelter of his rock. Orozco nearly gained the draw, when he was struck by four bullets.

The remaining Mexican for some time returned shot for shot from behind a boulder. Presently he made a dash to climb the side of the canyon. He had ascended some distance when a volley tumbled him dead to the rock basin below.

NO HURRY ABOUT TROOPS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Sept. 1.—It was learned today that the troops of the second division ordered from Galveston and Texas City are not likely to move before Friday. It was said that since there is no hurry about the movement, time is being given the railroads to assemble ample equipment.

The first troops to go will be four companies of the Nineteenth Infantry to Del Rio. Then six companies of this regiment will go to Fort Sam Houston. The Fourth Infantry will go to Harlingen, Tex., and the Sixth Cavalry will follow to the same point.

OROZCO'S BODY IN EL PASO.

GREAT CROWD MEETS THE TRAIN BUT POLICE AND SOLDIERS KEEP ORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 1.—With the city under guard of armed police, strengthened by a company of the Sixteenth Infantry, the International bridges and the Rio Grande patrolled by the military forces, the bodies of Gen. Pascual Orozco and his four companions killed Monday by a posse after they had stolen horses at the Love Ranch near Sierra Blanca, Tex., were brought here tonight from Van Horn, Tex.

The funerals will be held tomorrow privately at a time and place not announced, to avoid demonstrations.

Long before the scheduled hour for the arrival of the train crowds thronged the downtown sections of the city moving slowly toward the union station.

At the station a squad of policemen questioned them and ordered those not having bought tickets out of the building.

The train was an hour late but after the scheduled hour had passed the police began clearing all streets leading to the station and by the time the train actually arrived the crowd had gathered in the center of the city.

Meanwhile the train had stopped only a few blocks to the rear of the crowd and the bodies were taken off under guard and hurried to an undertaking establishment which was heavily guarded.

AMMUNITION FOR MEXICANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 1.—Reports today from customs officers and army stations along the Mexican border showed an unusual increase in shipments of ammunition and guns into Mexico in the last two weeks. The exportations averaged more than 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition a day for the last twelve days. More than 3,000,000 rounds crossed the border Tuesday through Texas gateways.

Efforts by United States authorities to trace the destination of every shipment have not been entirely successful, it was said, but the greater portion of these war munitions were shipped into Carranza territory. One thousand sticks of dynamite and 400 army bugles consigned to Carranza troops passed through Laredo today for Monterey.

THAW FILES DIVORCE SUIT.

NAMES JOHN FRANCIS OF NEW YORK AS CO-RESPONDENT IN HIS PETITION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Sept. 1.—Harry K. Thaw, through his attorneys, Stone & Stone, this afternoon filed a petition in Common Pleas Court asking a divorce from Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, charging misconduct with John Francis of New York.

The petition is very brief, covering less than one typewritten page. In it Thaw alleges that his wife was guilty of misconduct with Francis at No. 51 West Thirty-first street, New York, in December, 1909, and in January, 1910, and at various other places and times. Thaw also declares she deserted him in July, 1909. The petition contains nothing to throw light on the identity of Francis other than to give his name.

FRANCIS IS SURPRISED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—John Francis expressed surprise when informed here tonight that he had been named as co-respondent in Harry Thaw's suit for divorce. "I have not seen Evelyn Thaw in three years," he said.

Francis at the time of the shooting of Stanford White was a reporter on a New York newspaper.

CALLES DIDN'T BITE.

Scheme to Pull His Forces from Nogales, Hatched by Gen. Angeles, is a Failure.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Sept. 1.—According to confidential advices received today at Augua Prieta Gen. Filipe Angeles who was reported a few days ago to be on his way to join the besieged Villa forces at Nogales with 2500 men, will not make an appearance. The same source of information says that Gov. Jose Maytorena gave out the news of the proposed expedition of Angeles to reinforce Villa troops in the hope than Gen. Calles, Carranza chieftain, in command of the investment of Nogales, would detach part of his force to defend Agua Prieta.

It is also reported that no Angeles expeditionary force is coming to Sonora from Chihuahua, but that Angeles since his announced appointment as military chieftain to succeed Maytorena has been plotting against Villa.

Monterey Smelters Close.

LAREDO (Tex.) Sept. 1.—The smelters in Monterey have been closed and the company which operated them will transfer all its employees, according to information reaching here tonight. Not more than twenty-three Americans will be left in Monterey, which in normal times had an American population of 3000.

SAY WILSON TO RUN AGAIN.

Democrats Flock to Him as Their Life-saver.

Declare He is Only Candidate the Party has Got.

Framed-up Indorsements are Beginning to Arrive.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Sept. 1.—Indications were given here tonight that President Wilson's closest friends expect him to be renominated for the Presidency in 1916, and are laying their plans accordingly. The President himself, it was said authoritatively, however, is taking no part in such plans.

Gratifications felt by the President over the action of Democrats in the Tenth Congress District in Washington, indorsing his administration, was expressed in a letter from Secretary Tumulty, which became public here tonight. A telegram to the President announcing the indorsement stated that it was voted "unanimously" at a mass meeting called "for the purpose of arranging for the campaign of 1916."

Word that Kentucky Democrats assembled in a State platform convention had indorsed President Wilson for renomination in 1916 also was welcome news at the White House, but no formal comment was made. Senator James, author of the resolution adopted in Kentucky, is one of the President's political advisers.

Last September Secretary Tumulty sent a letter to a New Jersey Democratic leader asking that no steps be taken to indorse the President for another term, and saying "the President feels that it might seem as if he were taking advantage of the extraordinary situation now existing to gain a personal advantage through such an expression of confidence."

As far as the President himself is concerned, he is understood to take the same position at present, but many of his friends are declared to believe that no further efforts should be made to stop political indorsements which may be offered.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—William P. McCombs, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, made the announcement here today that he had appointed Eugene M. Reed, of Manchester, N. H., as a member of the Finance Committee of the Democratic National Committee to succeed A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, resigned. Mr. Reed formerly represented the First District of New Hampshire in the United States House of Representatives.

GERMAN ESTIMATE OF SLAV LOSSES.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via Sayville, N. Y.)—An official review of the eastern campaign, as given out here today by the Overseas News Agency, estimates that since May 2 the Russians have lost at least 500,000 men in killed or wounded and 1,100,000 men captured by the Germans.

The announcement from the Overseas Agency is as follows:

"General army headquarters publishes a review of the results of offensive movements in Poland and Russia since May 2, beginning with the battle of Gorlice. Army headquarters estimates the strength of the Russian troops which were then directly engaged in that region was about 1,400,000. In the fighting since May 2 1,100,000 have been captured, and a minimum of 300,000 wounded or killed. It is thus evident that the armies which were first attacked at the beginning of the Austro-German offensive movement, have been annihilated and their losses made up by withdrawing troops from other regions, especially forces which were ready to invade Turkey.

"But the Russians were driven out of Galicia, Poland, Courland and Lithuania. Twelve fortresses which formed the Russian outer and inner lines of defense are in the hands of the Germans and Austrians as the result of a campaign of less than four months."

GERMAN PRAISE FOR MR. WILSON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (via London, 11:20 a.m.)—The National Zeitung publishes today a leading article under the heading: "Wilson, Bryan and Roosevelt," which is noteworthy for its friendly tone and for the ungrudging admiration expressed for President Wilson.

The personality of President Wilson has been illuminated more strongly than ever before, the National Zeitung says, during the exciting days through which America has just passed. The President will appear to many in a new light. Never was his position more difficult than during the Arabic crisis, "when Mr. Bryan was calling on America for peace at any price, and Col. Roosevelt was summoning them to war against Germany."

President Wilson is pictured in the article as standing between the two rivals, whose activities threatened to bring about such a situation that the President might make his attitude toward Germany dependent on domestic political considerations.

"That President Wilson withstood this temptation and may be counted on to withstand it further must be acknowledged," the newspaper says, "notwithstanding the fact that the German people certainly have reason to be dissatisfied with his attitude in the matter of submarine warfare."

Mr. Wilson is characterized as a more clever politician than "the unlucky Bryan and the astute Roosevelt."

BOY BURNS TO DEATH WHEN LEFT IN HOUSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OWENSMOUTH, Sept. 1.—Robert, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fairchild, was burned to death this afternoon when fire destroyed their home.

The child had been left in the care of a daughter aged 12 and another son aged 10, while the mother was visiting a few days in Florence, a suburb of Los Angeles.

The father is a contractor and has a job on in Los Angeles, so he was also away from home.

This afternoon the two older children left the house and went to a neighbor's. The little boy evidently played with fire or ignited a match for before anyone noticed the blaze the whole house was afire from the inside.

The body was found this evening and the parents notified. The older children were so terrified tonight that they could not relate the circumstances in which they left their little brother.

To Have Wavy Hair Like Nature's Own

Here's a brand new recipe, of unquestioned merit, that I advise you to make note of, unless you are one of the few possessors of naturally wavy hair. It's very simple, for all you need do is to apply a little liquid silmerine at night—with a clean tooth brush—and in the morning you will find this has dried in the sweetest curls and waves imaginable. They will be just like Nature's own, having no resemblance to the effect produced by a hot iron, which is so obviously artificial.

The application is really beneficial to the hair and gives it that lively lustre so much desired. As it is so easy to obtain a few ounces of the liquid silmerine from your druggist—sufficient to keep the hair curly for many weeks—there's no reason now for putting up with either that straight, contrary hair or with the curling iron's nuisance.—Marie Demarest in Pilgrim Magazine.

'ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS FOR

Locomotor Ataxia

In a very interesting article on Locomotor Ataxia, Dr. Henry C. Story says that drugs have practically no beneficial effect in these cases. He says that rest should be insisted upon, and there should be no worries or troubles. Plenty of fresh air and moderate exercise must be insisted upon, but overexertion is injurious. The use of tobacco and alcohol should be strictly forbidden, and over-eating is dangerous, especially when the food is poorly masticated. The food must be of the most nourishing kind, and the quantity and variety must be changed so that the patients will not lose his appetite. The most annoying symptom in these cases is the pain which at times is almost unbearable. Dr. Story says that he finds two Anti-Kamnia Tablets repeated in an hour if necessary, gives prompt relief and rest to the patient. These Tablets can be obtained at all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for A-K Tablets.

Also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all Pain. e

STABBED BY THUGS.

Battle with Hold-up Men Proves Serious to Hotel Worker, but He Saves Money.

Joseph Ellis, 28 years old, of No. 515 Wall street, who works in the kitchen of a downtown hotel, was walking south on San Julian street near Seventh last night when two men stopped him and requested that he give up all his money. Instead of complying, Ellis started to fight. For a few minutes things happened, and when Ellis appeared to be winning one of the apparently-unarmed robbers drew a knife, burying it in Ellis's left shoulder.

About half an hour later Patrolman T. E. Justice found Ellis staggering along the street at Sixth and San Julian streets. Thinking the man intoxicated, the officer arrested him, but found Ellis was wounded and made weak by loss of blood and hurried him to the Receiving Hospital. He will recover.

PIONEER RANCHMAN DIES.

Hotel Owner and Prominent Business Man of San Fernando Succumbs to Illness.

Henry Flynn, a pioneer ranch owner and business man of San Fernando, having contributed largely to the rapid growth of the valley, died early yesterday morning at the Sisters' Hospital, following a lingering illness. Mr. Flynn owned the principal hotel in San Fernando and was often referred to as "the man who owns half of the town," being very wealthy.

He was 50 years old. He leaves a widow and six children, all living in San Fernando.

The funeral will be conducted tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Cunningham & O'Conner chapel, No. 1031 South Grand avenue. Requiem mass to be celebrated at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana at 10 o'clock. Members of the Knights of Columbus will attend the funeral in a body.

GLANDERS GERMS SCARE REDLANDS.

PUBLIC TROUGHS CLEANED BY ORDER OF OFFICERS. BOYS EXPOSED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 1. — When County Live Stock Inspector Wise went to a horse trough on Central avenue today to get samples of water believed to have been infected with germs that cause glanders, an incurable disease that attacks horses and humans, he found several boys playing in the water. They had squirt guns and were shooting the water in every direction and over each other.

Mr. Wise ordered the boys away from the trough and told them the great danger. One of the little fellows acknowledged that some of the water entered his mouth, but that he spit it out. He was immediately taken to a doctor's office and his mouth thoroughly cleansed with antiseptics. Doctors say that this prompt action, through an accident, probably saved his life.

When a veterinary was called to look at the two mules of T. A. Nowell of East Central avenue he found them to be suffering with what he believed to be glanders. He notified Inspector Wise of San Bernardino and he immediately came to this city and examined the mules. After his examination he ordered that they be killed at once and it was done. The mules drank during the day from the public trough on Central avenue and Mr. Wise ordered that the water be taken out of it and the trough scoured before being used again.

Glanders is a disease that attacks the mucous membranes, causes a sticky discharge which makes it highly contagious, and records show it to be always fatal, either in acute or chronic course. This is the first case reported in this county in many months.

THE WEATHER.

[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—[Reported by Fred A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.86; at 5 p.m., 29.84. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 68 deg. and 73 deg. Relative humidity 5 a.m. 87 per cent.; 5 p.m., 71 per cent. Wind 5 a.m. east, velocity 5 miles; 5 p.m., southwest., velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 86 deg.; lowest, 68 deg. Rainfall for season, 0 inches; last season, 0 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Under the influence of the area of high pressure, now central over the New England States, the weather is fair and cool east of the Rocky Mountains. Showers occurred in Florida and on the Pacific Slope. The deepening of the western trough of low barometric pressure resulted in light rains in Oregon, Idaho, Nevada and in the Sacramento Valley. The rains in the north are timely owing to the forest fires.

Normal pressure conditions again prevail on the Pacific Coast, so that the weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will be fair tonight and Thursday with intervals of cloud or fog late tonight and early Thursday morning.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Thursday, except for intervals of fog or cloud early Thursday morning. Westerly winds.

For Southern California: Generally fair Thursday.

STATE FORECAST.

San Francisco, Oakland and vicinity: Fair Thursday; light west wind.

Northern California: Generally fair Thursday; light west wind.

Sacramento Valley: Generally fair Thursday; light south wind.

SETH HAWKINGS TO VISIT LOS ANGELES

NOTED OKLAHOMA AND KANSAS HUMORIST, WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW NIGHT.

(Special X. P. Night Liars.)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—Word has been received in this city that Seth Hawkings, humorist, comedian and merchant, will soon view the sights of our metropolis, according to information received at Levy's Cafe yesterday. The letter states that Seth has every fun-making device known to science, and as a gloom chaser has no equal. He's a really, truly funny fellow from Hawking's Corner. His letter in part is as follows:

Hawking's Corners,
Sept. 1, 1915.

Levy's Cafe,
California.

Will be with you Friday night, Sept. 3, via E. Z. & Q. route. Will bring the whole family. Look out for fun when I get there. I am the original Seth Hawkings and any one claiming this title is not me. I was born on the line between Oklahoma and Kansas. My father built his house half on each so he could dodge the sheriff. You will know me by my hair lip, for when a mere infant I tried to hitch up a mule and was kicked between the two State lines; that's why I limp, which reminds me that once in our town caff I told the waiter the pepper was half peas. He wouldn't believe it until I made him spell it. I heard all about your caff in the papers. Yep, all about them pretty gals, who sing and dance. They sure must be great; but wait till you see me. I can't say enough for myself. Why, we never have a sewing society meeting but the women folks don't dare me to come.

P. S.—If you see my friend Si Perkins, who went to California back in '49, tell him to meet me at the depot.

Yours for the glad hand,

SETH HAWKINGS.

P.S.—I'll be at your caff, Friday night, Sept. 3. I'm bringing lots of good things with me.

OTHERS ACCUSE JAILED SLEUTH

HAD SHADY PACT WITH MEDIUM IN CHICAGO, SAY POLICE.

Detectives Await Details of Eastern Career While Heir to British Property Declares Alleged Embezzler Got His Money—Woman Tells of Glittering Offer.

George Bitten, or George A. Hill, the private detective under arrest on a charge of felony embezzlement, was a partner of Mrs. Frances Fullmer, the spiritualist medium, in Chicago, under an arrangement similar to that alleged to have been worked here, according to advices received by Detective Harry Raymond of the police department yesterday. A fuller report of the Chicago relations of Bitten, alias Hill, and Mrs. Fullmer, is now being prepared by the Chicago police and will be telegraphed here as soon as completed.

Further evidence against Bitten was brought to Detective Raymond yesterday by J. A. Kellum, No. 139 West Colorado street, Pasadena. Mr. Kellum said he was one of the heirs to the $10,000,000 estate of the late Sir Mathew Lamb of Melbourne county, Eng.

Bitten, introducing himself as a Scotland Yards detective, was employed by Mr. Kellum to look after his share of the estate. Mr. Kellum says Bitten at once asked him for $2000, but when Mr. Kellum informed him he had little money then, the detective agreed to take what he could get, that being $100. When Mr. Kellum called on Bitten in the City Hall yesterday to inquire about his money, Bitten gave him a curt and decisive answer, using a phrase very commonly used to dismiss a man with completeness and contempt.

Mrs. A. Kerch, living at No. [illegible] South Main street, reported to Detective Raymond that Bitten had been a constant caller at her lodging-house, and had attempted to induce her to give him more than $1000, saying he could make it pay her more than $100 a week profit. She thought Bitten boasted too much about his affairs and became so wary she refused to give him money.

While Detective Raymond is investigating dozens of clews since the first charges against Bitten were made, the private detective has been making an effort through his attorney, Frank Domingues, to gain his liberty.

Detective Raymond is convinced Bitten's real name is Hill, and the matter will be settled by a search of the marriage records at Santa Ana today.

CHILDREN GONE; BARON SOUGHT.

Wife of Nobleman Appeals to City Authorities.

Baroness von Koenigwater in Precarious Condition.

Bitter Aftermath to Polish Aristocrat's Marriage.

In a precarious condition through lack of sleep, inability to eat and keen distress of mind over the loss of her two children, Baroness Helen von Koenigwater appealed to the City Prosecutor yesterday for assistance in locating her noble husband, said to be heir to the Barony of Lodz, Russian Poland, and their two sons, whom she accuses the baron of having taken away with him. The children are, Francis, aged 5, and Alexander, 3. Through her friends the Baroness asks that legal steps be taken immediately to recover the boys and to deal appropriately with the father.

Baroness von Koenigwater, a remarkably handsome Russian girl 28 years of age, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Eleanora Kukulska, No. 1260 Myrtle street. Her story is a bitter one of ambitions, disappointed dreams of splendor unfulfilled, a long period of domestic infelicity and finally solitude, made unbearable by the loss of her two little sons.

WEDS EMPLOYER.

She comes of a Russian family which fled from its native land to England and then to America. In serious straits, the girl took up stenography and through that means became acquainted with the baron, who was conducting a bond brokerage business here seven years ago. She entered his employ and a romance sprang up between them. He asked her parents' consent to marriage, but it was refused because the girl was only 16 years of age. However, they eloped to San Bernardino and were married.

The ceremony was followed by a trip about California during which the parents of the young bride conducted a vigorous, but unavailing search for her. Then one day, the Baroness says, her husband left and 320 was sent her with which to return home.

The next heard of the nobleman was when he wrote her from Davenport, Iowa, asking her to join him there. He was then financial agent for a $2,000,000 issue of Denver & Laramie bonds and living in luxury. The couple stayed at Davenport for some time, occupying a splendid home.

Then Baron von Koenigwater, charmed anew with his beautiful wife, desired to present her to his noble family in Poland. He took along a large consignment of the bonds to sell in his native country and the couple went to Europe, attended by a maid and a valet. They traveled extensively and in Spain their first child was born.

Brutal.

PENNY PAPER PEDDLERS CRUELLY BEAT NEWSBOY.

THREE ruffians peddling the Tribune are sought by the police for having brutally attacked and beaten Nathan Strachman, a newsboy who had refused to sell the Earl paper. The assault occurred at Ninth and Main streets yesterday morning. A warrant charging one of the bruisers, John Doe Logue, with assault and battery, has been issued by Assistant City Prosecutor Lewis and the police are now hunting for him. The names of the other two men are not known.

The attack was one of the most brutal and unwarrantable that has ever been brought to the attention of the police. So great had been the demand for The Times, which Strachman was handling, that the hurrying public on its way to morning work crowded about the newsboy to get the morning paper, desired, ignoring the shouting, jostling, wrangling gang that was trying to rid itself of undesired Tribunes.

The three, who had been assigned to the corner for the futile duty of trying to press Tribunes on the public, became ugly when Strachman continued to distribute hundreds of copies of The Times while the gangsters hopelessly fought with the publis to get rid of the burden of scorned papers.

Finally the three rushed through the crowd to Strachman, according to the Assistant City Prosecutor's complaint, and ordered him to leave the corner, thinking they could create an unnatural market for their papers by having no competition. As Strachman had long occupied the corner and had a great number of regular customers who depended on him for their morning papers, he refused to budge, and when threats were made, valiantly defied the gangsters, all of whom are larger than he.

Laying down their burdens of unpopular Tribunes the three gangsters, headed by Logue, held a short talk and then bore down upon the lonely Strachman, striking him from all sides at once. None dared face the boy, but they attacked him from the sides and the rear, knocking him down from the back. When he lost his footing they all set upon him, striking and kicking him.

Passers-by witnessing the brutality of the attack and cowardly viciousness with which it was continued, called the police. When the gangsters saw they might have to face the responsibility of their viciousness, they fled, flinging their papers into the street.

Logue was the only one of the three known, and his name was written in the warrant. As soon as the others can be identified they will be arrested and taken to court to face the charges.

Strachman, with his head bruised and cut, his face kicked and his hands stamped, was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he was treated. One of his eyes was injured and he may lose the use of it. He will be forced to wear a light-proof bandage several days before the doctors can determine whether the optic nerve has been injured.

HAMILTON WILL GIVE SELF UP.

F. H. Hamilton, a wealthy mining engineer, whose home in Pasadena burned under mysterious circumstances, notified the District Attorney yesterday that he will give himself up today. A complaint charging that he set fire to his house with intent to defraud an insurance company has been issued. Deputy District Attorney Keetch is laying the whole alleged arson trust matter before the grand jury today and it is hinted that a dozen or so indictments will follow.

Warm? Careless.

RED RECORD IS MADE BY HEAT.

Tragic Toll of Road Due to Swollen Blood Vessels.

Doctors' Remarkable Verdict on Accident Epidemic.

Automobile Smash-ups Still Filling Hospitals.

Los Angeles is suffering from dilated blood vessels. The affliction is costing $20,000 daily in motor car and motorcycle accidents alone, in addition to a toll of lives and injuries that is setting a new record in the Receiving Hospital.

Surgeons and psychologists who have analyzed the recent flood of accidents in the streets have agreed that dilated blood vessels are responsible for a great number of them. Several local authorities on the subject gathered for an informal discussion of the subject with Chief Surgeon Wiley in the Receiving Hospital yesterday, and the verdict was that the city is suffering from swollen blood vessels.

A trinity of effects have characterized the recent warm weather. Neck to neck with the climb of the mercury in the thermometer climbed the record of injuries and deaths from accidents. And as the mercury and the violence record grew, so did the blood vessels swell.

The scientific explanation of the accidents is: The unusually warm weather of the past week has disarranged the normal system of the residents of the city. The heat has demanded a greater offthrow of poisons, the pores of the body have been opened and the blood vessels have been dilated by the heat. This has resulted in a lessening of the blood flow in the body, because the dilated blood vessels cannot handle the circulation as rapidly as under normal conditions.

AFFECTS MIND AND BODY.

The lowering of the pulse has resulted in physical and mental sluggishness, characteristic of the tropics. Especially is this noticeable in the afternoon, that gentle and desirable hour to persons of the tropics when the siesta is taken. Here, the people are so active they refuse to take this siesta, and as a result the swelling list of accidents continues.

Said Chief Surgeon Wiley in discussing the terrible record of accidents: "Heat causes sluggishness, sluggishness causes carelessness, and carelessness causes accidents. It is a natural case of cause and effect. Dilated blood vessels are primarily responsible for the present condition."

The traffic accidents during the hot period have been more than treble the normal amount. During the past month more than 200 victims of automobile and motorcycle accidents have been treated at the Receiving Hospital. The accident reports in which no one was injured show an increase of 200 per cent. over July. Never before in the records at the Police Station has there been such an epidemic of accidents as during the past two weeks.

Chief Snively, after considering the number of recent accidents, said: "I have carefully investigated the evidence covering the majority of the serious automobile accidents recently, and I find that carelessness on the part of one or the other of the parties involved is always apparent. I think this carelessness is due to the hot weather. Persons seem to be less cautious while the day is warm. Also the warm weather brings many persons on the streets, on their way to the beach or the parks. So traffic is really larger than ordinarily, and consequently the number of accidents is greater, for accidents increase greatly in proportion to the increase of traffic.

"I think the public should consider carefully the terrible toll in lives and limbs this carelessness is costing, and should exercise double care in going about during the warm period."

LIST STILL SWELLING.

Yesterday's record in the Receiving Hospital was in harmony with that of preceding days. Five men were painfully injured when a truck of the city water department was struck by a Santa Fe train at Slauson avenue and Figueroa street. John Nichols was seated at the steering wheel when the shock came. The seat was under a canopy. The seat, the top and the sides were torn away by the engine, but Chauffeur Nichols stuck by his wheel, and was there after the accident, suspended in the air, with nothing above or below him, gripping the wheel with a force that held him there during all the trouble.

Others injured at the same time, workmen riding on the truck, were Hans Moore, No. 209 Marchessault street; John Scanlon, No. 209 Marchessault street; John Swank, No. 700 Spruce street, and John Nichol, No. 812 North Broadway.

A broken ankle was the injury suffered by Chester Allen, No. 727 Lima avenue, Long Beach, when he was struck by an automobile at Avenue 26 and San Fernando boulevard. The car was driven by Charles A. Flagg, No. 614 North Hollister avenue, Pasadena.

P. R. Moreno, No. 123½ South Johnson street, a driver for Engine Company No. 10, was struck by a motorcycle ridden by Wilfred Strake, No. 343 South Johnson street, at Johnson street and North Broadway. His head and shoulders were cut and bruised.

Mrs. A. E. Hayhurst, No. 837 West Fifty-seventh street, stepped from a street car at Fourth street and Broadway yesterday, and broke her left arm.

MUST PAY TAX.

New proprietors of theaters, picture houses and tobacco stores are warned by Internal Revenue Collector Carter that when ownership changes a Federal tax must be paid. The failures of a number of men in these lines of business to observe the law has caused some comment in the Federal Building.

FOUR LOST ON THE DESERT.

Former Husband Leads Search for Woman and Three Little Children.

J. W. Bledsoe, No. 3673 University street, notified the District Attorney yesterday that his wife and three small children are lost on the desert near Saugus. Bledsoe asserted to Deputy District Attorney Keetch that Mrs. Bledsoe may be mentally unbalanced and he asked for help to find her and the children. A force of deputies searched yesterday afternoon for the missing quartette.

About a year ago, said Bledsoe, he was separated from his wife and she was given custody of the children. Ten days ago, he said, he learned the family was destitute in the vicinity of Saugus. Later they wandered away and were lost.

BERTRAND TAKEN TO SAN QUENTIN.

JUDGE COMPLIMENTS PUBLIC DEFENDER IN CASE.

Official Who Saved State Money by Having Young Thief and Killer Plead Guilty is Praised Rather than Criticised from Bench—Is Attacked by Prosecutor.

Byron Bertrand, the youth who was sentenced to four years in San Quentin Prison on Tuesday by Judge Craig, was taken north last night. He was charged with having killed Mrs. Lucy Johnson by running over her in an automobile he had admitted stealing.

While Bertrand is serving his time, his companion, Cecil Foulkes, is awaiting the ruling of the Supreme Court in his application for a new trial on a similar charge.

The two boys stole an auto belonging to Miss Ramona Bowers on January 2. They were charged with manslaughter for having killed Mrs. Johnson at the end of a joy ride. When it was thought that they could not be convicted they were released, the manslaughter charges dismissed, and later they were rearrested on the charge of stealing an automobile.

Foulkes obtained counsel, but Bertrand was defended by Public Defender Wood. Foulkes's counsel pleaded that the first arrest had placed their client in jeopardy, and fought the case on this technicality. Mr. Wood waived the technicality for his client, and Bertrand pleaded guilty to a charge, the maximum punishment for which is five years in prison.

In so doing, the public defender saved the State considerable money, and his course was complimented in court, although when he made a plea for probation for his client he was severely censured by Deputy District Attorney Doran. When Mr. Wood called the court's attention to the personal statements of the prosecutor, Judge Craig halted Mr. Doran and urged him to confine his remarks to the issues in the case. This statement is made in connection of one to the effect that Mr. Wood was censured from the bench.

Instead of having criticised him, Judge Craig yesterday complimented Mr. Wood for the manner in which his office is being conducted. In reply to Mr. Doran, the public defender declared he was not responsible to the District Attorney's office for his work, and could, if he so desired, point out a great many features of the office that could be improved upon.

Public Defender Wood said yesterday that probation is only for the guilty, and that he believed Bertrand was not a bad boy, but would develop well and that a job could be procured for him.

"There is a man now in jail for whom this office will find employment," said Mr. Wood. "We find jobs for any that we can. I believe it is part of my duty to save the State as much expense as possible by not carrying clients through a long court procedure and months in jail when there is a chance to plead guilty and ask for probation, as there was in the Bertrand case."

Judge Craig said yesterday that the remarks he made with regard to Bertrand being a "thief" and "wingless angel" were not directed against Public Defender Wood nor against his office.

FOR DEFENSE OF NATION.

Chamber of Commerce Calls on Government to Take Steps for Self-protection.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon the following resolution, presented by the Committee on Military and Naval Affairs, was approved:

Resolved, that the ideal of America is and should be peace, both for America and all the world. Looking to this end, effort should be made to bring about such world agreements as will insure world peace by co-ordinating and harmonizing the power of all nations.

Therefore be it resolved, pending the practical accomplishment of such world agreements, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is strongly in favor of such provision of national defense as will best secure the United States from aggression and insure the peace and safety of the nation.

Nation-wide.

PLAN BIG MOVE TO SELL FRUIT.

Will Broaden Citrus Market by Strong Advertising.

Details Given in Report of Growers' Exchange Head.

Valencia Profits Ascribed to Good Publicity.

Plans for a nation-wide advertising campaign to increase the consumption of California oranges and lemons were outlined to the directors of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange yesterday in the annual report of General Manager Powell.

For the fiscal year ending last Tuesday, the shipments from the State were 40,991 cars of oranges and 6667 cars of lemons, with an estimated return to the growers of $31,000,000. The shipments through the exchange, according to Mr. Powell, were 24,317 cars of oranges and 5565 cars of lemons, returning $19,537,850 to the growers.

This return was $291,093 in excess of the return of the crop year 1913-14, but $1,170,505 behind the record year, 1910-11. With this lone exception, there has been a consistent year by year increase in the f.o.b. return to the growers.

But, as Mr. Powell pointed out, the orange and lemon production of California has registered an increase of from 5 to 20 per cent. annually for many years, while the average increase in population has been 2 per cent. The heightened competition from Florida and tariff cuts have also had an apparent depressing effect on the future of the California growers. This is barring resort to assiduous efforts in the line of marketing, according to Mr. Powell.

TO MEET ANY CONDITIONS.

"Our sales efforts," says Mr. Powell in his report, "must be broad enough to move the crop under adverse, as well as normal conditions. Through a national campaign of education we must continue our efforts to increase the consumer's demand rapidly enough to keep pace with production. Our advertising policy, therefore, must be firm and consistent, and, with a firm and consistent policy, we may reasonably expect to accomplish three things.

"These are: a demond increasing with sufficient rapidity to keep pace with increased production; placing of lemons on a year-around marketing basis, and making 'Sunkist' synonymous with high quality in both oranges and lemons.

"An advertising policy directed towards these three ends," says Mr. Powell, "will establish orange and lemon merchandising upon a solid foundation that will mean much for the permanency and prosperity of the industry."

Features of the year's marketing, according to Mr. Powell, were high prices for Valencias, low winter and spring prices for navels, a 20 per cent. increase in the country's orange production, due largely to the "coming in" of vast acreage in Florida, Louisiana and Porto Rico, and the almost complete prostration of the lemon market.

"Valencias brought high prices," said Mr. Powell, "because advertising has shown the country there is a summer orange, while navels brought low prices because of the immense offerings from this State and Florida, coupled with the low buying power of the country."

Regarding the lemon situation, Mr. Powell's report sallently says: "The reduction of the duty of a cent a pound on lemons in 1913 reduced the overhead charge on foreign fruit 72 cents a box. This, coupled with war conditions, has resulted in the lowest

WATTS DRYS WIN ROUND.

Wet Trustees Must Call Vote on Their Own Recall, Court Decision.

The legal battle to recall the Trustees of the city of Watts was decided in court yesterday when Judge Raker of Modoc county, sitting in Department Four, granted the writ of mandate asked for by L. J. Fay to compel the City Clerk of Watts to certify to the sufficiency of the recall petition. When the news was rushed to Watts, adherents of Mr. Fay metaphorically threw their hats in the air. The other side declared they proposed to fight the case through to a higher court.

The decision of the court found the petition sufficient and it means that the Trustees must bring about the recall election. This will renew the wet-and-dry fight, which was previously won by the wets. Yesterday's victory lies with the drys. The officials affected are Trustees Charles Hugershoff, Calvin W. Saunders, Frank S. Ayers, Hugh C. Perkins and John S. Lange and City Clerk Virgil R. Franklin.

The recall petitioners allege that the officials have refused to abide by the will of the people and are running the city into debt.

Co-operation.

NATION, STATE, CITY TOGETHER.

Three to Run Joint Bureau of Employment Here.

California Joins Alliance in Unique Project.

Municipality to be "Boss;" all South Included.

Los Angeles is to be the first city in the United States to enjoy a co-operation of municipality, State and nation in the conducting of a joint employment bureau of the three. Cleveland will probably follow this example within a short time.

Dr. Milbank Johnson, president of the Municipal Charities Commission, returned to Los Angeles yesterday from a visit to San Francisco, where he was in conference with John P. McLaughlin, State Labor Commissioner, regarding the State joining in with the municipality and the Federal government in close co-operation for handling the employment problems of Los Angeles and Southern California.

As a result of this conference it is expected the State will join in with the city and Federal representative by the middle of September. The plan for the municipal-Federal affiliation was fully outlined in The Times Tuesday morning.

The last Legislature made an appropriation of $25,000 for the purpose of establishing State labor bureaus at San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and Los Angeles. This would mean that the share of the appropriation for Los Angeles would be only a little more than $6000. The work of the municipal employment bureau for the past year cost the city about $14,000, but it got results. Dr. Johnson urged upon State Labor Commissioner McLaughlin, in whose hands the $6000 appropriation is placed, that were the State to undertake to come into Los Angeles, establish a labor bureau and practically duplicate the work of the municipal bureau, it would be expending the $6000 unwisely and would not get adequate results, but that in co-operation with the municipal bureau it could greatly strengthen the work.

In the recent Department of Labor conference on employment, held in San Francisco, Supt. Donoho of the local municipal employment bureau presented the work that had been accomplished here, and Commissioner McLaughlin declared that he was deeply impressed by it, and thought that it might be unwise on the part of the State to try to duplicate this work in Los Angeles.

The impression there created and the result of the arguments put forth by Dr. Johnson have resulted in the reaching of an agreement to make the co-operation a triple one—that of municipality, State and nation.

CITY IN COMMAND.

In these negotiations one thing was insisted upon by the city's representatives, and that was that the municipality shall be in supreme command in this triple alliance, and that the superintendent of the municipal bureau shall be the general superintendent of the three bureaus.

The agreement reached between Dr. Johnson and Commissioner McLaughlin provides that the $6000 State appropriation for the Los Angeles bureau shall be used in conducting the joint bureaus, in the same location; that all the territory south of the northerly lines of Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and Ventura counties shall be known as the Los Angeles district, and that H. C. Donoho shall be the district superintendent, the State paying a portion of his salary.

For all positions in Los Angeles obtained through this joint bureau, the municipal bureau is to have full credit, while for all positions obtained in territory outside of Los Angeles the State bureau is to have credit. The Federal bureau will work in the closest co-operation with these, using its franking privilege and other advantages.

METHODS OF WORK.

It was agreed that there shall be employed two solicitors, with automobiles, to travel all over the Los Angeles district, interview the employers of labor, secure their co-operation, make daily reports on the demand for labor, fill orders, etc., and in every possible manner expand the work of getting the man needing work and the man needing workers in direct touch.

It was also decided to create a revolving fund of probably $1000 for the purpose of advancing the fare of employees to the place where work awaits them, this charge to be refunded by the employer out of the wages of the employed.

It was also agreed to start the combined work at the earliest possible date. Within a few days a final conference will be held at which the minor details will be settled, and it is believed the new combination can be in readiness for operation by the middle of September.

The report of Supt. Donoho on plans for the combination of the municipal and Federal bureaus will be before the Commissioner of Labor in Washington, D. C., by September 10. It is expected that by the 15th inst. all these details will also have been arranged, so that the triplicate labor bureaus can at once go into operation.

A similar plan is to be put into effect in Cleveland as soon as details can be worked out, but Los Angeles heads the list as the first city in the United States to have the benefit of such a combination.

The bureaus here will continue to maintain three distinct divisions of employment. The commercial division secures employment for persons of the professions and clerical work, the men's industrial department provides for mechanics and laborers, and the woman's industrial department provides for work in households, hotels, etc.

EMBRYO BANK ROBBER.

Youth Confessing Burglaries Tells Police He was in Training for Bigger "Job."

A 17-year-old boy, who confessed he was in training to become a bank robber, and had already burglarized many houses, including that of City Attorney Albert Lee Stephens, was arrested by Detective Browning yesterday while prowling through a vacant house. He gave his name as Gordon A. Whiting, his business as nothing, his address as nowhere.

He is one of the youthful nomads of the streets, sleeping wherever he chances to be at night, generally in a "flop-house" with no relatives in the city and no responsibilities. His father is in the East and he says he has not seen him in years.

The boy was inflamed with the success of the Boyle Heights bank robberd and was planning to emulate their success, he confessed to the police. In his pocket was found a letter, in which he posed as being one of the bank robbers. The destination and purpose of the letter is a mystery which he will not explain.

The letter reads: "Sir:—I know something of your robbery. Your house is watched. I want $100. I can still shoot since I helped rob the Boyle Heights bank. I can't spend any of that for fare, so must have your help. Your clothes fully disguise me. If you dare to whisper this it's good night for you, and remember."

The letter was written on hotel stationery. The police consider it merely the vaporings of his imagination.

Whiting is in charge of the juvenile department of the police, and will be arraigned on charges of burglary, many of which he has confessed to.

Baffling.

DARK MYSTERY OF PARENTAGE.

NEGRO PAIR'S BLOND BROOD STARTS INQUIRY.

But Ethiopian Woman Flatly Refuses to Let Blood or Hair Test for Caucasian Race to be Made and White Children will go to Juvenile Court—Father Sought.

When Elfred M. Millen, a negress, appeared before Judge Monroe yesterday, charging her husband, David Millen, with failure to provide, she was accompanied by a 2-year-old child whose hair hung in blonde ringlets, whose blue eyes sparkled and whose fair cheeks were rosy with health. Mrs. Millen wanted support for herself and her three children.

"Is that your child?" the court asked Mrs. Millen.

"That's my child, and I have two more at home," was the reply.

The court was astonished. The contrast between mother and child was so striking that he could not credit the statement. However, as a complaint had been issued by the District Attorney, the court was obliged to issue a warrant for Mr. Millen and have him brought into court.

Not only the court, but the County Charities, who have been assisting Mrs. Millen and her brood, and the District Attorney's deputies were skeptical of the parentage of the children.

In fact, the charity officers wanted Mrs. Millen to subject the child to a blood test to ascertain whether it was Caucasian or negro. Mrs. Millen refused. She also refused to have the hair tested, declaring that no child of hers should have such tests made.

Mr. Millen, according to some acquaintances, has blue eyes and skin of a light color. Meantime, a little quiet investigation is being made to discover whether Mrs. Millen is the mother of the children or whether they were placed in her custody and have grown up to know no other mother.

Mrs. Millen gave the names and ages of the children as Ponchita, 5; Lorreta, 7, and Ynez, 2 years. Complaints were issued by Deputy District Attorney McCartney yesterday afternoon under which the children will be brought into the Juvenile Court.

At the Millen home, No. 317 North Mott street, yesterday afternoon, the two elder children, with blue eyes, fair complexion and blonde hair, presented a striking contrast to the picture of a burly negro, dressed in the uniform of a trumpeter of the Ninth Cavalry, who they declared was "papa."

A faded photograph of the girls and the woman they call "mother" stood on the mantlepiece. A large chrome drawing of the black woman, with the three white children grouped around her, hung on the wall. A picture of a well-built negro garbed in an ill-fitting policeman's uniform, with a large star placed conspicuously on his breast, stood on a small table. This the children declared was a picture of their "uncle in Denver."

Persons who called to investigate the seeming paradox inquired from Ponchita, the elder girl, how the pictures of the colored people can be those of her relatives when she is so white.

"I'm not white," she said, stamping her little foot and starting to cry. "My mama is colored and so are we. We are all colored."

Close scrutiny of the hair and finger nails of the children failed to show any trace of negro descent. Ponchita, the 5-year-old girl, has blonde, straight hair, blue eyes and fair complexion, while Lorreta, her 7-year-old sister, has blue eyes, red hair and a pink and white complexion.

MOVING THE PATIENTS.

Physicians and Nurses' Reception at New Methodist Hospital Today—Dedication on Sunday.

While nurses and physicians were moving a score of patients from the old Hazard home into the new Methodist Hospital at Twenty-ninth and Hope street yesterday, the board of trustees were holding their first annual meeting in the new institution. The hospital will be formally turned over to the board on Monday.

A. E. Gwynn is president and Miss Lydia Alexander secretary of the trustees, while Rev. Byron Wilson is treasurer and manager of the business affairs of the hospital. The meeting held yesterday was merely perfunctory, only business pertaining to the opening of the new hospital being transacted.

Physicians and nurses will be shown through the new hospital today. Thousands of invitations have been sent to all points in California. Nurses of the hospital training school will act as escorts.

Tomorrow members of the Methodist church and their friends will be received at the hospital and the general public will be admitted Saturday. The dedicatory exercises will be held on Sunday. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes will conduct the ceremonies.

"MOVIES" FOR VISITORS.

Eastern visitors to the Chamber of Commerce are having a "reel" treat just before the lecture on Tulare county is given each morning. A romance, filmed to bring out the peach-growing industry of the county, is shown and depicts the life of the peach crop from the time the first blossoms appear until tons of the canned fruit are sent to all parts of the world. The noon half-hour talks on city-lot farming by George H. Maxwell are attracting attention. A practical way of reducing the cost of living and making life happier is demonstrated.

STRANGE STORY OF MASQUERADE.

Woman Who Long Played Man Startles with Candor.

"Pre-Natal Influence Cause," Says Prof. De Forest.

Dramatic Teacher Would Die Rather than Don Skirts.

Prof. Eugene De Forest, well known teacher of dramatic art who has been masquerading for twenty-two years as a man in Los Angeles and other California cities, and who was taken into custody by the police Tuesday night, declared yesterday she would rather die than be compelled to wear feminine apparel. Male attire, she said, is a part of her life and is essential to her peace of mind and happiness.

In a remarkable confession the professor, who is 62 years old, said she is not ashamed of her peculiarity, that it is the result of a pre-natal influence and consequently she cannot be held responsible for the freak of nature. "I want the world to know my story," she said, "and I am glad that my arrest may accomplish that end."

Prof. De Forest, trembling with the emotion so natural to her real sex, her soft brown eyes often filling with tears, spoke with remarkable frankness. She laid bare all of the secrets of her life.

"A year before I was born my little brother died," she said. "My mother's heart was broken when he passed away and when she realized she was going to be blessed with another child she prayed constantly for a boy, one to take the place of my little brother. Every day she went into the bedroom he had occupied and upon bended knees begged God to give her a baby boy just like brother.

PRE-NATAL INFLUENCE?

"When baby came it was a girl and I am the girl. It is not strange to me that the influence of my mother over me prior to my birth gave me the instincts of a boy. Ever since I can remember I have had those instincts. I love femininity in others, but I have always wanted to be masculine. My mother knew and understood. She did everything she could for me and when she died I lost my best and most appreciative friend."

Prof. De Forest grew into a beautiful young woman and acquired an excellent education, graduating from Vassar College when she was 18 years old. She had many suitors. They were not distasteful she declares but never was her admiration for them prompted by physical instinct. She looked upon them from the standpoint of their mental achievements or other accomplishments.

When J. M. Hark, a college professor, fell in love with her she was 19 years old. She declares she reciprocated his admiration and enjoyed his companionship but before she consented to marry him she had a definite understanding as to their marital relationship. "I let him know that I would only live with him as a chum or bosom friend," she said. "He knew what I meant and the eighteen years we passed together were most pleasant.

"Shortly before his death the fact that I was living a lie, that my genuine happiness depended on my assuming the role that my mother had prayed for, so preyed upon his mind that he promised to help me change my life. He gave his approval to my suggestion of wearing male attire and planned to have me on the stage where it would be possible for me to wear men's clothes all the time without censure.

MARRIES A WOMAN.

"Following his death I determined that I would immediately begin to live as my instincts directed and with the approval of my mother started my career as a man. In the course of time I longed for companionship again and when I met a woman who said she, too, could understand, I proposed marriage. She did realize as well as I did, however, the real meaning and after a while became unhappy. Finally she secured a divorce.

"Since then I have been devoting all of my time to my art and the living of my true life. I have been happy. I have prospered. During the five years I have lived in Los Angeles I have made many friends and I am sure all of them have the greatest respect for me. I never harmed a man or woman in my life. I believe strongly in God and the fellowship of mankind."

When Prof. De Forest was taken into custody she was at the home of Mrs. B. Duress, No. 2307 West Eleventh street, and the police learned that the two were engaged. This was affirmed by both yesterday, although Mrs. Duress, who is a wealthy widow, probably 60 years old, said she did not know the professor is a woman and inasmuch as it has been brought out she will have nothing more to do with her.

"I greatly admired Mrs. Duress," the professor said. "She is a lovely woman, with beautiful characteristics. I thought she understood me when I told her what I had told my husband and my wife. She said she did and I am sure that I did not intend to keep anything back from her. I wanted to marry her only for companionship. She is temperamentally like me in many respects, loves art and I thought we could be happy together. You know when one reaches the age of 62 one gets lonesome and that was why I wanted to marry Mrs. Duress. Now since she has changed her mind, I am willing to forget."

Prof. De Forest has had considerable stage experience. In 1885 and '86 she played opposite Madame Janauschek, one of the foremost actresses of her time, who is said to have appeared more often before the crowned heads of Europe than any other tragedienne. Later the professor often appeared in the role of Hamlet. She said she was always happiest when portraying a male character but usually she had feminine roles.

DECLARED SANE.

Drs. F. F. Byrington and E. H. Briley made a physical examination of the professor yesterday morning and both declared she possesses all of the characteristics of a woman. They declared medical history recites a number of instances similar to this case and that it is not unusual for a physical woman to have the instincts of the opposite sex. They said, however, they had never personally come in contact with a case where the unusual condition was so pronounced.

The object of their examination was primarily to test the professor's men-

In a remarkable confession the professor, who is 62 years old, said she is not ashamed of her peculiarity, that it is the result of a pre-natal influence and consequently she cannot be held responsible for the freak of nature. "I want the world to know my story," she said, "and I am glad that my arrest may accomplish that end."

Prof. De Forest, trembling with the emotion so natural to her real sex, her soft brown eyes often filling with tears, spoke with remarkable frankness. She laid bare all of the secrets of her life.

"A year before I was born my little brother died," she said. "My mother's heart was broken when he passed away and when she realized she was going to be blessed with another child she prayed constantly for a boy, one to take the place of my little brother. Every day she went into the bedroom he had occupied and upon bended knees begged God to give her a baby boy just like brother.

PRE-NATAL INFLUENCE?

"When baby came it was a girl and I am the girl. It is not strange to me that the influence of my mother over me prior to my birth gave me the instincts of a boy. Ever since I can remember I have had those instincts. I love femininity in others, but I have always wanted to be masculine. My mother knew and understood. She did everything she could for me and when she died I lost my best and most appreciative friend."

Prof. De Forest grew into a beautiful young woman and acquired an excellent education, graduating from Vassar College when she was 18 years old. She had many suitors. They were not distasteful she declares but never was her admiration for them prompted by physical instinct. She looked upon them from the standpoint of their mental achievements or other accomplishments.

When J. M. Hart, a college professor, fell in love with her she was 19 years old. She declares she reciprocated his admiration and enjoyed his companionship but before she consented to marry him she had a definite understanding as to their marital relationship. "I let him know that I would only live with him as a chum or bosom friend," she said. "He knew what I meant and the eighteen years we passed together were most pleasant.

"Shortly before his death the fact that I was living a lie, that my genuine happiness depended on my assuming the role that my mother had prayed for, so preyed upon his mind that he promised to help me change my life. He gave his approval to my suggestion of wearing male attire and planned to have me on the stage where it would be possible for me to wear men's clothes all the time without censure.

MARRIES A WOMAN.

"Following his death I determined that I would immediately begin to live as my instincts directed and with the approval of my mother started my career as a man. In the course of time I longed for companionship again and when I met a woman who said she, too, could understand, I proposed marriage. She did realize as well as I did, however, the real meaning and after a while became unhappy. Finally she secured a divorce.

"Since then I have been devoting all of my time to my art and the living of my true life. I have been happy. I have prospered. During the five years I have lived in Los Angeles I have made many friends and I am sure all of them have the greatest respect for me. I never harmed a man or woman in my life. I believe strongly in God and the fellowship of mankind."

When Prof. De Forest was taken into custody she was at the home of Mrs. B. Duress, No. 2307 West Eleventh street, and the police learned that the two were engaged. This was affirmed by both yesterday, although Mrs. Duress, who is a wealthy widow, probably 60 years old, said she did not know the professor is a woman and inasmuch as it has been brought out she will have nothing more to do with her.

"I greatly admired Mrs. Duress," the professor said. "She is a lovely woman, with beautiful characteristics. I thought she understood me when I told her what I had told my husband and my wife. She said she did and I am sure that I did not intend to keep anything back from her. I wanted to marry her only for companionship. She is temperamentally like me in many respects, loves art and I thought we could be happy together. You know when one reaches the age of 40 one gets lonesome and that was why I wanted to marry Mrs. Duress. Now since she has changed her mind, I am willing to forget."

Prof. De Forest has had considerable stage experience. In 1885 and 1886 she played opposite Madame Janauschek, one of the foremost actresses of her time, who is said to have appeared more often before the crowned heads of Europe than any other tragedienne. Later the professor often appeared in the role of Hamlet. She said she was always happiest when portraying a male character but usually she had feminine roles.

DECLARED SANE.

Drs. F. F. Byrington and E. H. Hoyt made a physical examination of the professor yesterday morning and both declared she possesses all of the characteristics of a woman. They declared medical history recites a number of instances similar to this one and that it is not unusual for a physical woman to have the instincts of the opposite sex. They said, however, they had never personally come in contact with a case where the unusual condition was so pronounced.

The object of their examination was primarily to test the professor's mentality. They declared she is mentally normal.

Prof. De Forest has a brother in Boston, who is said to be very wealthy. A telegram was sent to him yesterday by Chief Snively inquiring as to his wishes in the handling of the case. Upon his answer will depend largely the action to be taken by the police.

When Prof. De Forest was teaching in San Francisco and San Jose she says the police gave her a permit to masquerade and she hopes the same action will be taken here.

ASKING WILSON TO AID POLAND.

HEAD OF DEFENSE COMMITTEE HERE WITH MESSAGES.

Urges President to Appeal in Name of United States for Stricken Country and Declares this Case and that of Cuba are Analogous. Would be Independent State.

Members of the local Polish colony have had as their honored guest this week Dr. Vasimir Zurawski, of Chicago, vice-president of the Polish National Defense Committee. Dr. Zurawski has been visiting the exposition at San Francisco and today will go to San Diego for a sojourn of a few days before starting back to Chicago.

Dr. Zurawski brought direct word to the local circle of the National Defense Committee of its action in memorializing President Wilson to act as the representative of Poland when the time arrives for a peace conference between the belligerent nations of Europe, and urging him to take the same stand for Poland, on behalf of the United States, as this country took for Cuba, when it was in the hands of the Spanish government and was sorely oppressed. The committee sets forth in its memorial that the two situations are analogous. The President has replied that the subject will be given due consideration when the proper time arrives.

In discussing the Polish situation Dr. Zurawski said yesterday:

"The best minds of Poland, those that have given long consideration to its national problems, have agreed that the most advantageous thing for that country is the creation of an independent State of both Russian and Austrian Poland, with no autonomy. They consider that it may be impossible to bring this about in the very first shifts that may come after peace is declared, and in such case would be satisfied with a temporary union with Austria—always looking forward to the time when they can become organized as a separate and independent State.

"This is the judgment of the Chief National Committee of Poland, and it is also approved by the Polish National Defense Committee of America.

"There are two definite Polish organizations in America at present directly interested in the support of the Polish people. One is the society that is giving all its attention to securing material aid and relief for the war-stricken country. The other—the Polish National Defense Association—also gathers aid for the sufferers, but its chief aim is to aid in working out the political destinies of Poland, so that it may become a free and independent nation. Both of these organizations have sub-organizations in Los Angeles.

"The general movement in America for the relief of the Polish sufferers from war has brought results that are sorely disappointing to the organizations. It was expected that the appeal to the American people would result in a liberal response—especially as more than 4,000,000 of American citizens are Poles. But aside from the contributions of the American Poles themselves, probably less than $100,000 in cash has been contributed.

"Through the work established by Madame Sembrich about $60,000 was received from Americans; the Paderdeweski New York Committee raised about $19,000, and the similar Chicago committee produced close to $13,000. The Poles themselves have contributed between $500,000 and $1,000,000 for the relief of their countrymen in Poland."

It is expected that Paderewski will visit Los Angeles within a comparatively short time and that a special effort will be made then to interest the people of Southern California in contributing to the relief funds.

The Weather.

WARMEST OF ELEVEN YEARS.

AUGUST HAD NARY A CLOUDY DAY IN IT.

Forecaster's Monthly Summary Shows Eight Record Days of Perfect Sunshine; with Few Days of Light Fog and Small Wind Movement.

Warmest August in eleven years!

So says Ford Carpenter, official weather prophet, whose compilations show a mean average temperature of 72.7 deg. for the month—none such since 1904—also nary a cloudy day, with eight record days which were perfect in sunshine, recording 100 per cent.

Incidentally the monthly meteorological summary of Mr. Carpenter shows that Los Angeles has been storing up against a rainy day, for since the first of the year there is an accumulated excess of 205 degrees of warmth over normal, to which August contributed 27.2 deg.

The dusty notch of 99 was reached on the mercury register, and this on last Monday, but for the diversion of those who thought it was warm then Mr. Carpenter, reverting to his records, draws out the figure 106 to which the mercury climbed on August 19, 1885.

The wind didn't make much headway this month, getting along only about 3691 miles, averaging about five miles an hour, principally from the southwest.

Light fog drifted in on seven days, while dense fog was a visitor on five days during the early part of the month. While there were no cloudy days, eleven days brought enough to furnish the setting for wonderful sunsets, permitting an entry of "partly cloudy" on the weather man's sheets. Thus, there were twenty clear days, and out of 414.9 possible hours of sunshine Los Angeles enjoyed 327.5 hours, or 79 per cent.

The barometer was rather lazy, furnishing a mean of 29.86 inches, with 29.98 the highest, and 29.71 lowest. The mean relative humidity was 73.

There were five days of the month upon which the 90-deg. mark in temperature was reached, while the lowest temperature was 57 registered on the 26th inst.

CHORUS GIRLS REPLY.

In Letter to Judge Who Criticised Them They Tell Why They Work and of Conditions.

In answer to the published statement of Judge Monroe, in comment upon the Mrs. Maude Mahoney case in which the judge is credited with saying that no decent woman would be on the stage in the theater mentioned in the case, a letter was yesterday sent to the judge by a committee representing the seventeen chorus girls employed in that playhouse.

That they have been judged too harshly is the declaration of the girls. There are six married girls in the show who have babies and the girls challenge the implication as to their morals. The letter states the girls spend ten hours daily at the theater and are paid $18 a week. "Where else could eighteen girls who have to work earn $18 a week?" they ask.

Reasons are enumerated why the girls must work, showing cases of consumption, drunkenness, blindness, and desertion on the part of their husbands, while others are supporting widowed mothers and families, and other like conditions.

"We would like to have Judge Monroe meet some of the girls at the theater—then we know he would alter his views," the letter states.

Sale of
at 50c a piece

In the assortment are pearl filled beads, ear drops and buttons of jet and pearl; jet brooches, barrettes and combs; jet chains, necklaces and long chains, opera lengths; jet hearts, crosses and pendants; filigree gold Etruscan hat pins in assorted designs; bar pins and brooches in the newest styles, guaranteed not to tarnish; lavallieres and pendants with pearl drops; rhinestones and colored stones; practically everything worn by women in the shape of jewels.

This morning this jewelry will be put on sale at a bare fraction of the prices for which these pieces were made to sell.

The wholesale jeweler, from whom these come, dashed to Europe, a year ago, and almost snatched whatever he could lay his hands on, just as war broke out, for we don't make this class of jewelry in America.

But as time passed he was unable to send or to receive "repeat" orders much as he needed more. Finally he grew discouraged and sold out every remaining piece for a small part of the regular cost.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) The United States continues to be the king pin in the world's financial affairs, and is dictating prices to all European capitals. A further reduction in exchange caused heavy buying of our securities in Europe, which are to be used as collateral for loans. It is reported the forthcoming loan to be placed by Great Britain will be of such immense size that it will be national in character instead of being taken solely by New York banks. All of our industrial and railroad securities were stronger, some of them making gains of more than 20 points.

(Abroad:) London and Rome again bought freely of American securities. Russia has announced the issuance of $5,000,000,000 war funds, in paper money. (For details, see financial pages.)

TO BE FORGIVEN.

While lying is a bad business, there is one falsehood for which a woman never will be punished. We refer to her persistent and gallant protestations that she does not mind tobacco smoke, when all of the time it is strangling her.

WORK FOR ALL.

Yes, it is probably true that there is a great spring out of which the waters of life come bubbling for the succor of nations, and it is conceivable that in every community a few men in each generation are standing beside that vast reservoir ready to dip their vessels into the fountain. The fact that you yourself have not found the way to this first source must not discourage you, because the men who deal with essences require a long line of cup bearers in order to disseminate and apply the power they receive.

EXPULSION OF SHAKESPEARE.

The new manager or manageress of the Playhouse in New York—Miss Grace George—announces that she will "not seek to educate her audiences along the lines of a culture that they are perfectly able to acquire themselves in other ways "and she is not going" to indulge in the costly luxury of stimulating ethical growth.

Against the productions of the Bard of Avon the lady sets her face like flint. She says: "There will be no Shakespeare. Shakespeare seems to mean to me unwieldy crowds of noisy and stupid supers, cumbrous and interrupting changes of scenery, and too often mouthing, artificial and ineffectual acting."

What a blow is this to the memory of the immortal William! How his shade will kick—if shades ever do kick—at his expulsion from the Playhouse by Miss George.

RESULTS OF SEAMAN'S LAW.

However one scent progressive newspapers, in their eagerness to obtain Japanese steamer advertising patronage, may back and fill, and evade and deny, and assert and excuse, and eulogize the unwise and unpatriotic seaman's law, the fact remains that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company has sold its vessels, the Osaka Steamship Company has added six new first-class steamships to its fleet, the American flag on the Pacific is going down and the Japanese flag is going up.

Who will be benefited by it? Not the seamen, for not a single American will be employed on Japanese ships, and not Californians, for every dollar of profit made by transporting passengers and freight between Japan and this coast will go into the pockets of Japanese owners of Japanese steamships.

BETTER APART.

Gen. Goethals may accept the position as manager of Portland. We do not wish to stand in the way of a good city's chances to get a grand man, nor would we discourage a big man from moving to a splendid city. At the same time, it has never been proved that the city manager plan is not fundamentally wrong, and if it is wrong, the best man in the world cannot make it right. Republics are essentially opposed to any brand of monarchy. Furthermore, Gen. Goethals will find that working on a big job for one boss or without any boss is mighty different to working on a contract that has no line of beginning or ending and that is bossed by a quarter of a million of people, all of whom are sure that they know just what should be done. We admire Gen. Goethals and the city of Portland greatly. We admire them so much that we hope they will keep apart.

CONSUMMATION.

Investment is comparatively easy for most persons, but reinvestment is difficult for a majority. People who make money in one way are not always able to put their earnings to work in fresh avenues of success. It is the same with them in the reinvestment of knowledge and power. It happens that after people master one line of work they drain the experience gained in that exercise of their faculties and for the increase in development of faculty they require some system of interchange. Many persons stop in their growth at this point and it is even possible for people to die out of a desperate need of proper expression. Reinvestment not only conserves and increases all forms and terms of power, but it cancels obligations, and this is of vast importance. We cannot enjoy community prosperity without contributing something to community values and we cannot develop the powers of heart and brain without some way of canceling our indebtedness to the society in which our growth has its root. Reinvestment in this case means that we shall out of love and understanding do what we can to arouse the functional impulse in the people around us.

EUROPEAN CREDITS.

We are all familiar with the features the cartoonists give to represent Uncle Sam, and we know that he stands for the typical American. If you went abroad in the world and asked many people what they saw in the features of Uncle Sam the answers would be very different, but mostly complimentary.

You ask a little Belgian boy or girl, a poor mother in that desolated country, or an old man, what Uncle Sam's features represent to their eyes, and they would tell you kindliness, sympathy and benevolence; and they would be right. All these traits of character are portrayed in the features of the typical American. You ask China or South America what they see in the features of your uncle, and they will tell you the face stands for absolute honesty and fair play. And they will be right, for these human traits of character shine like the sun in the features of the typical American. Ask the German Ambassador at Washington what he sees in these world-known features and he will probably tell you an abundance of patience mingled with the largest amount of wisdom ever possessed by the typical man of any nation in the world. And the German Ambassador will be right, for the typical American is generally patient and wise.

You ask the allies among the European belligerents through their agents in this country who are making contracts for guns, ammunition, and who are buying horses for their governments and provender for them, and their armies in the field; and with a broad, good-natured, tolerant smile those who have any insight into character and are intelligent enough to diagnose and honest enough to tell the truth will tell you the face is that of the shrewdest human being they ever did business with. And they will be just as correct in the diagnosis as any of the others.

Well, your Uncle Sam needs all these characteristics as he has never needed them before in the trying circumstances surrounding his dealings with the combatants in this most gigantic war that has ever occurred on the earth, and of all the characteristics that Uncle Sam needs shrewdness is not the last nor the least.

He is confronted by a serious financial situation. All the nations engaged in the war and nearly all those at peace are doing business with the United States on a gigantic scale. It requires great skill founded on experience to guide our people in their dealings with other nations at the present time. It is so hard for any of us to realize that nations are only aggregations of individuals, and international transactions only differ in volume from those between individuals.

We are the natural storehouse of the world for food, horses, and for all kinds of warlike equipment. All the belligerent nations want our goods. And the question that confronts the American people is how these belligerents are going to pay for the goods they are ordering. If it were a question between individuals the answer would be very plain and quickly given. A bankrupt applying to an individual or a corporation for goods is refused. A bankrupt nation can no more pay its debts than a bankrupt corporation, firm or individual.

Are the nations bankrupt, or if not will they soon be? The last declaration coming from authoritative sources shows Great Britain to have accumulated a debt of $9,000,000,000. It is the largest debt heaped up by any of the belligerents, but inasmuch as Great Britain has the largest resources she may not be the nearest to bankruptcy or the first to repudiate her debts. The idea of national repudiation of debts incurred so enthusiastically and so patriotically under the conscientious impression that loans made to governments are necessary for the preservation of national life naturally staggers the soul of the bravest and opens wide the eyes of the blindest.

Yet how these obligations are to be met is a very grave problem. The war is now costing Great Britain $15,000,000 a day. Her present debt is probably much larger than the figure mentioned above, and if the war should continue for another year it would reach probably $15,000,000,000. The total cost of the war to all belligerents must be twice that of Great Britain, or $30,000,000 a day, and the present debts of the warring nations must run to between $15,000,000,000 and $20,000,000,000 at this date, with a possibility of reaching figures that the mind cannot comprehend.

The effect is seen in the course of foreign exchange. In normal times a pound payable in London will cost in New York $4.86. Today you can buy it at less than $4.54, or at least you could yesterday. And the tendency is still downward. This simply means that an Englishman doing business with this country must have his paper discounted just as an individual would who was threatened with bankruptcy. When one thinks of the low record made by American money in our Civil War it is astonishing that British exchange has undergone so little depreciation.

Of course Great Britain has vast resources to draw upon, and has been drawing upon them in great volume. The question in the minds of American sellers is, how near the limit of her ability she has gone. English buyers with the influence of their government behind them are straining every effort to arrange financial footing between their country and this by which they can continue to get our goods without still more disastrously depreciating their exchange. In other words, without paying a larger premium on their purchases.

Here is where the American business man will need all his shrewdness. He will scarcely lend Great Britain his own money to purchase his own goods unless he is sure that the incurrer of the obligation is solvent, able and willing to pay. Great Britain is supposed to hold $2,000,000,000 in American securities, gilt-edged obligations worth 100 cents on the dollar and more. Of course they are in the hands of private people and they are very loath to let go of them. But if Uncle Sam stands for the average American these securities will have to come our way.

It is said that in April, Gov. Johnson will swing around the southern circle of States on a speech-making tour, boosting the election of Bull Moosers to the Republican National Convention. Hiram insists upon being one of the pallbearers.

The "motor car" is the latest, caused by dust and the air pressure due to speed. Don't know what happens to the ears of the innocent bystanders who haven't the price.

An Apparition.

BARRIE'S WAR WORK.

Sir James Barrie is true to his ideals in war time. He, too, has enlisted among the voluntary workers and it has been known for some time that he was very busily engaged in some special department of the Flanders campaign, but he managed to elude publicity for a very long while.

Now it transpires that many months ago he founded a hospital out of his own resources, equipped it with every modern convenience and a regiment of nurses. But not for the soldiers. His hospital is for the exclusive use of women and children war sufferers and it is full to overflowing all the time. He maintains it entirely and spends much of his time there.

Barrie will certainly go down in history as the woman's champion. His heroines are the most womanly of womanly women and he always manages to show them to us in their most lovable light. His "Peter Pan," his "What Every Woman Knows," his "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," his "Quality Street," and even his "Admirable Crichton" and his "Little Mary," are all eulogies of woman, and all show man in the rather unbecoming light of a futile, specious humbug, who arrogates to himself much unjustifiable homage. Yet Barrie is credited with being a man's man all the same, which is clever under the circumstances.

Besides maintaining the hospital, Barrie contributes to every form of war charity in which women benefit, and is also credited with contributing to the expenses of his numerous young relatives who are fighting in the war.

THE LIVELIHOOD OF MILLIONS.

Data collected by Dr. Albert A. Snowden of the National Association of Manufacturers show that approximately 22,000,000 persons in the United States are directly or indirectly dependent on the manufacturing industries for their living. The employees of the mills and factories number about 9,000,000 and the members of their families bring the total number of those who must rely upon their earnings in manufacturing for a living at least up to the given estimate.

The total amount of capital invested in those industries is $24,000,000,000, and their aggregate yearly output in times of normal activity has a value of $28,000,000,000, which is greatly in excess of the value of the sum of the manufactures of Germany and Great Britain in normal times.

This great structure of industrialism must have adequate protection from cheap labor and foreign competition if it shall be maintained; and that truth will force itself again upon attention as soon as the restoration of peace in Europe makes possible resumption of exports from that continent.

RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION.

British labor is suffering under another cruel oppression. A few weeks ago a band of voluntary workers, which included fifteen engineers of good position who had not handled a tool for twenty years, arranged to run a shell factory on Saturday afternoons and Sundays, while the regular workers were taking their weekly rest. The first Saturday afternoon was taken up with appointing the men to their tasks and the following day they weighed in and did a full day's work. They exceeded the regular record day's work by 120 per cent., even the individual unskilled worker exceeding it by 75 per cent.

And the horrible truth leaked out. On the following Tuesday all the old employees struck as a protest against a lot of wretched amateurs being allowed to exceed the "regular" rate of speed. They argued it out for five days and then agreed to return to work on the Sunday if they were conceded double pay. And the government, not being in a position to make remarks, acceded to their demands.

It was a beautiful example of righteous indignation. What could have been more humiliating, a greater insult, than to have such an odious comparison thrust down their throats? The fact that the volunteers were working for love only added to the ignominy.

When next we brand England contemptuously as a nation of amateurs we shall know what we mean. Insulting a respectable workingman like that!

So now the amateurs have banded together and started a shell factory of their own. The government doubtless awaits another righteous protest and, if they do their duty by labor, will doubtless close it without more ado.

ATTITUDE OF FRANCE AND OF GERMANY.

M. Viviani, the French Premier, in a speech in the Chamber of Deputies last Thursday, announced that the French terms of peace were the restoration of the integrity of heroic Belgium and the recovery by France of Alsace and Lorraine. His programme was indorsed by the chamber by a vote of 539 to 1. A very satisfactory majority.

The present position of the German government may be summarized about as follows: Our submarine warfare is a reprisal against the British starvation campaign against Germany. We know it is inhuman and we do not like it, but under the circumstances we regard it as necessary. As a reprisal we justify it, but as we desire to retain America's friendship and good will we propose to conduct our submarine warfare is so far as possible so as not to harm American citizens. We are ready to discuss the whole question with the United States and pending an agreement have instructed our submarine commanders to refrain from attacking passenger ships.

This concession of Germany to the United States is a triumph of the wise and firm diplomacy of President Wilson over the abjectness of Bryan's position on the one hand and the rash counsels of Roosevelt on the other.

for Palm Beach raiment, and hoped to look a king. "When summer bakes us," I said,
"and cakes us with freckles, sunburn, tan,
I'll be so gaudy that Lord Topnoddy will seem an also ran. The girls will follow, o'er hill and hollow, my glances to command; and weathy widders will then be bidders for my old heart and hand. The other fellows will all be jealous, the way I win the girls, and counts and princes will all seem quinces, and likewise belted earls.
O summer, hurry! I fret and worry to wear my gorgeous rags! Come, weather torrid! It's simply horrid the way the springtime lags!" But summer weather broke loose its tether, and started off dead wrong; the rains were pouring and torrents roaring, the whole blamed season long! I view with loathing the winter clothing this climates makes me don; those grand Palm Beaches, those tailored peaches, were long since placed in pawn. Thus man goes dreaming of triumphs screaming, and dreams go up the spout; the fates sidetrack him and swat and crack him, and put him down and out. WALT MASON.

MIDSUMMER MADNESS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

VERY INSULTIN'.

The Sultan was consultin' his Sultana on the law,
And a quarrel there resultin' he smote her on the jaw.
The Sultana—named Diana—then went and told her maw:
"He's the most insultin' Sultan that ever
I have saw."

THE NAKED TRUTH.

This nude departure in photography is blamed upon the weather. It is argued that were it not for the hectic temperature recently prevailing buxom maidens would not be cameraed while flitting through the grove of Daphne undraped for the bath.

But with the mercury as feverish as it has been of late almost anything is apt to happen. The public has become used to seeing the girls on the front page—girls filmed showing their bare teeth, arms and legs, or girls in the audacious regalia of the beach. Therefore it is that when pictures are put in semiprivate circulation showing a flock of fairies wandering carelessly through the brush with nothing on but their hair and complexion they seem almost proper.

It used to be that little Agnes would remember her Sunday-school teacher with a photograph of herself all dolled up in winter raiment. The tip of her nose and a section of her cheek was about all that was shown of the flesh. Possibly the Agnes of today has no Sunday-school teacher—poor thing!—and instead she will surprise her dancing tutor with a series of filmed poses of herself with nothing on but a string of beads and a bangle bracelet.

Nowadays when a bashful swain asks his sweetheart for her counterfeit presentment he does not know what he is going up against. If Bessie has been brought up after the sophisticated manner of her class she is apt to lead him into the boudoir she calls her den and give him his choice between her pose as September morn or August night. In each of these she shows her eye teeth and pretty nearly everything else she has—except clothes. Anybody can have raiment, but not everybody can have a shape like Bessie. Hence the picture.

If Lady Godiva were to ride through the streets of Glendale today, old Uncle Abner Briggs wouldn't even bat an eye. He would probably yawn and remark: "There's another of those durn movie actresses broke loose."

If this thing keeps up it may become the fad to revive the gardens of Delphi amid the orange-flecked scenery of Pasadena. The camera men could present us some choice films in which social favorites would be shown, wandering carelessly through the greenery wearing an air of graceful abandon—and not a blooming thing else.

When Maud goes forth to have her picture taken you never can tell what she will bring home.

THE LOST TRIBE.

Ten little Indians, feeling rather fine:
A massive cave woman nabbed one and bore him away to her boudoir in the cleft of the rocks—and then there were nine.
Nine little Indians, playing for the gate:
An Amazonian fan gave the high sign to the slob artist of the team—and then there were eight.
Eight little Indians, learning about heaven:
The soprano songstress winked rapturously at the redskin on the bone end—and then there were seven.
Seven little Indians, up to all their tricks:
A fairy in a thirteen-inch baby blue bathing suit tickled one in the slats—and then there were six.
Six little Indians, glad to be alive:
A cow lady of the movies ambled up on her palfrey and roped the likeliest one of the bunch—and then there were five.
Five little Indians, hid behind the door:
The chambermaid sneaked up and quickly had one blind-folded and backed into the elevator—and then there were four.
Four little Indians, tried to climb a tree:
A lady aviator swooped like a vampire and had her grappling hooks in one—and then there were three.
Three little Indians, feeling rather blue:
A chorus nymph puffing a torch smothered one of the survivors—and then there were two.
Two little Indians' race was nearly run:
The snake charmer of a carnival company played anaconda with poor Lo—and lo!
there was one.
One little Indian couldn't save a penny:
His head was on a cent, but he wasn't a cent ahead when the manicure nailed him—and then there wasn't any.
There isn't any moral to this brief, immoral tale,
Save the female of the species, is more deadly than the male.

OBEDIENCE AS THE FIRST LAW.

The primal forces in man are thought force and nerve force.

In the care of the mentally afflicted, the first law to be observed is obedience. The patient must submit to the authority of some capable, intelligent nurse and doctor; and it is necessary that each patient should be studied and treated as an individual case. If a soldier disobeys orders in the army, what happens to him? But obedience can be enforced without cruelty. The attending physician or nurse cannot be too highly educated and must possess a large amount of common sense. How much study is given to the laws of cause and effect in relation to the patient? The thought force that is controlled and directed by circumstances is a system of excitement, but the will power is the positive controlling power of the individual thought force.

The mentally-afflicted person lives in a world of lies and believes that he is acting and using better judgment than his sane brother. Do you realize that dope fiends, cigarette fiends, liquor fiends and otherwise mentally-afflicted persons are doing business in our midst? Even scholars—lawyers doctors, judges—are directing laws of health and justice daily? And of a necessity our business world is foggy with what some call "graft." Our boys and girls are growing to be men and women controlled and directed by the system of excitement. Mental afflictions reach out on all sides like an octopus (marked ancestors,) and the much-talked-of "marriage as a failure" is a subject under continual fire. What makes good men and women? Ancestors—fathers and mothers who have respected the laws of nature and whose lives have been governed by thought force, directed by the will power, guided and directed by an abiding love of their Maker. We need honorable homes and honorable parents and obedient children. When trials come to each one of us, our desire, thought, will power—all act in harmony under the director of an honorable moral sense, and our actions are governed by self-control, instead of by an exciting, nervous condition born of circumstances and propinquity. COMING OUT ALL RIGHT.

A Song of Courage.

Are you seeking for a motto,
Ever cheering, ever bright,
Guiding star in all your troubles,
Shining through the darkest night?
Nothing grander, nothing better,
Ever keep it plain in sight,
Lay aside your cares and worries,
Everything is surely coming out all right
All right,
All right,
Sweetly, surely, coming out all right.

In the face of all your trials,
Tribulations and your woes,
Your losses and your crosses
And the hatred of your foes,
Never doubt your final triumph,
Keep this motto plain in sight,
'Twill lighten all your burdens—
Everything is surely coming out all right.
All right,
All right,
Benignly, surely, coming out all right.

In this world of sin and sorrow
With its heritage of tears,
Feel the Rock of Faith beneath you,
It will banish all your fears.
Bravely do the task that waits you—
Ever keep this truth in sight,
In all of God's dominions,
Everything is surely coming out all right.
All right,
All right,
Gladly, surely, coming out all right.

Oh, the mighty inspiration
Coming from this truth sublime!
Shedding out a mellow radiance
O'er the somber wrecks of Time;
Bringing hope and consolation
With its steady beaming light!
In God's good time and pleasure
Everything is surely coming out all right
All right,
All right,
Supremely, surely, coming out all right.

FAVOR SUBWAY FOR SEVENTH.

Plans for Eliminating the Grade Crossings.

Railroads Reaffirm Their Good Will.

Viaducts Committee Hears Both Sides.

Consideration of grade crossing elimination before the general Viaducts Committee in the Council chamber yesterday centered in the Seventh-street plans prepared by the Public Utilities Board and plans for a subway or open cut under the Santa Fe and Salt Lake tracks prepared in the City Engineer's office. Representatives of the Santa Fe and the Salt Lake route repeated their assurances to the committee that the railroads are willing to pay their just share in the cost of any practical and effective plan to do away with the grade crossings, and they, as well as a majority of the property owners who appeared expressed a preference for the subway or open cut underneath the tracks as opposed to the Public Utilities Board's plans for a long viaduct.

Traffic Engineer Howell of the Utilities Board explained his plans for a viaduct 6000 feet long, that would cost $585,000, exclusive of damages, and P. W. Stewart of the City Engineer's office explained the plan for diverting through traffic in Seventh street beneath the railroad tracks and across the river, using the piers and girder abutments of the present bridge.

The principal points brought out in favor of the subway plan were the comparatively low cost, the absence of damage and the artistic preference. Objections to the subway were raised by those who believe that in case of flood the Los Angeles River would rise above the proposed grade of the subway. Mr. Stewart showed the high water mark of the 1914 flood, which is about five feet below the level of the road, as proposed in the subway plans.

Chairman Topham asked representatives of the Salt Lake Road and the Santa Fe if they would not be willing to pay the entire cost of the subway.

TO SHARE EXPENSE.

"The Salt Lake road will, I believe, be willing to pay the cost of the subway through its property, and possibly the Santa Fe might do the same," said F. A. Waters of the Salt Lake. "I believe though, that the city should pay the cost of the bridge over the river. The Salt Lake road is not opposed to any plans for eliminating grade crossings at Seventh street, provided the plan is reasonable and meets requirements. Moreover, we will pay our share of the cost and if the subway is feasible, we would be willing to pay all of the cost east of the river and waive all damages."

R. B. Ball of the Santa Fe engineering department said his road will join and pay its share of the cost of carrying out a reasonable plan that will eliminate all the grade crossings.

W. S. Young, representing the Elisabeth Hollenbeck Home, said the subway plan seems to offer the best protection, and the interests he represents are in favor of safety and benefits are in favor of safety and protection by the most reasonable methods.

T. W. Lawson, representing the Euclid Heights Improvements Association, said that the subway plans looked good, but he will have to study them in detail before committing himself. He pointed out that two-thirds of Los Angeles county lies east of the river, and told the committee that it may expect "kicks and opposition" to any plan it may devise or adopt. "If we build the six viaducts now proposed, we will have to issue a big bunch of bonds, and I realize I will have to talk better than I am now talking if a bond issue is approved," said Mr. Lawson.

S. L. Mitchell, representing the Automobile Club of Southern California, assured the committee of the support of the organization for the subway plans, if they are practical.

L. Newman said the construction of a viaduct would do immense damage to property and favored elevation or depression of the railroad tracks. If the subway is built, he said, he will not expect damages.

Frank S. Coates of the Sperry Flour Company voiced opposition to viaducts, and said that if the railroad tracks are elevated the railroads cannot handle the industrial business in the district.

William Mead said the construction of a viaduct would damage his property to the extent of $2,000,000, estimated at $200 a front foot. He suggested that the Southern Pacific tracks should be moved to the river, and possibly a single track left in Alameda street to serve the industries. He also suggested that east and west tracks might serve the industries without crossing Seventh or Ninth streets. "I notice that the Boyle Heights residents are all in favor of viaducts, and they are not assessed, while every property owner in the industrial district is opposed to the plan, and they are all assessed to pay the cost," said Mr. Mead. "That does not seem like good business on the face of it. Why not ask the people who are benefited to stand the cost? I believe, however, that the cost should be borne by the whole city."

Chairman Topham will leave for the East next week, after a special hearing on the Fourth-street viaduct plans. The general Viaducts Committee will ask the Council today for an appropriation to cover the expense of side trips to Chicago, Kansas City and Cleveland, where Mr. Topham will gather information on the methods adopted by those cities in solving the grade-crossing problem.

CHARGES FALSE ARREST.

Colored Policeman Taken Into Custody by White One Retains Attorney and Will Ask for Damages.

Patrolman William E. Spencer, the colored officer who engaged in an altercation with Detective Hubert Kittle early Tuesday morning on a North Main street car, has ertained E. Benton Ceruti, attorney, to bring action against Kittle for false arrest. Mr. Ceruti stated yesterday this action will be brought in the near future.

"We have witnesses," Mr. Ceruti said yesterday, "that will prove beyond a doubt that Spencer was not kicked into the police station as first reports stated. Incidentally, his nose was not bleeding, but he was falsely arrested.

"According to his version of the affair, Kittle rudely demanded Spencer's business, and when told that it was none of his, arrested the officer."

The argument started when the conductor of the car requested that Kittle ascertain if Spencer was a policeman, as he, the conductor, thought the police badge Spencer had exhibited was counterfeit.

Tribute.

LAST RITES FOR HONORED DEAD.

KIND DEEDS AND BRAVE ARE CALLED TO MEMORY.

Funerals of Mrs. Virginia Whisler Davis, Sr. Saturnino Yslas and Willard H. Babcock Attended by Large Concourses of Friends of the Departed.

Final tributes were paid by scores of Los Angeles and Southern California people yesterday to the memories of three beloved persons who have departed from their spheres of usefulness. The funeral services for Mrs. Virginia Whisler Davis, pioneer and ardent temperance worker; Senor Saturnino Yslas, famous in Mexican history and prominently connected with the early military struggles of his country; and Willard H. Babcock, who had been known as the "wheat king" of the Northwest, each took place yesterday. Each brought together scores of mourners and those who came to pay their last tributes of love and affection and respect.

The funeral services for Mrs. Davis were held in the Pico Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, of which she had been a devoted member for many years. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. George Steed, assisted by the district superintendent, Dr. Harcourt W. Peck, who paid deep tribute to Mrs. Davis in his subject, "The Loss of the Church;" Rev. J. P. Widney, Dr. Phineas F. Bresee, general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene; Mrs. M. W. Law of the W.C.T.U., who told of the activities of Mrs. Davis in temperance work; Rev. C. H. Tarr, pioneer and charter member of the Methodist conference, who led in prayer, and various other ministers. There was a large representation of pioneers and of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which organization Mrs. Davis had served as Los Angeles county president and as president of the San Pedro local union. After a service in which the beautiful life and helpful deeds of Mrs. Davis were commented upon, and the impress her life as a pioneer and as a temperance worker and Christian woman had made upon those with whom she came in contact was emphasized, the body was laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery, beside the grave of a daughter, who died several years ago.

The pallbearers, all of whom were pioneers who came to California in 1853, were Judge A. J. King, ex-Mayor H. T. Hazard, J. M. Guinn, W. D. Gould, John L. Slaughter and Joseph Mesmer, active, and ex-Mayor W. H. Workman, J. W. Gillette, J. G. Newell, H. G. Herwig, Edward Nittinger and William A. Spalding, honorary.

Mrs. Davis came across the plains with her father in 1853, first locating at El Monte. For many years she had resided in San Pedro and Los Angeles, and always was deeply interested in church, temperance and humanitarian work. She was the wife of J. W. Davis, No. 333 East Avenue Thirty-three, who survives her, and had one son, Everly Davis, an attorney of New York City, who came here for the funeral for his mother.

The funeral service for Senor Saturino Yslas was held at the family residence, No. 1232 Lake street, yesterday forenoon, being conducted by Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church. The pall bearers were Gen. Luis Torres, former Councilman Jose Lozano, Senor Amulfo Mendoza, George D. Drakenfeld, William J. Variel and A. W. Remnits. The interment was in Rosedale Cemetery.

The life of Mr. Yslas was closely identified with the history of his beloved country, Mexico. He was connected with its early military struggles, and he deeply sorrowed over the internal strife that has prevailed for the past few years. He was intimately associated with his exiled friend and former chieftain, President Porfirio Diaz, and was greatly affected by the passing away of this stalwart character. His own career showed a constant attention to the calls of duty and patriotism and distinguished services for his country.

The services of the Christian Science Church were conducted yesterday at the funeral of Willard H. Babcock, who had been known as the "wheat king of the Northwest." The first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, officiated, and the temporary burial was in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Babcock's life was interwoven with the development of the Northwest. A native of New York, after the Civil War he came to the Northwest, worked at his trade of blacksmith and gunsmith; took advantage of the opportunities for business connection with the railroads when they laid their transcontinental lines, and finally branched out into business activities that eventually made him a millionaire. His vast holdings of wheat land in Washington and his operations as a wheat-raiser are among the notable features of the development of the Northwest. His charities were many and finally became so extensive that they were administered through a systematic organization.

NET FUNDS FOR TRIP OF BAND.

AUCTION OF THEATER SEATS MEETS WITH SUCCESS.

Wife of Mayor and Burbank Actress Busy at Alexandria in Behalf of Police Musicians. Unique Ball Game Between Council and Comedians Arranged.

The campaign for funds to send the Municipal Band to San Francisco to participate in the Admission Day parade and celebration goes merrily along. Yesterday afternoon in the lobby of the Alexandria, Mrs. Sebastian, wife of the Mayor; Miss Grace Travers, Burbank actress; Mrs. R. W. Richardson, vice-chairman of the committee which is in charge of the campaign, and numerous others assisted in auctioning tickets for box seats at the Burbank for Friday evening. The proceeds realized netted a considerable sum.

Prominent business men of the city, several guests at the Alexandria and many others vied with each other in bidding for the tickets. Another scheme which is expected to meet with success is the selling of tickets to a ball game to be staged at Washington Park, October 30. A team composed of members of the City Council will cross bats with a team from the Keystone studio, the latter team to be composed of moving picture comedians.

Mayor Sebastian, who is chairman of the committee on arrangements, hopes to secure the services of Charlie Chaplin as umpire. Elaborate plans are being made by the Native Sons and Daughters to send a uniformed delegation of members from this city to take part in the parade at the exposition. More than 150 delegates dressed in orange and white, and a score or more automobiles, decked in flowers and ferns trimmed with orange and white ribbon, will represent the local Sons and Daughters in the parade.

Tickets to the ball game are being printed and will soon be on sale. Any surplus remaining from the funds collected to send the Municipal Band to the exposition will be turned over to the City mothers or some equally worthy charity.

TULARE COUNTY HONORED.

Forty-seventh State Fruit Growers' Convention to Be Held at Visalia in November.

The Forty-seventh State Fruit Growers' convention will be held at Visalia, November 18 and 19.

Tulare county, though one of the first fruit-growing counties of California, famed alike for diversity, quality and quantity of its fruits, has never before been favored with one of the fruit growers' conventions. Few sections of the State give such rich promise for the future.

There has been a loud call for a thorough discussion of marketing, insect control, cover crops and mulching, control of scale insects, and leaf hoppers. Each of these topics will be led by authorities and given considerable time on the programme.

To promote interest and swell attendance, welcome will be given and suggestions as to topics and speakers are asked. These are especially desired from Tulare and adjacent counties. These suggestions must come before the last of September. The county commissioners will hold a meeting at this time to arrange details. It is hoped even to exceed the attendance at the Los Angeles convention of over 1200 members.

SEES NEW ERA AT WAR'S END.

Unitarian Divine Declares Better Age is Near.

Three Hundred Church Folks Here en Route to East.

Post-convention Gatherings and Trips Fill Visit.

A transcontinental party of 300 Unitarians, who are in Los Angeles on the way East from their general conference in San Francisco, had a wide choice of pleasdres yesterday. All the wonders of Los Angeles and its suburbs were open to them, and also the hospitality of the First Unitarian Church, and the services of the tourist company which has charge of their tour.

After a morning of sight-seeing many of the visitors attended afternoon and evenings meetings at the church. A meeting of the Women's Alliance was attended by about 300 women in the afternoon. Four of the prominent visiting ministers addressed a mass meeting at the church last eveging.

Rev. E. Stanton Hodgin, pastor of the church, and members of the congregation, had been preparing some weeks for the coming of their fellow-church members. The church was beautifully decorated for both meetings. An accommodating reception committee was "on the job" all day there. Luncheon was served in the parlors at the conclusion of the afternoon gatherings.

The members of the local congregation had the privilege of hearing successful church leaders from several cities discuss the elements of their faith at the night meeting. The subjects and the speakers were as follows:

"Our Entrance Into a New Age," Rev. Harry Lutz, Newton, Mass.; "The Coming Revival of Religion," Rev. William S. Jones, Newport, R. I.; "The New Emphasis in Religion," Rev. Richard Boynton, Syracuse, and "The Leadership of Liberalism," Rev. Minot Simons, Cleveland.

"A new world order will take place as a result of the great European conflict," Rev. Mr. Lutz declared. "The real things of life will not be destroyed, as many have fancied. Every great advance in the world comes at great cost. In the war I see humanity surging at the gates of a new and better age."

Rev. Mr. Jones said the coming new religion will bring about these results: Exalt the spiritual side of the home and of family life, reduce business to the rank of a divine calling, create a moral trusteeship of wealth, cleanse political life from low aims, and substitute reason for force in national and international affairs.

"The Unitarian is a liberal," Rev. Mr. Simons declared. "He lives in a growing world and he believes God expects him to grow with it. He is a truth seeker. He is looking forward and not backward. He is trying to reconstruct religious beliefs in harmony with God's revelations to the modern world.

"Unitarianism holds a position between the obstructionists and the destructionists. It is attacked from both sides, but the Unitarian is afraid of nobody, because he has reason for the faith that is in him. His faith is based on reason. Hence he is in a position to help people whose minds are breaking away from traditional dogmas and the people, on the other hand, who have been led by modern religion to throw over religion altogether."

Mrs. Hodgin extended a hearty greeting to the women at the afternoon meeting. The other speakers included Miss Lucy Lowell of Boston, Mrs. D. F. Scott of Bangor, Me.; Miss Harriett Spalding of Dallas, Rev. Margaret Barnard of Howe, Mass., and Miss Caroline Kirkland of Los Angeles.

The official schedule of the tour calls for the departure of the party tomorrow afternoon for the East. Some of the visitors will attend a meeting at the Long Beach Unitarian Church this afternoon and evening, and others will spend today at San Diego and other points in Southern California.

STOLEN FINERY.

Seven Negro Children Jailed after Parading in Dresses Which They Took from Storage.

Seven negro children had some resplendent amateur theatricals Monday and Tuesday, wearing clothes that were the surprise and delight of their friends, until the police arrested them yesterday. They found Susie Smith, 12 years old, promenading with a purple sunshade and a yellow dress that swung out behind her in a regal train. Her brother, Ulysses Smith, was wearing an evening gown, covered with black lace. Ella Hall had a sealskin jacket and a harem skirt.

They had found their costumes in a barn at No. 2619 Leta street where it had been stored by Mrs. Grace Boardman, No. 1762 East Twenty-first street. The goods were boxed and stowed away but the children broke into the boxes with a hammer and chisel, and took several hundred dollars' worth of clothes and silverware. The silverware went to their homes.

The seven children are in juvenile hall. They are all under 14 years of age, and are John and Ella Hall, No. 2511 Long Beach avenue; Will Woodruff, No. 1552 Palamores street; Ethel and Anna Caulton, No. 2166 East Eleventh street and Susie and Ulysses Smith, No. 1515 East Twenty-fifth street.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

JUDGE AND MRS. R. L. MUNROE of Waco, Tex., who are enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perne Johnson, Jr., of No. 833 West Twenty-eighth street, while visiting their son, Lieut. Robert Munroe, U.S.N., and his young wife, who was Katharine Barnwell Johnson, have been the recipients of many social courtesies during their stay, though they are spending the major portion of their time motoring about.

In their honor Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. Howard presided over a dinner at the Beverly Hills Hotel on Thursday evening, and on Sunday they spent a day of delight at the Crags Country Club as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Mott and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fairchild, others of the party being Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perne Johnson, Jr., and Lieut. and Mrs. Munroe. Ex-Governor John M. Slaton of Georgia and Mrs. Slaton were also special guests of honor.

The Johnsons gave a dinner in honor of their guests on the evening of Tuesday, stamped by its exquisite floral decorations.

Judge and Mrs. Munroe, with their son and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, are leaving Saturday for a motor trip to the Mission Inn, Riverside, and are going on down to San Diego for the exposition later in the week. Soon after, they will go to San Francisco for a glimpse of the northern fair. They are compelled to make the most of their time, for Judge Munroe must be back in Texas by the 14th inst. to open court.

To Become a Bride.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Francis of No. 2299 West Boulevard formally announce the engagement of their daughter Evelyne Laurette to Donald Stent Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Simpson of No. 735 South Union avenue.

The bride-elect is a popular member of the younger set, and the interesting announcement will be received with felicitations by the young couple's scores of friends. No date is yet mentioned for the wedding.

Motor to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kohler, with their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. Warren Everett of Chicago, have motored up to San Francisco to enjoy the exposition. They will also visit interesting northern resorts before their return.

To Give Many Affairs.

Among the social affairs of the midsummer are the series of luncheons which Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle is attending each week to her large list of friends, who are usually divided into coteries of fifteen guests. Mrs. Carlisle gave her initial function on Wednesday, last, and yesterday she again contributed a second enjoyable event at her home, No. 674 Ardmore avenue. Covers for fifteen were laid at an oval board covered in lace and centered in an artistic arrangement of delicate yellow flowers in a tall basket, entwined in hops. The latter especially lend themselves to the decorator's art, and were massed about the rooms effectively. The place cards were hand-done in floral designs of yellow.

Mrs. Carlisle has bidden guests for next Wednesday, and again Thursday.

Mrs. Cable to Entertain.

Mrs. H. A. Cable, president of the Los Angeles district of Federated Women's Clubs, is entertaining the members of her official board to tea this afternoon at the Alexandria.

Previous to the social event, an executive meeting will be held.

Honoring Visitors.

The Los Angeles Country Club was the scene of a pretty dinner on Friday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Strong hosts—the affair honoring Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Southerland, who were for ten days the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Rhodes of Pinehurst Road, Hollywood. Mr. Southerland was personal representative of the Governor of Illinois to the tax convention in San Francisco, and stopped en route home.

Purple and pink asters intermingled with feathery gypsophila were used for the dinner, and later the guests enjoyed dancing.

Number of Affairs Planned.

Friends of Mrs. Chesterfield Freeman Crank will learn with pleasure of her return from San Francisco and Oakland where she has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Frank E. McGurrin, late of Salt Lake and a frequent visitor here. Numerous affairs were given for Mrs. Crank during her stay north, Mrs. McGurrin entertaining at a luncheon in her honor at the new Sequayah Country Club, which adjoins the McGurrin home on Sequayah Hills.

Mrs. Crank is planning many entertainments for the remainder of the summer at her home, on No. 1203 Cabrillo Canal, Venice, in which many friends will participate.

Here from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. George K. Flower of Pittsburgh, Pa., and her daughter, Miss Annie Flower, an accomplished musician, are the guests of Mrs. W. W. Welter of West Thirtieth street. They will also visit in Long Beach.

Enjoying Del Monte.

Capt. and Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner are now in Del Monte, where they motored from San Francisco early in the week. They are to arrive in Los Angeles Saturday.

Lewis E. Miller, a prominent Cincinnati banker and his bride, who was Mrs. George Wilshire, well known in Los Angeles and Pasadena select circles, are honeymooning in the popular northern resort, and are to stay throughout the golf tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Leeds and their son are also north.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray S. Vosburg and Miss Lillian motored up to San Francisco, but are returning to Del Monte for the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jevne, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Seaver and other golf enthusiasts are already at Del Monte familiarizing themselves with the course, and will stay on until the close of the annual event.

Ever so many are going from the Southland, as interest is keen in sport and social circles, who mean to stop off and try for the State golf championship and Del Monte cups, and the exposition is calling a particularly large number just at this time.

Back from Outing.

Homer Grunn, pianist of the Brams Quintet, and Mrs. Grunn have returned from a three weeks' vacation, spent at Forest Home and the San Francisco exposition.

To Return East to School.

Miss Marion Adeline Williams, who has been active in Southern California's society circles during her vacation, spent mostly at the Maryland in Pasadena, leaved shortly for Walnut Hill, Natick, Mass., where she is preparing to enter Wellesley College. Miss Williams is to be accompanied by her mother, whose home is in Kent, O.

A brother, Dudley Williams, who is a student at Yale, is motoring with a party of friends overland to the East, having gone from Tia Juana, Mex., through Los Angeles to San Francisco, and on to Chicago and Boston. With him are Norman Grieb of New York, Thomas Penny of Buffalo and George Keeley of Grand Rapids, Mich., all Yale men.

A Summer Resident.

Among the younger set who are temporary summer residents of Southern California, none has enjoyed greater popularity than Miss Iris Peddington of Quebec, who with her mother, Mrs. Balfour, has occupied one of the attractive bungalows at the Maryland, and from there has in turn visited many interesting points about Los Angeles.

Mrs. F. W. Kohler,

Who has gone with Mr. Kohler and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. Warren Everett of Chicago, on a motoring trip to San Francisco and northern points of interest.

LAD PRAYS FOR A DYING PUPPY.

WHILE LITTLE DOG GIVES UP LIFE WITH DIGNITY.

Snippers, Unversed in Traffic Rules, is Run Down by Automobile. Small Master Bears Him to Receiving Hospital—Surgeons Work With Canine on Operating Table.

Snippers died yesterday with dignity and ease on the black operating table at the Receiving Hospital. Two surgeons bent over him and his little master stood at his feet.

Snippers was a dog—rather a puppy—of bulldog descent and somewhat motley in matters of garb. But he was the property and playmate of William Tennyson, 12 years old, No. 1964 North Coronado street. It was Snippers's duty to stay at home and under no condition to stray away unless in custody of his master.

Yesterday William Tennyson came downtown to do some interesting shopping, the selection of a baseball mit and a bat. And because he decided to get a little cheaper mit than his father had provided funds for he was going to get Snippers a collar. So Snippers came along, too.

They were crossing at Fifth and Spring streets yesterday when Snippers, unversed in traffic laws, started across in advance of his master. He looked back as he stepped off the curb, wagged his tail, and trotted on, confident of his safety and that his master would follow. But the signal stopping such traffic was given then, and Willie Tennyson had to halt.

Out in the street was Snippers, a stranger to heavy traffic. An automobile came along. Snippers looked up at it impudently, wagged his tail in a friendly signal that he was going ahead, and the automobile had better stop, and then there came a grinding sound and a gasping growl that was not a bark. The automobile sped on and Willie Tennyson rushed into the street to pick up Snippers. The dog was unconscious, but breathing.

William Tennyson clasped it in his arms and ran for the Receiving Hospital.

He entered the surgery panting and crying.

"Doctor," he said to Chief Surgeon Wiley, "won't you help Snippers? He got runned over. He went out in the street alone and a car runned over him. Won't you do something for Snippers, please, doctor, oh, please!"

Dr. Wiley put Snippers on the operating table.

Snippers waked up. He looked with sick but friendly glances at his master, and he tried to wag his tail, but the connection with that attachment had been severed by the blow. It made him wince and bark with pain to try to wag his tail, yet he wished to show his love by doing so, and he tried and tried until the effort was too exhausting, and he took a deep breath, licked with his failing strength his little master's hand and went to sleep.

Dr. Wiley found several of Snippers's ribs had been crushed. The hospital was without patients. So he put an ether cone over the dog's nose, and attempted to set the crushed body of Snippers aright.

And while the surgeon and his assistant were healing him as best they might the little dog stiffened sharply and then relaxed.

The surgeons looked at the boy. He realized.

"Is—is he—he d-dead?" he faltered the question. They nodded their heads. Tears came into his eyes. His voice was too thick for speech.

Silently he looked at Snippers for almost a minute. And then he looked at the doctors with a strange, stilled expression. Hesitatingly, reverently, he walked up to Surgeon Wiley and looked him full in the eye for a moment.

Then he said: "Doctor, would you care if I said my prayers for Snippers?"

The doctor said no. He and his assistant walked out of the room. They saw the little boy kneel by the table, press his hand lovingly, convulsively upon Snippers, the dead playmate, and then through his tears, say his prayers for his friend.

When the doctors came out the boy and the dog had gone.

ACCUSES GUARDS.

Lad Tells Judge He was Cruelly Beaten at Ione—Released to Custody of Mother.

John Forster, 18 years old, committed to the Preston School of Industry at Ione, had a run-in with the guards of that institution, he told Judge Reeve of the Juvenile Court yesterday, and this is what he said they did to him.

They gave him thirty-five or forty strokes with a big strap across the kidneys; they repeated the whipping a second and a third time.

He said he got down on his knees and begged for mercy. He pleaded for a chance to rest between lickings, as he could not stand the punishment, but he said they showed him no mercy.

"They replied to my pleadings with kicks; one of the guards struck me on the head with a gun. I was in a hospital seven days and then they chained me to my cot."

Judge Reeve released the youth to his mother, Mrs. Mary Forster, later declaring him a ward of the Juvenile Court.

The Ione authorities asserted John was not amenable to discipline. Judge Reeve recently wrote the Ione trustees, but up to yesterday he had received no reply. While he had no jurisdiction over the Ione trustees, Judge Reeve said he could not hold the youth.

John has been paroled from Whittier State School and at that place he was declared no tto be incorrigible.

STATE MOUNTAIN ROAD IS CLOSED.

WORK OF PUTTING OIL ON SURFACE TO BE RUSHED WITH DOUBLE SHIFTS.

The mountain section of the State highway on the Ridge route was closed to travel yesterday and will remain closed for about thirty days. The work of oiling and rolling has been begun. The State Highway Commission has ordered the job rushed and will have two shifts of men at work.

This is a stretch of thirty miles extending from the Castaic schoolhouse to Bailey's ranch. It is the heaviest piece of roadbuilding on the highway between this city and Bakersfield and was completed, except for surfacing, last week. The temporary oil surface will be in shape for travel soon after the first of next month and will be used for a year or until the road has thoroughly settled, after which the permanent concrete surface will be put on.

Members of the commission, Los Angeles county supervisors, directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California and engineers will make a trip over a portion of the road next Thursday. The Supervisors are particularly interested in the highway because of the necessity of building bridges over the Castaic wash and Santa Clara River.

ADMITS STABBING.

Alfred Escalante, alias Martinez, a Mexican, was arrested last night by the police, charged with suspicion of murderous assault upon Jesus Solis, also a Mexican, who was stabbed fifteen times Saturday night in a fight on the East Side. Escalante, who said he lives at No. 436 Ducommon street, admitted he had done the carving, and explained his actions by saying Solis had insulted him.

Mrs. Campbell Interesting Study in Play.

Forecast of Events at the Local Theaters.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" was the interesting study of a considerable audience at the Mason last night. It may be added that to Americans this play is always a study rather than an entertainment. Pinero built it with architectural perfection, but raised his house upon sand.

Possibly this master technician realized the dearth of bedrock in that vicinity. In the first place he does not establish the necessity for the unfortunate marriage upon which the action of the play hinges, and, in the second place, he fails to make good the assumption of Aubrey Tanqueray that it is possible to rear a life of good repute upon a miserable foundation.

There is, of course, a quality to his lines and a sequence of action to his plot which have established the drama as a classic.

It is precisely the type of near tragedy which Mrs. Campbell once delighted in taking within her deep arms, but she seems to have somewhat grown away from the part, as has the public, now that it has begun to suspect that there may be a way to answer problems without the suicide of the principals.

Mrs. Campbell's voluptuous insolence is most interesting in this part, but she takes it so smoothly that we are convinced of languor and not of repressed feeling. Lassitude is not compelling on account of its volume.

Miss Constance Crawley gave us a better performance of this play at the Little Theater a year ago. She was inclined to credit Mrs. Tanqueray with motives somewhat better than I suspect the lady to have entertained, but she was genuinely hurt and she really suffered, whereas Mrs Campbell seems to be making a studied effort to conceal her feelings from the audience, with the exception of a few vivid moments in which she proves her old fire. One knows she has power and wishes that more of it might be released.

Mrs. Campbell has chosen a setting for the Mason production that is much too lean, in my opinion. It is so meager as to suggest that the chaste severity of the furniture was offered in contrast to Mrs. Tanqueray's character. This play wants a rich setting and so does the public. If it is not to be sumptuous, elegance, at least, is required. Mrs. Campbell reduces us to an Elizabethan simplicity which nobody in the twentieth century ever yet relished with the possible exceptions of Ben Greet and Granville Barker, and deep in my heart I feel that this is only laziness with them.

The company with the eminent English actress is pleasant, but not exceptional. It is rather saved by its balance than by its merit. Only Edgar Kent is notably smart. He takes the part of Cayley Dummle, a role made memorable by the brilliant creation of George Arliss fourteen years ago, at which time Mrs. Campbell's "Second Mrs. Tanqueray" was rightly adjudged one of the masterpieces of the stage. Mr. Kent, in his cleverness last night, merely sustained the excellent impression made by himself as Alfred Doolittle in "Pygmalion."

It is perhaps the fault of no one in particular that the first act of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" is always stiff. It gets over a deal of masculine philosophy in a highly stilted fashion. This is partly because men at dinner alone are usually insufferably formal or unforgivably familiar. As for masculine philosophy apropos of matrimony, it always misses the point by discussing marriage in general, whereas feminine philosophy, in its acuteness, has to do only with one particular marriage."

"Pygmalion," with Mrs. Patrick Campbell in the leading role, has proved so popular at the Mason that "Searchlights" has been eliminated, and the Shaw play will be given on Friday and Saturday nights. "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" will be repeated tonight and Saturday matinee. Seats sold for "Searchlights" will be exchanged accordingly.

Margaret Anglin in "Beverley's Balance," a comedy in which Miss Anglin made a big hit in New York last season, will be the offering next week.

Majestic.

"The New Henrietta," with its all-star cast, including W. H. Crane, Macklyn Arbuckle, Mabel Taliferro, and Thomas Ross, is drawing large audiences at the Majestic.

Next week, opening Sunday night, Guy Bates Post in "Omar the Tentmaker," will be the attraction.

Burbank.

"The Yellow Ticket," with Marjorie Rambeau in the leading role, is continuing popular at the Burbank.

Next week, beginning Sunday matinee, Avery Hopwood's new play, "Sadie Love," with Marjorie Rambeau and Pedro de Cordoba in the leading parts, will be the offering. Hopwood's work as author of "Seven Days," and other clever comedies, is well known, and "Sadie Love" is said to be the most brilliant of his plays.

Pedro de Cordoba is well known on Broadway, New York, and as leading man with Geraldine Farrar in the picture plays recently staged by the Lasky Company, and his coming to the Burbank is looked upon as a distinct event in theatrical circles.

Morosco.

"So Long Letty," with its tuneful music opens its tenth big week at the Morosco Theater next Sunday night. The run of "Letty" rivals and promises to outdo that of "Peg o' My Heart."

Orpheum.

Joan Sawyer, the well-known dancer, comes to the Orpheum next week, beginning Monday. She headlines the new bill in some of her famous ballroom dances. George Harcourt is her dancing partner. Among her dances are her own "aeroplane waltz," her new fox-trot, and the "zurmaza," a new feature in steps.

Others on the bill are Mindell Kingston and George Ebner in "A Vaudeville Flirtation," Jack Allman and Sam Dody in "Reincarnation," and Grace Carlisle and Jules Romer in "Just a Song at Twilight." The holdovers will include the Lasky "Society Buds," Ball and West, Mike Bernard and Sidney Phillips, and the Gaudsmidts, clowns.

Hippodrome.

Lew Pistol and his 1915 Cabaret Revue will head the bill which comes to the Hippodrome next Monday. It promises much music and fun, and many lovely girls.

Other features will be the Flying La Mars, aerialists; Don Carney in his "Pianoscene;" Al Harrington as "The Crazy Janitor;" Eva Westcott and company in "The Butterfly Wife;" Granville and Mack, street musicians, and Dave Rafael and company in a ventriloquial turn.

Pantages.

"Grand Opera for Thirty Cents" is the Pantages slogan for next week, beginning Monday. Former members of the Lambardi Opera Company will supply the attraction.

Edmund Hayes and his company will present "The Piano Movers;" Belle Oliver will sing popular songs; John P. Reed will comedy in blackface; Bosch and Russell promise a novelty in their act, entitled "The Musical Railroaders," and "Lady Alice" will present her company of rats, mice and cats in trick stunts.

Republic.

The present affiliation with a large eastern vaudeville circuit is sending special new acts regularly to the Republic Theater. This week's programme is topped by "Three Old Veterans," with their unusual musical act, and by La Pillivica and partner, who demonstrate the latest dances of old Castile. The other numbers on the bill offer excellent contrast, and all meet with favor.

Next week Haines and Haines come with "A Vaudeville Surprise," which they promise will be a dramatic and scenic sensation.

"Mission Play."

The Unitarians, 200 strong, went out to San Gabriel last night in a special train to attend the evening performance of the "Mission Play." They met Mr. McGroarty and were by him conducted through the old historic mission. They declared that the pageant drama lived up to all expectations.

Alhambra.

Victor Moore, who gained fame on the speaking stage in "Chimmie Fadden," repeats his triumph on the screen in the same role at the Alhambra this week.

Camille Astor, as the chic little French maid with whom Chimmie falls in love, and Anita King, as the heiress, divide honors in the picture.

Next week, beginning Monday, the offering will be "Kindling," featuring Charlotte Walker, the well-known New York star.

Tally's Broadway.

Sam Bernard in his first film play, "Poor Schmaltz," is drawing well at Tally's Broadway this week. Mr. Bernard's comedy methods are well suited to the screen, and the film play is a good one.

Next week Hasel Dawn, in "The Heart of Jennifer," picturised from the novel of the same name, will be the offering.

Clune's Auditorium.

"The Clansman," in its twentieth week at Clune's Auditorium, is still drawing large houses.

Clune's Broadway.

The three popular stage favorites—George Fawcett, Charlie Ruggles and William Desmond—in "The Majesty of the Law," are attracting large crowds to Clune's Broadway this week.

Next week the well-known comedian, John Barrymore, in "The Incorrigible Duquesne," will be the feature.

Palace of Pictures.

That talented Viola Allen has lost none of her large following of local admirers by stepping before the camera from behind the footlights is shown by the many persons who are visiting the Palace of Pictures this week to see her in her sympathetic portrayal of the heroine in "The White Sister."

Next week, in compliance with a great demand, "The Island of Regeneration" will play a return engagement.

Garrick.

Dainty Marguerite Clark is real "Wild Flower," according to the most unanimous verdict of the audiences which are crowding the Garrick Theater this week to see her in her best role. The supporting cast is excellent and the setting of the play adds greatly to its charm.

Comedy contrast is furnished by another "You Know Me, Al" humorous adventure.

Next week Hobart Bosworth, always popular in Los Angeles, comes in "An Odessy of the North," Jack London's stirring story of love and adventure in the frozen land of the midnight sun.

Miller's.

Robert Warwick, in his portrayal of "Dorville," the gifted singer, in McAllister's photodrama, "The Stolen Voice," is making a big hit at Miller's this week.

Theda Bara and Jean Sothern, in "The Two Orphans," is the offering next week, beginning Monday.

Superba.

"Scandal," Lois Weber's popular screen drama, is the photoplay which is attracting attention at the Superba. Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley play the leading roles, supported by Rupert Julian and other well-known screen actors.

Next week, beginning Monday, Lawrance D'Orsay, in "The Earl of Pawtucket," a delightful comedy, will be shown. This is a film version of the well-known stage farce-comedy.

Woodley.

"Jewel" is making one of the hits of the season at Woodley's Theater this week and is showing to packed houses at every performance. Ella Hall plays the name part charmingly.

Next week the headline feature will be "The Woman Next Door," adapted from Owen Davis's play. Irene Fenwick has the leading role.

Trinity Auditorium.

The Arctic pictures are drawing good crowds to Trinity Auditorium. These include views of Eskimo life and some wonderful Alaskan scenes, such as the 2000-mile trail followed by the United States mails over the wilds of the frozen north in winter, ships caught in the ice pack, the different methods of placer mining, whale fishing and seal hunting, besides many other features of interest.

POKER LEADS TO WISH FOR DEATH

ARREST REVEALS WILL, LEAD BANK BOOK, WEAPON AND SUICIDE THEORY.

The apprehension of J. C. Sousa, a suspicious character, late last night by Detective Hubert Kittle developed facts to what may prove to be a timely arrest. The discovery of a will, a loaded revolver and a bank book that showed the man had lost $2100 in two days led the police to believe the prisoner was preparing for suicide. Sousa, although refusing to admit suicidal intent, told the police he had lost this money in a poker game and had no further interest in mortal affairs.

Several days ago Sousa appeared before Judge Chesbro. According to police records, he was given a sentence of 180 days in jail for vagrancy. This charge was later suspended on the understanding that Sousa would immediately leave town. At the time it was not known Sousa had money.

The will found in Sousa's pocket bequeathes all property and money left should the man come to an untimely end to a Miss Camille Legge, No. 149 North Main street.

The bank book disclosed that Sousa had entered sums varying from $1 to $1850 in the Farmers and Merchants National Bank. August 11 he had $3000 to his credit at the bank. Then, August 23, he drew $1500. The day following another $400 was withdrawn. Sousa explained this by saying he had gotten into a poker game and had been properly "trimmed."

SPLENDID OPENING FOR DEER AND DOVE SEASON.

J. Franklin,

Bang! Bang!

HUNTERS BRING BACK DEER.

First Buck Brought in at 7:30 A.M.

Dove Limits are Easy to Get Now.

Plenty of Places to Shoot Game in South.

The opening day of the deer and dove season was one of the best ever inscribed on the annals of Southern California shooting. A large number of bucks reached town during the day, and innumerable limits of doves came in from all over this part of the State.

The early hour at which the first buck hit the city indicates that deer are easier to shoot than last season. When the first one blew around at 7:45, a man was immediately dispatched to count the animals at Universal City, Selig Zoo and Griffith Park. All the der were on hand, however, at these various resorts, and the captured specimen must have been genuine.

EARLY REPORTS.

Early reports from different parts of Southern California seemed to indicate a scarcity of game. Many fishermen and sportsmen returned from the lakes and streams and told of the poor signs.

Later, however, things began to improve, and for the last several weeks the reports have been excellent.

In spite of the great increase in the reserves, there are still hundred of places to get deer, according to local experts. The Santa Monica Mountains appear to be the best shooting ground of all. A majority of the bucks killed on the first day came from this region. The Elsinore, San Bernardino, San Jacinto, Nigger and many other mountains offer splendid opportunities for hunting. Innumerable points in these ranges have been cited as the best.

EASY.

Dove are much easier to get than deer. Sheriff Cline, Harry Cline, Frank Young, Joe Amestoy, Earl Muller, Charles Richards and George Cline went out yesterday morning and all had the limit inside of an hour. This slaughter took place at Amestoy's ranch near Encino.

Dr. F. J. Fitzgerald came through with one of the fastest bits of work of the whole day. He went out with a 28-gauge shotgun and managed to plunk the limit in twenty minutes. Many people claim that such a gun is no better than an ordinary rifle, and a dove a minute for a rifle is going some.

Fred Cannon reports excellent dove hunting in the Puente hills. He captured the limit there in a very short Receiving the prize rifle offered by the Cline-Cline Company. The buck, which weighed over a hundred pounds, was shot near Crater's apple ranch in the Santa Monica Mountains. It was shot at 6 a.m. and reached Los Angeles two hours later.

EMPRESS TO HAVE BIFF-BANG SCRAPS.

KID PEOPLES OF NEW YORK TO BOX MIKE DOLL; FIVE OTHER BOUTS.

More than ordinary interest is attached to the meeting tomorrow night at the Empress Theater of "Kid" Peoples, who hails from the East as the champion of the New York Athletic Club and Mike Doll, whose fistic achievements on the Coast have entitled him to championship mention. Manager Aldridge of the Aldridge Athletic Club, under whose auspices the Friday night boxing tournaments at the Empress are held, promises that Peoples and Doll will provide four rounds of stirring scrapping. There is much rivalry between these two boys, and as tomorrow night will be their most important meeting it is likely that a go full of science and skill and feeling will result.

Other local boxers of no little fame who will be seen on the Aldridge programme at the Empress tomorrow night are: Walter Williams, who will take on Battling Chico; Len Lander, who will meet Len Powers; Walter Ehle and Floyd Rotz, who will meet at 140 pounds. Ehle is a clever fighter, who has become a prime favorite with the Friday night audiences at the Empress. Rotz, on a number of previous occasions has demonstrated that as a contender over the four-round route he is unusually promising. Howard Freeman and Joe Smith and Jack Nolan and Jesse Rado will also appear at the Empress tomorrow night.

OCCIDENTAL-SYRACUSE FOOTBALL GAME DECEMBER 8 SEEMS ASSURED.

IT HAS been almost decided that Occidental College and Syracuse University will meet on a local gridiron December 8.

Following the exclusive announcement in The Times a week ago, negotiations have been going on between the managers of the two institutions and are rapidly reaching a definite point.

Manager Harry Kirkpatrick wired his definite terms last night to the Syracuse management and should hear within the next two or three days after his proposition has been submitted to the authorities at the eastern university.

Coach Pipal of Occidental, who is now engaged in teaching the triple pass to Percy Houghton's pupils at Harvard University, will stop at Syracuse on the way back from Cambridge and complete the arrangements for the game in case everything goes as it should.

Kirkpatrick has been on the trail of the big game for some time, although he did not let the matter officially leak out until yesterday when the official permission of the Southern California Intercollegiate Conference was given to Occidental to engage in an outside game with another institution of the same standrds of eligibility.

Syracuse last year set up an enviable reputation for itself by smothering the mighty Michigan eleven early in the season, the latter team a couple of weeks later holding Harvard to a 6 to 0 score on the Cambridge gridiron.

The eastern eleven is noted for its open work and while having a husky bunch of athletes to draw from, has of late made a specialty of the open style of game, employing the forward pass and sweeping end runs in preference to smashing tactics.

Syracuse will have played such teams as Princeton, Brown, Michigan, Colgate and Dartmouth in the East before starting on its westward trip.

A special train will be taken immediately following the last home game with Dartmouth, November 20. A stop will be made at Missoula, Mont., on November 25 and the University of Montana will be tackled. On December 1 the husky Oregon Agricultural College eleven will be taken on at Portland and immediately following that game the Syracuse team will start for Los Angeles if Kirkpatrick's plans materialize.

The Syracuse eleven in mid-season form would, without argument, be far too strong for the local aggregation, but following a strenuous three weeks of post-season football, combined with nearly 5000 miles of tiresome train travel, the easterners should make a more even match for the Tigers.

Occidental will have played its final game of the season on November 20 against Pomona at Claremont and will have three weeks in which to recuperate from its bruises and again get in shape for battle.

The Tigers have learned their post-season lesson since their awful slaughter by the Oregon Aggies three years ago. They took on the northern demons just ten days after their 52 to 13 defeat of Pomona and just when they were thoroughly let down in condition.

This time they will have the advantage of condition and of playing in their own back yard in addition to the inspiration of being the first Southern California football team to meet an eastern eleven since the memorable Sherman-Carlisle battle of prehistoric times.

Following is the Syracuse football schedule: September 25, Hobart at Syracuse; October 2, Bucknell at Syracuse; October 9, Princeton at Princeton; October 16, Rochester at Syracuse; October 24, Brown at Providence; October 30, Michigan at Ann Arbor; November 6, Mt. Union at Syracuse; November 13, Colgate at Syracuse; November 20, Dartmouth at Syracuse; November 25, Montana at Missoula, Mont.; December 1, Oregon Agricultural College at Portland, Or.

FIRST VICTIM OF DEER SEASON.

EUGENE W. O'HARA FOUND IN AUTOMOBILE SHOT IN THE RIGHT SIDE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 1.—The opening of the hunting season resulted in one death today, the first victim of the open season, Eugene W. O'Hara, aged 53, a rancher living near Hesperia, was accidentaly shot by his own gun, which slipped from the seat of his auto and was discharged when it struck the running board. The body, sitting upright n the machine, behind the wheel, was found by Howard Pasig, a rancher.

One of the victim's hands clutched the barrel of the gun as if he had grasped it as it fell just a moment too late to prevent the discharge from striking him.

The gun was loaded with buckshot. It tore a ghastly hole through his right side, and it is believed that after receiving the fatal charge O'Hara mechanically swung his car to the side of the road and stopped it before he expired. Sheriff J. L. McMinn held the inquest at Hesperia late today. The body will be brought here.

WOMEN GOLFERS TURN OUT STRONG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—With an entry list of 105 women golfers the field for the women's national championship at the Onwentsia Club, Lake Forest, Ill., next week, promises to establish a record for this event. The pairings were announced here today at the offices of the United States Golf Association, and it is possible that some post entries may be accepted. This is the first time in the history of this event that the entry list has reached the century mark.

The majority of entrants this year are from western clubs, but the East is fairly well represented. Only two foreign players are among the aspirants. These are Miss Vera Ramsey of England, who is entered from Canada, and Mrs. Ala Gavin of Shirley Park, England.

Play will begin next Monday with an eighteen-hole medal round, in which the thirty-two leading players will qualify for the championship rounds at match play during the week. Each day the match play rounds will consist of eighteen holes, the final being set for Saturday, September 11.

BIG LEAGUE RACES ARE RAPIDLY NEARING THE CLOSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The pennant races in both the National and American leagues entered the last stage today. By the middle of next week the contests in both leagues virtually will have been decided and baseball enthusiasts may be able to make their plans to see the world's series.

Three remaining contenders for the flag in the National League retained their respective standings today, although Philadelphia's lead was reduced by losing the first game of a series with New York. Boston, which lost to Cincinnati, failed to take advantage of an opportunity to displace Brooklyn from second place. Only eight points now separate the two teams.

The fight in the American League became more of a contest between Boston and Detroit when the Tigers' victory over Chicago more firmly established the White Sox in third place. The Red Sox continued their consistent winning by defeating Philadelphia and now seem to have a firm grasp on the flag.

HOME-RUN BAKER TO BE SOLD TO YANKS BY MACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Sept. 1.—The sale of J. Franklin Baker, former third baseman of the Athletics and "Home-run" King" of the American League, will be announced tomorrow unless Connie Mack refuses to go through with the deal discussed here today. Ban Johnson, president of the American League; President Lannin of the Boston Red Sox; Vice-President Huston of the New York Yankees, and President B. F. Shibe of the Athletics were in conference all afternoon, and the transfer is expected to be made tomorrow. The sale was outright, and the price is believed to be $15,000.

The sale of Baker is part of the plan devised by American League magnates to strengthen the Yankees and boost the game in New York.

Ban Johnson stopped off in New York yesterday and came here today accompanied by Capt. Huston of the Yankees, the tip being given out that Johnson's trip East was for the purpose of starting a crusade against gambling at the ball parks. As soon as the magnates got together, however, Johnson proposed the Baker deal, and Huston expressed his willingness to pay a liberal price for the "fence buster."

Unlucky Day for Champs in National Golf Tournament.

TIGERS EASY FOR SLIM LOVE.

Angels Take Opening Game from Doc's Crew.

Elongated Twirler Pitches Hitless Ball.

Scoggins has Three Wobbly Innings.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

With both sides displaying grim determination, Los Angeles took the first game of the crucial series, 3 to 2.

Heavy hitting by Walter Boles, the clever little catcher, did the business. Walt drove across the tying run in the fourth off Decanniere, and unshouldered his bat for a double off Fromme in the sixth, sending Zeb athwart the plate with the winning run.

SETTLED.

That settled the justly celebrated hash of the Tigers, they being unable to touch the powerful left-handed pitching of Slim Love, who relieved the sorely distressed J. Lynn Scoggins early in the third. To all intents and purposes, Slim pitched a no-hit game, as the Angels did all their winning after he went in. Had Slim been started at the beginning, he might have made a name for himself.

The Tigers assumed the aggressive immediately, mixing in a couple of long blows with a splash of wildness by Scoggy. By this means, they scored a run in the first and another in the second. Scoggy continued to wobble on his axis, and Dillon yanked him with a jerk after he had passed the first man up in the third.

NATURAL.

This wildness on the part of Scoggy is more mental than physical. He herds cows during the off-season, and when he gets to thinking about it he becomes imbued with the free and untrammelled spirit of the range, where everything, including the wild cats, are wild. After following this train of thought for a few minutes, he himself becomes wild, and it is up to Pa to issue him.

CO-ORDINATION.

For once, there was perfect co-ordination between Love's feet and his highly-trained mind. Not once did his feet or his brain falter. The Tigers were as a litter of unseeing kittens before his masterful headwork and footwork. In fact, a gnat caused Slim more trouble than all the Tigers combined. In the ninth inning, a gnat which was foraging around the place, wandered into his left eye, which is the one that Slim uses for taking sight at the plate. Slim seemed to be in some pain, but scorning the services of all the eye specialists present, he fished the gnat out with his gloved hand and went on winning the game as before. Unless the management arranges to keep gnats out of the park, Slim will wear a screen porch over his head the next time he pitches.

The well-known firm of Finney and Guthrie yesterday dissolved partnership. Because of the warm weather, Bill feared that he might be tempted to go in swimming if he stayed here, and that probably meant that he would step on another stingaree. Stingaree's seem to swarm around Bill's bare feet like honey bees around a wild rose. The bees are attracted by the fragrance. What draws the stingarees we are unable to state. Anyway, Bill hustled North in time to escape getting stung again, while Norman K. Brashear hustled South and went into partnership with Ed as the junior member of the firm.

SPOKESMAN.

As spokesman for the firm, Finney paused in his umpiring long enough to announce that the mud ball had been quarantined, and could no longer be regarded as a part of the great national pastime. He was loudly applauded by the batters and brickmakers present.

Gus Gleichmann, again in possession of all his well-known beauty, was back in the game. He proudly displayed two new front teeth, which had been built in his head to substitute for those which were knocked out last Friday. Considering the high cost of teeth, Gus should be more careful hereafter. For an athlete to scatter perfectly good teeth around a ball yard borders is wanton extravagance. Any guy who makes a practice of doing so is almost sure to land in the dental chair and end his days in poverty.

The Tigers, being the visiting team, had their bats first. Some may doubt that the Tigers were the visiting team, but the schedule says that they are, and there is no appeal from the schedule. They arrived in town from Vernon about noon on the Seventh-street limited. Although somewhat tired from their long, hard trip, they put up a stiff game.

SOX.

Scoggins started by passing Rader, the Arizona Wildcat, who was forced by the Terrible Swede. Kane flied to center. At this critical point Joe Wilhoit spanked a stern double to right and Risberg came home. Zeb Terry of the Chicago White Sox then threw out Furtell.

In the second half, Maggert was retired on a neat assist by Joe Berger. Decanniere walked Fred McMullen, also of the Chicago White Sox. Some maintain that this isn't a major league, but we beg leave to differ. Fred was flagged stealing. Wolter drove an extensive fly to right that looked good for a home run until Wilhoit hurdled back and stuck his famous glove into the right-field bleachers for the most sensational fielding stunt of the day.

Gleichmann walked in the second, Mitse forcing him after Berger had fouled to Boles. Decanniere then gave Scoggy the worst slam of his pitching career by drubbing a regular triple to right. Zeb tossed out Rader.

SCOGGY GOES.

Scoggy came up for the third as wild as ever. He succeeded in passing Risberg before Dillon could get him out. Slim promptly became master of the situation by fanning Kane, and Boles threw out Risberg stealing on the third strike. Rader, who walked in the fifth with two gone, was the only Tiger to reach first. Slim fanned Risberg.

Koerner opened the second with a single for the first Angel hit. Rube advanced him to second with another. Zeb bunted to Decanniere, and Beef was forced at third. Gleichmann was not covering first, or Rader might have whipped across for a double. In fact, he started to throw, but caught his arm just in time to prevent a serious disaster. Boles lined out to left, and Butler grounded to Gleichmann.

FORGE AHEAD.

Los Angeles caught up in the fourth. The first six Angels up in this inning reached first safely, and yet they were able to drag but two runs out of the mess. Wolter and Koerner singled. Mitse picked Wolter off second with a shot through to Berger. Ellis drove to Gleichmann, whose throw to Berger to force Beef was late. Zeb clouted a single to right, Beef scoring and Rube running to third. Zeb went down to second on an expected double steal, but was tagged out by Berger before Rube could get started from third. Not having started, Rube did not try to steal, but Boles put him across with a single to center. This swat tied the count. Butler walked, and Slim grounded to Gleichmann.

At the start of the fifth Decanniere walked Maggert, and in so doing walked himself. With Fromme pitching, McMullen and Wolter sacrificed. Mag died at third when Kane galloped in and made a shoestring catch of Beef's abbreviated fly.

Zeb, being small and hard to pitch to, walked with one gone in the sixth. Boles planted a long double behind this pass for the winning run. Butler and Slim both missed fire. A double by Wolter in the seventh had no effect on the final returns.

CHAMPIONS GO DOWN AND OUT.

Ouimet and Travers are Eliminated.

Jerome is up Against Golf that's Unbeatable.

Boy Wonder Gets Nervous and Blows.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 1.—Two premier golfers were defeated today in the second round of match play for the national amateur championship. Francis Ouimet, of Woodland, Mass., national title holder, was beaten five up and four to play by James D. Standish, Jr., of Detroit, and Jerome Travers, of Upper Montclair, N. J., who hoped to wear two crowns at the same time, was loser 3 and 1 to Max R. Marston, of Springfield, N. J. Travers is present open champion.

Winners of the other matches were D. E. Sawyer, of Wheaton, Ill.; Robert A. Gardner, of Chicago; Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans; Sherill Sherman, of Utica; John G. Anderson, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Howard B. Lee, of Detroit.

YOUNG MEN.

The conquerors of Ouimet and Travers are young men, both in their early twenties. The speed and unerring accuracy which Standish displayed caused Ouimet to become erratic. Travers, affected by a cold, stood the task better but was played off his feet by the fair-haired youth from his home State. The golf which Marston showed on the homeward half of his afternoon round would probably have beaten any player on earth. He shot the last nine holes in 33, three strokes under par.

UNBEATABLE.

Travers was one up this afternoon and he was still one up when 27 holes were played. Then Marston cut loose. Desperately long drives brought him close to the greens and three times by holed putts which made his gallery gasp. On the thirtieth hole Marston's second shot landed forty feet from the cup. He putted down an incline on a tricky green. The ball rolled and twisted and wiggled, reached the edge of the hole and flashed from sight. Marston had squared the match on the turn and had won the twenty-ninth.

Francis Ouimet.

4-3. After his long putt he claimed the thirty-first hole, with a brilliant three to Travers's par four. The latter, then three down, reduced the margin by holing his third shot on the thirty-second green but Marston held him even the rest of the route.

OUIMET NERVOUS.

Standish was able to take deadly advantage of nearly every putting slip that Ouimet made. Poor work on the greens, more than any other factor of his game, was responsible for the champion's failure. Ouimet was one up after forenoon play had ended. He was not able to win a hole in the afternoon.

Sherill Sherman of Utica, N. Y., and J. N. Stearns of Williamsport, Pa., went an extra hole before the former won. Stearns was behind nearly all day and only by winning the thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth holes was he able to even the struggle.

CLOSE-FOUGHT.

Gardner took a closely-fought and well-played contest from T. M. Sherman of Utica, 2 and 1. Gardner was 4 up in the forenoon, but Sherman played so well after lunch that he Williams Puts up His Usual Erratic Game.

Hall and Johnson's Game is Longest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 1.—Thirty-two representative tennis players survived the second round of the national championship singles at the courts of the West Side Club here today, after a series of matches in which sensational tennis was the rule rather than the exception. The group included the entire California contingent, a number of eastern exports and a sprinkling of southern and Middle Western entrants.

The chief interest of the spectators centered in the showing of R. Norris Williams, II, the present champion, and Maurice H. McLoughlin of San Francisco, former title holder, and Williams's chief rival for the premier honors this season. While both the eastern and the Pacific Coast stars won their contests, it remained for other players of lower ranking to furnish the thrills of the day.

DISAPPOINTING.

Williams defeated F. C. Inman of New York, 7-5, 6-1, 9-7, and McLoughlin came through at the expense of Dean Mathey, the Princeton University youth, by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. Of the two American internationalists, the showing of McLoughlin was the more disappointing, although it is probable that the majority of the spectators expected more spectacular play from the California comet than from Williams.

The title holder in this contest against Inman exhibited his usual erratic game, although he always gave the impression of having something in reserve for the crucial strokes. He opened with a beautiful collection of placement shots, nicking the corners and base lines repeatedly. Inman, however, refused to be disconcerted by the champion's shots and played back every getable ball, forcing the Harvard expert into a deuce set before he would admit defeat.

Williams fairly ran away with the

To me there comes almost a shudder when I see a ravenous smoker sucking away at the very last morsel of his cigar.

Never will such guilt be found upon those of us who have received our passports to the inner gates of Smoking.

We know that the tender tips of the leaves are all at the cigar's lighting end. Beyond the first two-thirds of our rich Havanas we seldom choose to go.

Extravagance? Is that your only comment on the finer taste, that keener perception which rests content only with the truest delight of smoking?

TONEY OF CINCI BLANKS BRAVES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Toney had the Braves at a loss to hit his delivery today and Cincinnati won, 4 to 0. The visitors hit Ragan consecutively in the fourth inning for three runs. Snodgrass, who made the only hit off Toney, was removed from the game after throwing his bat into the air in protest against a strike out decision by Umpire Byron.

JOE GEDEON DISPLACES NESS AS CLEAN-UP KING.

Salt Lake Slugger now Leads League in Number of Runs Driven Home—Must go Some to Equal Rube's Record—Boles, Kuhn and Spencer Kill off Biggest Percentage of Runners.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

STATISTICS, as a rule, are not exciting, but some people seem to like them. I have seen more than one guy who simply doted on the financial page of a newspaper and could rise up early in the morning to read the latest quotations on linseed oil and Bermuda onions.

In baseball, statistics not only are necessary now and then, but are illuminating in that they present a condensed portrayal of what the noble athlete is doing to merit his hebdomadal stipend. Also, regular fans, the dyed-in-the-wool kind, or at this season of the year the dyed-in-the-yellow kind, are very fond of them. To the faithful fan, figures relating to the players are as meat and drink, with soup and pie at each end. He wants the facts and doesn't care whether they are served cold or hot.

Although Jack Ness can hardly be regarded as an exploded phenom, being past that period in point of years and in the prime of life, he has been compelled to abdicate his proud position as clean-up king of the league in favor of Joe Gedeon. Jack struck a slump after busting the world's nonstop record for hitting, while Gedeon kept right on plunking the ...

Joe has driven in ninety-two runs against eighty-five by Ness. Gedeon, however, will have to step several fast heats before he equals or transcends the 1914 record of 120 runs made by Rube Ellis. Harry Wolter of the Angels ranks third, having been the power behind seventy-two tallies. Bodie is San Francisco's leading slugger in this respect, Bates leads Portland and Bayless Vernon. Following are those who have hammered across ten or more runs this season:

Los Angeles—Wolter, 78; McMullin, 48; Koerner (Oakland,) 47; ...rry, 46; Bills, 45; Maggert, 41; ...les, 32; Metzger, 30; Beumiller, 23; ...rooks, 22; Ryan, 11.

Oakland—Ness, 89; Johnston, 53; ...rdner, 91; Litschi, 85; Elliott, 34; ...hn, 30; Middleton, 27; Guest, 23; ...arcan, 16; Klawitter, 12.

Portland—Bates, 87; Stumpf, 56; Derrick, 40; Carlisle (Vernon,) 40; Hillyard, 39; Speas, 33; Lober, 35; Davis, 31; Fisher, 29; Carisch, 15; Krause, 12.

Salt Lake—Gedeon, 92; Ryan, 75; ...hlan, 66; Tennant, 52; Zacher, 49; ...rr, 47; Hannah, 37; Hallinan, 33; ...all, 13; Brief, 10.

San Francisco—Bodie, 74; Schaller, ...; Jones, 54; Heimann, 54; Downs, ...; Meloan, 46; Fitzgerald, 34; Corhan, 33; Schmidt, 23; Leard, 19.

Vernon—Bayless, 65; Furtell, 54; ...lberg, 48; Berger, 37; Wilhoit, 35; ...tchman, 34; Spencer, 34; Doane (Portland,) 26; Kane, 24; Mitze, 16.

Switching to another department of human endeavor, Gus Fisher of Portland is found throwing out more base runners than any other backstop in the league.

The Coast League is especially rich in high-class catchers this season, and there is not really a bum backstop in the circuit. In fact, they are all so classy that the terms "first string" and "second string" are almost meaningless in a good many cases.

Great Gus has thrown out seventy-one would-be base stealers. Kuhn, Oakland's red-headed catcher, ranks second with sixty-five bulls' eyes. Boles of the Angels, with sixty-two scalps, takes third place.

Walter Schmidt of the Seals, always rated highly as a catcher, has been downed against more than any other backstop in the circuit. One hundred and five runners have successfully stolen on him. Fisher, while throwing out more thieves than any other catcher, also has been stolen against ruthlessly. The total against him is 101. Predatory tactics also have availed much against Truck Hannah of the Bees. There have been ninety-seven steals made against Salt Lake with Hannah on the job.

However, when it comes to a percentage rating of catchers on the number of men thrown out, Boles leads the field with sixty-two successful pegs and seventy-four steals against him. Kuhn ranks second in the percent, he having thrown out sixty-five while seventy-nine swipes were registered against him. Spencer of the Tigers is a hot third.

The following records show the number of steals made against each catcher and the total number of men thrown out. The percentage is ascertained by dividing the total number of steals, successful and unsuccessful, into the total number of men thrown out:

Catcher.	Club.	A.B.	T.O.S.	Pct.
Derrick,	San Francisco	14	17	.235
Boles,	Los Angeles	74	93	.441
Kuhn,	Oakland	70	85	.441
Spencer,	Vernon	34	37	.419
Hannah,	Salt Lake	37	49	.430
Fisher,	Portland	101	71	.413
Elliott,	Los Angeles	23	11	.324
Schmidt,	Oakland	85	65	.433
Brief,	Salt Lake	10	7	.412
Schaller,	San Francisco	97	64	.398
Mitze,	Vernon	16	11	.407
Carisch,	Los Angeles	5	3	.600

Although the Seals are always out in front by themselves in the matter of stealing bases, when the clubs are rated on the basis of successful steals, Oakland takes precedence over San Francisco.

The Seals, during the first twenty weeks of the season, stole 234 bases, which is so many more than any other club pilfered that there are no grounds for comparison. The Angels rank second with 191. At the same time, the Seals have had more men thrown out than any other club. That doesn't seem to matter, as they got the stolen bases, and that was what they were after.

Wolverton nearly always drives his men on the bases. It was the same with Oakland and also with Sacramento, when he had those teams. His men take the most desperate kind of chances, and time and again in the earlier stages of the game they seem to toss away chances for scoring by their daring, and sometimes, it seems, almost foolhardy work on the bases. But repeatedly, the opposing team has cracked in the face of this whirlwind attack in the later innings, and the Seals rushed through the "break" to victory. The figures show that these "rush" tactics have been successful.

In matter of stolen bases, the teams rank as follows: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Portland, Vernon and Salt Lake. In rating them on the percentage of successful steals Oakland is first, San Francisco second, and then Los Angeles, Salt Lake, Vernon and Portland.

Here are the team-stealing figures:

Club—	S.B.	T.O.S.	Pct.
Oakland	180	102	.638
San Francisco	234	140	.625
Los Angeles	191	112	.603
Salt Lake	113	82	.577
Vernon	144	97	.567
Portland	124	100	.553

SEALS CONQUER BEAVERS AGAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—San Francisco won today's game with Portland, 6 to 2. All the damage was done in the fifth when Kahler, who had been pitching shutout ball, lost his grip, and permitted the Seals to bunch five runs. Both sides used two pitchers. Score:

FALL HANDBALL TOURNEY COMING.

The fall handball tournament of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will officially commence September 15. The entry list will be opened on the 5th and entries will be received till the opening day.

Mye Williams, who has charge of the L.A.A.C. tournaments, expects a larger list of contestants than ever before. About eighty have already signified their intentions of getting in the game and there it little doubt but that a hundred will turn out.

All the members of the championship class will be entered in the coming tournament. Courtney Lacy, the present title holder, will have to fight the battle over again for first honors. C. E. Larson, Ray Dunnigan and a good many others are planning to put up a terrible fight and the champion will have a tough time.

HUNTERS OUT IN SEARCH OF DEER.

LONG BEACH PARTIES LEAVE FOR FAVORITE SPOTS IN MOUNTAINS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 1.—More than a hundred residents of this city are in search of deer and doves in favorite spots on mountain and plain.

Elmer Wishire, Lew Robb and Walter Everett are up in the Oak Glen country after deer. Andrew Hansen and wife, Charles Moist, Jotham Bixby, Jr., Dick Bixby, Phil Bixby, Herb Adams, Tom Williams and V. R. Townsend are preparing to hunt on the big Jotham Bixby ranch near Olive, Orange county. This is considered one of the best dove sections.

George M. Spicer, Dr. P. T. Spicer and A. J. Nicholson left today for Convict Lake, Mono county, to hunt deer and fish; C. L. Thomas left Sunday for Idyllwild to try for deer. B. Y. Wilke and party have gone to Hemet to hunt. A. F. Brashear has gone in the same direction.

Dr. A. H. Spear, Dr. Oran Newton, Barney Brown and J. W. Greenleaf left yesterday for Acton to get a line on the deer.

time, and was one of the first hunters to return. Doves seem to be more plentiful in that vicinity than ever before, and it is undoubtedly one of the best shooting spots in Southern California.

E. Moore, R. Walton, Dr. G. M. Freeman, W. H. Cline, W. R. Werden, R. Owens, H. Pfirrmann, Joe Wilhoit and Walter Doane had all secured the limit by 9 o'clock.

The winner was certainly prepared for the case in hand. He had a horse tied to a near-by tree and a powerful machine waiting at the nearest road. He tied the buck on the horse, climbed on himself, and lit out like a cloud of dust. Then he managed a very speedy transfer to the machine and was rewarded with first honors when he got into Los Angeles.

E. Stafford, the second man to place, shot his deer as early as anyone else but was not so conveniently located.

SECOND DEER.

He pulled down a six-point, 185-pound buck in the Topango Canyon of the Santa Monica range. The shot went into effect promptly at 6 a.m. But there were two mountain ranges to get over and there was no horse to assist in the undertaking.

There were several men in the party and by their combined efforts the deer was transplanted to the distant machine. Mr. Stafford did not reach town until 5:30.

R. Bielts, Detective Williams, Joe Rice and Perry Everwold completed the party. Three deer were shot before 6 o'clock, but two were left in the mountains while the prize winner was rushed to Los Angeles.

After the appearance of the second buck there was a decided lull in the proceedings. A good many hunters, thinking that the prizes would all be gone, failed to bring in their victims. Finally, at 11 a.m. Nick Hugo came in with a 140-pound specimen and secured the third place. Hugo shot the buck with a high-power rifle which he won last year.

Eight dove enthusiasts also came in yesterday and the first three won the prizes.

YOUNGSTER.

Russell J. Scott, a 15-year-old youth, won first place. He arrived at 6:45 a.m. with the limit of doves. He shot them in Coyote Creek near La Habra.

There are three boys and one girl in the Scott family. All had decided to try for the dove prizes and Mr. Scott promised to bring the one with the first limit to Los Angeles in his high-powered automobile.

Russell was not only the first in his family to get the limit; he was the first in the southern part of the State.

The second honor went to J. Franklin, who reached town at 6:54, ten minutes behind the winner. He shot the limit in the brush east of San Gabriel and made a quick run to the city.

J. W. Price was checked off at 7:05 and would have been in twenty minutes earlier if it hadn't been for a blowout. He had to change a tire on the road and lost a lot of very valuable time.

Five other hopefuls came in during the next five minutes.

FORD WINS.

E. J. Ferrario and Bert Spencer had one of the most exciting times of the whole day. They were both shooting in the Tejunga Canyon and they both got the limit at about the same time. One of them had a Ford and the other a motorcycle. They set sail at the same instant and were neck and neck most of the way to Los Angeles. Finally, for some reason or other, the Ford drew ahead and its owner won the race. Even at that he only received sixth place.

The five last candidates follow: Homer Loudercias, limit near Roscoe, San Fernando; R. A. Karnahan, limit near Sherman; E. J. Ferrario, limit in Tejunga Canyon; Bert Spencer, same place; Los Porter, limit near Fullerton.

"Who killed the first deer yesterday morning?" This question is undecided at the present time and will probably remain so. With a thousand crack shots swarming all over the mountains it would be pure guess work to pick a winner. One fact, however, is certain. Several choice bucks were absolutely dead by 8 o'clock in the morning. And half a dozen were in Los Angeles two hours after that.

W. L. Boxall of the Southern California Edison Company struck town at 8:01 and captured the prize offered by the Cline-Cline Company. He brought in a 100-pound buck and spent just two hours on the road getting it to the Sporting Goods Store.

RACE FOR PRIZE.

Boxall, who is one of the most experienced hunters in Southern California, picked out the Crater Apple Ranch as the best spot. This ranch is in the Santa Monica Mountains. Last year deer were very plentiful in that region and prospects were even better for the 1915 season.

The two hunters, Boxall and G. R. Lasher, traveled as far as possible in a machine and then packed in to the most promising location.

"Killing the buck was the easiest part of the whole thing," remarked Boxall. "We saw it coming in our direction and managed to crawl to within a hundred yards of it. Quietly as we moved, the deer must have heard us for it gave a jump just as I shot. That jump was fatal and the animal dropped like a rock, with a bullet through its heart.

"All this happened in about ten seconds and required very little effort or exertion. The work was still to come. We had to roll the buck down the mountain and then pack it two miles to the machine. And, of course, we were in a terrible hurry and hated to slow up or rest.

"By the time we reached the machine we were complete wrecks. But we managed to crank up and get under way. And as we won the prize, we're happy and have no kick coming."

POOR BILL.

Buffalo Bill Strickland, who missed the prize by five minutes last year, repeated the performance and came in a few minutes late yesterday morning.

"It's too bad that Buffalo Bill had to lose," said George Cline, yesterday afternoon. "If anybody ever deserved to win a prize this old hunter is surely the man. And, if anybody ever played in bad luck, Bill is certainly the guy. To lose twice, by just a few seconds, is mighty tough luck."

ENTIRE FORCE.

The entire force of the R. H. Dyas Co. turned out at 5:30 yesterday morning to welcome the first three bucks that put in their appearance. And they didn't hardly have time to polish the prize guns and brush off the prize coats before the winners began to arrive.

R. E. Jameson was the first one to receive the plaudits of the crowd. He burst into view promptly on the stroke of 7:45 with a 165-pound buck calmly reposing in the back seat of his machine.

Jameson captured the monster, which was almost as big as a cow, in the Segas Canyon of the Santa Monica Mountains. It was walking across an open spot and was not more than a hundred yards from the ocean. He raised his trusty rifle and shot it. That's all there was to it.

COWLER PUTS HEMPLE DOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Tom Cowler of England defeated Jack Hemple of San Francisco in the third round of a ten-round match here tonight, the referee stopping the fight to save Hemple from a knockout. Hemple was knocked down three times in the first round and twice in the third before the referee's action. Cowler weighed 211 pounds and Hemple 186.

Two Favorite Shotguns and the Steel Lined "Speed Shells"

"Dope" on shooting is plentiful. And shooters know where the right dope comes from—and that it leads straight to Remington-UMC.

THE Remington-UMC Pump Gun and Autoloading Gun—these are the shotguns of today. Adopted everywhere, for use in the field and over the traps—shot by more of the men who are setting the pace in the sport than any other make of guns in the world.

In the matter of Shells—where is the sportsman who does not know the Remington-UMC "Speed Shells," Steel Lined—all the drive of the powder kept back of the shot, and showing results that flatter any make of gun?

For the right dope—see the Remington-UMC Dealer. He displays the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—the sign that his store is Sportsmen's Headquarters of the town.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"Omar, the Tent Maker," which brings Guy Bates Post to the Majestic next week, has been renamed for obvious reasons "Omar, the Dividend Maker," by New York managers. The piece has been neither absent nor tardy for four seasons, but has played the road straight through.

Next!

Sh! A film has been made showing the technique of the Daemmerschaf, or "Twilight Sleep." A private showing of the picture was given before a company of physicians, educators and newspaper men, in New York, last week. The picture will be presented throughout the country in medical institutions.

Need Express Wagon.

It is stated authoritatively that receipts from Griffith's "The Clansman" films now showing throughout the country amounted last week to $45,000.

Misplaced Hero.

Eddie Lowe of the Burbank says he thought he heard a noise in his house last night. The handsome actor pulled his handsome face out of his handsome pillow and sat up. He heard the noise again. It sounded like applause from the gallery or a door closing. He got out of bed and seized his shotgun, tip-toed to the back door just in time to see a man raise a gleaming implement. Eddie, loth to hurt any fellow-being, took another look, and behold it was the gentle milk man. Eddie says he shook hands to show there was no hard feeling, and went back to the downy.

"So Long" Gets Percy.

Percy Bronson and Winifred Baldwin will appear in "So Long Letty" when the piece goes to San Francisco.

Some Back-fire.

There's a very good story told about a certain well-known lady who is appearing at one of the local playhouses.

When the lady was appearing in one of Frohman's companies, a few seasons ago, it is reported she was peeved because the great little Charles insisted on giving her a few suggestions as to how she should act her part.

"But, Mr. Frohman," she answered, "Do you know who I am? I'm a great artist!"

"Sh!" said Mr. Frohman in a stage whisper. "Sh! I'll promise, dear lady, to keep the secret!"

Orrin's New One.

Orrin Johnson has returned to the Coast, and is appearing in pictures for the Triangle, under Griffith's direction. He is co-starring with Paul Gilmore in Mary O'Connor's "Penatantes." He has the idealistic role of the young shepherd boy.

Makato "Films" Too.

Makato Inokuchi, a well-known Japanese actor, is now a member of the Balboa studio forces. Before going into pictures, he appeared on the English-speaking stage with Viola Allen in "The Daughter of Heaven." He also assisted Walker Whiteside to get the p- oriental atmosphere in the staging of "Mr. Wu." He is a graduate of Princeton.

Not Storehouse Play.

From the looks of rehearsals, with Avery Hopwood's "Sadie Love" beginning to "jell," it appears that the new comedy will never be a cold-storage play.

Marjorie Rambeau has the leading role, and expresses herself as being in a somewhat trembly state of mind at having to play comedy. She modestly avers she is depending on the brilliant lines to carry her through.

Little Mabel's Wit.

Mabel Taliaferro, playing in "The New Henrietta," at the Majestic, is writing herself a play.

A little violet beside a mossy stone is a great rude creature compared to Miss Taliaferro, when it comes to being modest; but she says she's so weary of playing clinging vine parts that she's making up a play for herself out of her own little head wherein she has the role of a pert newspaper woman. Independence of spirit can go no further.

Sleuth-foot Stuff.

So the P. A. has put another one over on us. Hong Fong, "Chinese comedian and entertainer," at the Hip, really isn't a celestial at all, but a Filipino. He was an attache at the Marine Hospital in Manila during the Spanish war, and cheered many a khaki-clad sufferer with his music and wit.

Bag of Rings.

Charming Anna Wheaton, who played in "The Arcadians," at the Morosco last spring, and who went to London to appear in a revue, has returned to New York. She writes her reason for returning was that she had promised five different army men to marry them, and was afraid one or two of them might come back on furlough and claim her.

War Note.

Senora de Rivera, prima donna of the Orquestra Torreblanca, playing at the Orpheum this week, served for several months as a nurse in the Mexican war. She was wounded while ministering to a soldier on the battlefield, and carries the scar of a bullet in her left arm. It is said she was one of the bravest of the Mexican nurses.

Fashion Note.

Listen, "girrule!" Grace Travers is having built the niftiest opera coat for "Sadie Love," that you ever saw. It is cut on the bias and shirred down the back, or something like that. Anyhow you mustn't miss it.

Popular Shaw.

"Pygmalion" will be given by Mrs. Patrick Campbell on Friday evening at the Mason, instead of "Searchlights," as heretofore scheduled.

From Gasoline Row.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell is very fond of motoring, and takes a run to beach or mountains early every morning.

Hopper's First Film.

De Wolf Hopper's first picture for the Triangle is to be "Don Quixote," adapted from the Cervantes novel. Fay Tincher will leave off her stripes and chewing gum and play a very clever role, befitting her talents, opposite the big comedian. Griffith will direct.

Back to Nature.

Bertram Bracken of the Balboa, took his company to Mount Baldy last week. He is putting on a picture which requires rugged mountain scenery. The cast includes Jackie Saunders, Lewis J. Cody, Madeline Pardee and other well-known Balboans.

Helen's Cross Currents.

Helen Ware is shortly to begin work for the Triangle, at the Griffith studio, in "Cross Currents," by Mary O'Connor. Courtenay Foote plays opposite her, and Teddy Sampson has a prominent part.

Here Comes the Bride.

Chester Withey of the Griffith studios, was married to Virginia Philley, leading woman of the Ince Company, last Saturday. Frank Darien, of the Fine Arts Film Company, acted as best man.

Their popularity unlimited.

Unusual picture of Lucretia del Valle, star of the Mission Play, and (above) Marjorie Rambeau, who is appearing in "The Yellow Ticket" this week at the Burbank, and who next week will be seen in "Sadie Love," in which she is to play in New York during the winter.

Californians Winners.

second set, his strokes and generalship being well-nigh perfect. In the third he appeared to grow careless, and the local player, taking advantage of this, lifted his game to a high point, forcing the champion to play desperately at the end to finish without the loss of a set. While Inman used both his service and cleverness in length and placement shots, it was Williams's repeated outs and netted balls that prolonged the set to sixteen games.

In some respects McLoughlin's first campaign on the grand stand courts resembled that of Williams. He won his first two sets against Mathey by one-sided scores, but the Princeton player covered his court with lightning speed, and made the San Francisco wonder battle for every point.

It was during these rallies that the famous expert showed that he had not as yet reached the point in his play that gave him victory over both Brookes and Wilding in the Davis cup matches of a year ago.

WILD.

McLoughlin was wild, netting and routing the ball frequently. He evinced a disposition to play deep court most of the time, and when he rushed to the net for killing smashes he appeared to lose his sense of distance, for he drove the ball into the net almost as often as he did into his opponent's court. Nevertheless, he held Mathey in check until the third set, when the easterner made a strong bid and carried McLoughlin into a fourteen-game contest before he could clinch the match.

ERRORS.

Mathey opened with three games in a row, won partly on the Californian's errors. McLoughlin then came to the net, and, by a mixture of smashes and chop strokes, took the next two games. Retiring to the back of the court again, he failed to hold his advantage, and soon Mathey was within a game of the set.

Although his rifle-shot service was not working smoothly and he was missing many of his first twisting serves, McLoughlin made it a 5-all by a slashing attack that showed what he could do in an emergency. Once he was on even terms with Mathey there was no further doubt regarding the set, and, although the Princetonian player drew round after round of applause by his fighting spirit and remarkable returns of some of the Californian's terrific drives, he could not stave off defeat.

POINTS.

The point scores of these matches follow:

	FIRST SET.
McLoughlin	4 7 4 1 4 4	—25
Mathey	0 5 0 6 2 2 6	—19
	SECOND SET.
McLoughlin	6 1 3 4 1 4 4	—23
Mathey	4 4 4 2 4 2 2	—20
	THIRD SET.
McLoughlin	6 3 2 4 6 1 4 4 2 4 4 4	—49
Mathey	4 7 5 2 3 5 4 2 6 1 4 1 2 2	—43

LONGEST GAME.

More evenly matched players of high skill furnished the real thrills for the spectators in other grand stand contests of the day, in one case establishing a new national tournament record of their efforts to win. The record breaking occurred in the struggle between Walter Morrill Hall of New York and Wallace F. Johnston of Philadelphia, for the first set went to 15-16 before Hall could conquer the Quaker City expert. This is the longest set in the history of modern American championship tourney play.

Way back in the early days of tennis in this country Palmer Presby defeated an opponent, 26-14, but the name of the other player and the date of the match could not be recalled by the many veterans and officials present at the tournament at the West Side Club.

As Usual.

DARIO RESTA IS FASTEST.

SPEEDS AROUND NEW ST. PAUL COURSE.

Gil Anderson and Earl Cooper in Stutz Racers are Close Behind the Daring Italian—Bob Burman in His Peugeot also Shows Lots of Surplus Speed in His Trial.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Sept. 1.—Unless his record is bested tomorrow, Dario Resta, world's champion automobile driver, will have choice of positions on the Snelling Speedway when the $50,000 Derby begins Saturday.

In his elimination trial yesterday he shot around the two-mile track at the rate of 102.5 miles an hour, improving his workout record of the day before which was 101.1 miles an hour. Resta was driving his Peugeot car. Six other cars entered for the Derby also qualified in the eliminations. The cars, drivers and the time made were as follows:

Stutz, Earl Cooper, 98.5 miles an hour; Ogren, Tom Alley, 80.7 miles an hour; Peugeot, Bob Burman, 97.7 miles an hour; Duesenberg, Pete Henderson, 84.1 miles an hour and two Stutz cars, both driven by Gil Anderson at the rate of 100.5 miles an hour and 96.7 miles an hour respectively.

C. C. Brown, driving his Du Chesneau took the track to qualify but failed to do so on the first trial. He has two more trials tomorrow. His time today was 71.4 miles an hour.

That there has been an attempt from some source to injure the success of the first races at the Snelling Speedway, became evident yesterday when Starter Fred Wagner received a telegram from Reed L. Parker, sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune, which read: "Hear track incomplete and dangerous, will race be run?"

Wagner wired the following answer: "Surprised you listen to these cheap violators of even the primary rules of decency, giving credence to anonymous assassins as are responsible for such a story."

Other drivers who have yet to qualify their cars are C. C. Brown, C. E. Haibe, Barney Oldfield, Eddie O'Donnell, William Chandler, Howard Wilcox, John Aiken, Caleb Bragg, John Rutherford, Otto Henning and Ralph Mulford.

Smoking will be prohibited at the lawn tennis championships, to be played on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, Forrest Hills, Long Island, beginning August 30. The wooden stands have been insured for $15,000.

Champions Go Down.

not only overhauled the former national champion, but took the lead and held it.

Lee and Nelson Whitney had easy matches. Each won 9 and 8, the former from Hamilton Kerr of Manchester, Vt., and Whitney from A. C. Ulmer of Jacksonville, Fla. Lee got a 7 for his day's work, which equals the medal-play record for the course.

Sawyer won 6 and 5 from Gardner White of Flushing, L. I., and added another 75 to his splendid performances since Sunday.

Anderson removed J. B. Scholtman of Detroit from further play, 4 and 3.

PAIRINGS.

The pairings for tomorrow compel two Illinois stars to oppose each other—the second time in three days the incident has occurred. Gardner and Sawyer meet. Marston will play Lee and it is expected the easterner will have fierce competition. Whitney clashes with Anderson and Standish has Sherill Sherman for an opponent.

MOTOR RESERVE MEETS AND ELECTS OFFICERS.

BY W. M. HENRY.

OFFICERS of the Los Angeles Motor Reserve were chosen at an enthusiastic meeting held last night with the most prominent motor car men of the city present.

Paul G. Hoffman of the Studebaker Corporation was elected president; Don Smith, Chandler Motor Car Company of California, vice-president; Roy H. Compton, secretary; Harris M. Hanshue, manager Los Angeles Apperson branch, treasurer.

The officers, who are to handle the military matters of the organization in the field are: Captain, R. A. Ford; first lieutenant, Al G. Waddell; second lieutenant, L. B. Clark, salesmanager Lord Motor Car Company, Southern California and Arizona distributors of the Maxwell; surgeon with rank of second lieutenant, A. Edward Roome, M.D.

COMMITTEE.

Members of the Executive Committee are: R. C. Hamlin, Franklin and Scripps-Booth distributor; L. V. Starr, manager Los Angeles Overland agency; F. M. Sinsabaugh, Menominee truck dealer; Watt L. Moreland, manager Moreland Truck Company; O. B. Henderson, vice-president Pacific KisselKar branch; B. L. Graves, manager Los Angeles Ford branch; Al G. Faulkner of Carleton-Faulkner-Bowles Company, agents for Fiat, McFarlan and Jeffery; Walter M. Brown, Southern California and Arizona Stutz distributor; O. R. Fuller, Pioneer Commercial Auto Company, distributors for White cars and trucks, and O. K. Parker of the Harold L. Arnold organization, Hudson and Dodge distributors.

E. C. Crossman was appointed chairman of the Target and Range Committee.

Henry E. Huntington was appointed legal adviser of the organization. Upon Mr. Huntington's suggestion the corps considered the propriety of incorporating under the laws of California. Mr. Huntington explained the advantages from such incorporation and it is probable that incorporation papers will be applied for within the next few days.

TWO MORE.

Each of those present pledged himself to obtain two additional members and have them present at the next meeting. This will give the corps more than 100 members on the active service list.

Capt. W. D. McKinney, U.S.V., explained that a motor corps would be one of the most valuable assets that would be possible for the United States to enlist in its defense. Capt. McKinney told of the superiority of the automobile over cavalry and other branches of the service in patroling the nation's border. As a means of transportation, affording quick facilities in emergencies, he said the motor truck is far more advantageous than the railroad systems.

The captain congratulated the members of the Los Angeles motor car industry on the spirit of patriotism which prompted the organization of the Los Angeles Motor Reserve and said that he took great pleasure in enlisting in the organization. The corps expressed its appreciation of Capt. McKinney's attitude and upon his promise to assist with his advice and personal connection extended to him a vote of thanks.

Capt. Ford, upon whom will evolve the duties of military commander, was delayed on the desert several miles out of Oxnard, but sent word by telephone that he could be counted upon for personal activity. With such men as Capt. Ford and Capt. McKinney, E. C. Crossman, E. D. Neff, C. L. Wotkyns and O. K. Parker identified with the corps, there can be no question as to the ultimate success.

With such a road expert as O. K. Parker, such daring road pilots as Teddy Tetzlaff, T. Beaudette, Harris M. Hanshue, Cliff Durant, Mickey Kern, and rifle experts like Frank Howard, William R. Ruess, Ned Cutting, B. L. Graves, Harold Tuttle, and officers who have all seen active military service, the corps will be in a position to establish itself in every department.

Coming Strong.

CHEVROLET HAS LARGE EXHIBIT.

All Models to be Entered on Floor.

Broadway Automobile and Flower Show Draws.

To Show Prosperity is a Reality.

"Are we going to exhibit in the Broadway Automobile and Flower Show? Well, we surely are, and we'll be there with a big exhibit, too. Count on us for all the space that the law allows," is the way R. C. Durant, local manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company expressed himself when asked about his company's exhibit in the coming show, and, true enough, the public will be able to see all the different models of this popular car which has made a record in quick sales this last spring, when over 80,000 cars were sold or contracted for within two months of the opening announcement.

ROYAL MAIL.

Along with the "Royal Mail" roadster, there will be a Chevrolet "Baby Grand" touring car, an exact duplicate of the one with which R. C. Durant broke all existing records recently, between Los Angeles and Elisabeth Lake, making it several minutes faster than any car had ever traveled it before.

Then there will be the "490," the most recent of the Chevrolet productions, which made its appearance in this city only a few days ago. It will have the place of honor, as it is considered the masterpiece of the Chevrolet line. All of these cars are of the valve-in-the-head construction type, and all are "fours," as Durant, the builder, is a firm and staunch believer in the value of this type of motor.

BOOKLET.

In addition to this display, Mr. Norman Devaux, the president of the company, has in the process of preparation a booklet which will be distributed in the booth, which tends to show that "quantity production makes for quality" in the manufacture of automobiles.

Devaux claims that the true significance of quantity production is sometimes overlooked by those who have not studied the subject. It is generally understood that when large numbers of cars are built by the same maker he is able to sell them for a lower price than his smaller competitor could do. There is sometimes an idea that this fact also means a lowering in quality, while Devaux claims that just the opposite is the case. To prove what he means he cites the case of the Chevrolet company, whose enormous production enables them to maintain one of the largest drop-forge plants in the motor car industry, and the large number of Chevrolet cars built each year makes these parts as economical for them as they are costly for the smaller manufacturer.

NOT PANICKY.

Speaking of the good of this auto show, Durant further said: "It will help to show the general public that the automobile industry is in an exceptionally fine condition and refute the idea that business is in a panicky state as some pessimistic persons would have us believe.

"For myself, I cannot see the shadow of a reason for any pessimism, but I can point you to a lot of indications of vastly-ingreasing prosperity and principally the big demand for automobiles that has been made the last spring and summer on not only our cars, but on every kind of make almost without exception. Of course, if we sit indoors and pull down all the blinds we can look around the darkened room and say that the whole world is black, but the blinds in this town are all up and the sunshine of prosperity is shining all around us here. This auto and flower show is going to be the means of enabling the public to compare cars and to see how well off the auto industry is."

TWO GAMES DUE TODAY.

In order to cram a postponed game into the present series, two games will be staged by the Tigers and Angels at Washington Park this afternoon for the low price of one. The opening combat will start at 1:30 o'clock. Between the two games there will be a brief intermission—just long enough for the athletes to get their second wind.

Grand Circuit.

HENRY TODD IS TROT WINNER.

TRACK SO SLOW THAT TIME IS POOR.

Yedno, Canadian Pacer, Unable to Stand Heavy Going, and After Winning First Two Heats is Beaten in Last by Indiana Horse, Rastus.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YONKERS (N. Y.) Sept. 1.—Chester W. Lasell, of Whitinsville, Mass., won the national championship stallion stakes for three-year-old trotters at the Grand Circuit meeting here today with Henry Todd, a young horse that he bred, developed, trained and drove to victory. The prize was the largest of the Grand Circuit thus far this season and the largest yet offered by the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders under the auspices of which organization the race was arranged. The winner received $5095.50 and the total stakes were $10,435.

The race was closely contested in both heats but the track was so slow that the colts could not attain within three or four seconds of their real capacity. Rusticoat, the colt that would have started favorite had there been any book-making or pool selling, was distanced in the first heat. The times of the heats were 2:11 3-4 and 2:12 1-2.

Yedno, the Canadian pacer, winner of a sensational race at the Montreal Grand Circuit meeting, could not last it out in the heavy going, and after winning two heats in 2:07 and 2:07 1-4 she was beaten off by the Indiana horse, Rastus, in the final heats and in much slower time. Lee McDonald, who drove the winner, also won the Manhattan purse of $2000, for 2:12 trotters, with Laramie Lad. Loe Blossom, owned by Samuel McMillan, took the first two heats handily but broke twice in the third and was distanced. Nathan Axworthy, the horse that probably would have been favorite if pools had been sold, grew so tired in the heavy footing that he was shut out in the fourth heat without making a break.

HARRY BURNS HAS GOOD BOUTS READY.

Harry Burns has completed his programme for Friday night bouts at the San Pedro Athletic Club. Henry Caresse and Bob Summerville will furnish the main bout. Two other promising scraps will be the Joe Sullivan and Joe Gill affair and the Jimmy Gomes and Emil Lugnist scrap.

Burns at present is a sick man and sat on his back in bed. He hopes to be up in time to take care of the show. If he is not, there will be competent men in charge.

SNOWY ASTERS BRIDE'S CANOPY

Pretty Wedding in Pasadena First of Autumn.

Good Templars Spare Guests from Liquor Report.

Father of Mother's Pension Law to be Visitor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 1.—In a setting of striking beauty the marriage of Miss Gertrude Caunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caunt of No. 1318 Oakland avenue, and Paul V. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Barnes of Oak Knoll, was solemnized last night. Rev. John Gilbert Blue read the service in the living-room of the Caunt home.

The ceremony was performed before an altar of snowy asters underneath a canopy of ferns and asters, shading from rose to white above the altar. The mantel banked with asters and ferns was also flanked on either side with graceful tall palms. The electroliers were shaded in pink floral shades and silver vases filled with asters were placed in every conceivable nook about the lovely home.

The bride's table was a thing of beauty in its dress of silver and white and besides the bridal party places were named for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bradbury, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Childs, Miss Clara Baker and Edward McCament.

The only attendants were Miss Vivian Caunt, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, and George Barly who was best man. The approach of the bridal party was announced with Lohengrin's "Wedding March."

More than 100 fashionable guests attended the wedding which marked the first brilliant marriage of the autumn as well as one of the most important announced for the winter. Since announcement was made of the engagement last spring, Miss Caunt was kept attending smart social functions in her honor.

Mr. Barnes and his bride have gone on a wedding trip, the destination of which was not announced.

There were too many visitors at the Good Templars lodge last night, so the committee having in charge the liquor question in Pasadena failed to read its report. If there are not too many guests next week it will be read then.

Because the report will be sensational it was deemed advisable not to read it before so much company, and while members were engrossed with the details of an installation of officers.

There were so many visitors that extra seats had to be placed in the hall, most of the guests having come to witness the installation of the following officers: R. Landis, Past Chief Templar; W. Moore, Chief Templar; J. W. May, Vice Templar; M. B. Shaw, Secretary; H. Montayne, Treasurer; T. Holden, Marshal; J. F. Richards, Electoral Superintendent; J. P. M. Jensen, Superintendent, Templar Education; D. Bridge, Chaplain; E. Baxter, Guard; E. Montayne, Sentinel, and E. Jeffs, Organist.

An informal reception was tendered to W. Moore, the new Chief Templar, a feature of its success being the music rendered by a Glendale quartette.

CITY BRIEFS.

Judge Henry Neil, father of the mothers' pension system and author of the mothers' pension bills in Illinois and other States, is expected here Friday and arrangements are being made for him to speak. Since he fathered the mothers' pension system it has been adopted by twenty-six States and this year $10,000,000 in pensions will be distributed to mothers for the benefit of their children. According to Judge Neil pensions of this kind have reduced juvenile crime and have saved many mothers and their little ones a great deal of distress.

During the month of August just 14,000 people went for a swim in the plunge at Brookside Park. This is by far a greater number than ever refreshed themselves here in the space of a month.

On one day alone there was a paid attendance of 869 people. On next Monday a new record is expected to be set, as 1000 people at least are expected to go "plunging."

According to Supt. Jeremiah Rhodes there will be only one change of principals in the assignment of teachers in the public schools this year. Joseph H. Jackson, who was formerly principal of the Grover Cleveland School, has been transferred to the English department of the High School and has been succeeded by Arthur M. Brown. For the first time in the history of the Pasadena schools expression will be taught in the grade schools. Miss Lenora Ong has been engaged for this work.

COLTON, Sept. 1.—Hotel Anderson, which, when it isn't being either closed to the public or opened, according as the town is "wet" or "dry," is constantly changing hands, and once more has undergone a change of management. Harry Hants relinquished his interest today in the hostelry, which is Colton's only up-to-date stopping place, to Messrs. Lindley and Green of Long Beach. The dining-room, which has been closed during the summer, will be reopened immediately.

HELD TO ANSWER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Sept. 1.—Joseph and Angelina LaBella, husband and wife, have been held to the Superior Court to answer to a charge of arson. Bail was furnished in the sum of $5000 by each of the accused. The fire, which they are accused of having started, ruined residents of Santa Monica Boulevard, Hollywood, on the night of July 13. The La Bellas owned and operated a small grocery store at that point and the fire followed an explosion that was heard for miles. The fire was supposed at first to have been a "black hand" outrage, but detectives started an investigation that resulted in the arrest of the proprietors.

During the month of August just 34,909 people went for a swim in the plunge at Brookside Park. This is by far a greater number than ever patronized themselves here in the space of a month.

On one day alone there was a paid attendance of 869 people. On next Sunday a new record is expected to be set, as 1000 people at least are expected to go "plunging."

According to Supt. Jeremiah Rhodes there will be only one change of principals in the assignment of teachers in the public schools this year. John H. Jackson, who was formerly principal of the Grover Cleveland school, has been transferred to the English department of the High school and has been succeeded by Elmer M. Brown. For the first time in the history of the Pasadena schools domestic science will be taught in the grade schools. Miss Lenore Ong has been engaged for this work.

AGAIN CHANGES HANDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Sept. 1.—Hotel Anderson, which, when it isn't being either leased to the public or opened, according as the town is "wet" or "dry," is constantly changing hands, and more has undergone a change of management. Harry Hants relinquished his interest today in the house, which is Colton's only up-to-date stopping place, to Messrs. Lindley and Green of Long Beach. The dining-room, which has been closed during the summer, will be reopened immediately.

HELD TO ANSWER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Sept. 1.—Joseph and Anna LaBella, husband and wife, have been held to the Superior Court answer to a charge of arson. Bail was furnished in the sum of $5000 by each of the accused. The fire, which they are accused of having started, razed residents of Santa Monica Boulevard, Hollywood, on the night of July 16. The La Bellas owned and operated a small grocery store at that place, and the fire followed an explosion that was heard for miles. The fire was supposed at first to have been a "black hand" outrage, but officers started an investigation that resulted in the arrest of the proprietors.

BANK ACCOUNT STARTS IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 1.—Through the untiring efforts of Miss Ruby Dan Murphy of Taylor, Tex., and Miss Lylian Moore of San Francisco, a bank account of $100 will be opened today for Miss Jennie Olsen, whose eyesight was recently restored. This money is the direct outcome of a tennis tournament which was completed yesterday on the Hotel Maryland tennis courts.

The tournament was one of the most successful ever held in Pasadena and because of marked partisanship all the matches were extremely spirited. A galaxy of well-known players were arrayed against each other, including Winnie Mace and Cliff Herd, W. McCormick and Harold Herlihy, the latter winning the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. championship and the men's singles of the charity tournament the same day.

One of the features of the day was the match between Cliff Herd and Winnie Mace, in which Herd vanquished his opponent and was presented with four sets of tennis balls by Mrs. Dan Murphy. Another of the striking features was the unexpected defeat of L. Colfelt by Frank Dunn, a 13-year-old school boy. After the match Mr. Colfelt was completely exhausted, so much so that he was unable to play the last and winning point of the final set, thereby defaulting.

Not only was the tournament a success from the players' standpoint but it was also most successful as a social affair. Afternoon tea was served to the spectators under the ivy-covered pergola and tennis dances were given both evenings in the hotel ballroom following the close of play.

Cups were presented to the winners by Miss Ruby Dan Murphy, who was instrumental in staging the tournament. She also presented Miss Olsen with the purse of $100. Miss Isabel Kennedy of Stamford, Ct., was the winner of the cup presented by J. Herbert Hall in the ladies' singles, while Harold Herlihy won the gentleman's singles, being presented with the silver cup donated by Mrs. Dan Murphy. The mixed doubles were won by Miss Lylian Moore of San Francisco and W. McCormick. They were given the bronze cups donated by G. E. Feagans and the Maryland Hotel.

One of the largest donations was $50 which Miss Isabel Kennedy received from some annonymous person. Miss Olsen wept with gratitude when presented with the purse, which will mean freedom from worries for months to come.

Some of the most prominent players taking part in the tournament included Cliff Herd, Winnie Mace, Harold Herlihy, W. McCormick, W. McManus, Eddie Ashcroft, junior champion; S. and H. Jamieson, Alfred Hauner, H. Ashcroft, DeWit Murphey, Theodore Chase, Scott Hartje, Frank Dunn, L. Solfelt, Mrs. S. L. Berg, Miss Isabel Kennedy, Miss Lylian Moore, Miss Mary Louise Hartje and Miss Helen McConnell.

BLAME MELANCHOLIA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Sept. 1.—That it was financial worry and increasing melancholia which had been with him since childhood, and not unrequited love for Mrs. B. E. Paulson of this city, which caused R. L. McIntyre of San Bernardino to commit suicide last Friday night, was brought out at the inquest. A letter, whose contents were held secret on the request of relatives, was read and showed the loneliness amidst which McIntyre lived and the state of his finances, which led to the act. While it was first thought that the man had killed himself because Mrs. Paulson, who is a comely widow, would not marry him, this is now denied.

The Harbor.

NEW INDUSTRY IN RAW SUGAR.

Hill Steamers may Import Hawaiian Product.

Borough Provisions to be Kept in Charter.

Council as Whole may Meet at the Harbor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HABOR, Sept. 1.—To secure freight when the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company begins the proposed service between this port and Honolulu, Cal Stone, traffic manager for the Hill steamers, is on his way to Hawaii.

At the present time two big Hill turbiners, Great Northern and Northern Pacific, are doing a thriving passenger business between San Francisco and the tidewater terminus of Hill's North Bank road at Flavel, Or.

With the close of the exposition, however, shipping men believe the business can be handled with one steamer and it is known that the company considers placing one of the steamers on the run between San Francisco, Los Angeles and Honolulu.

It is believed that Stone has gone to the islands to get a part of the raw sugar business if possible. At the present time most of the raw sugar for this Coast goes to Crocket on San Francisco Bay, where the planters have a refinery.

NEW INDUSTRY.

A number of other steamship lines have long had their eyes on the sugar trade, but have never been able to break into it. It is believed that if a part of the raw sugar could be diverted to Southern California it would furnish much employment to the refineries, which are idle the greater part of the year after the beet crop is made into sugar.

While the plans for the extension of the service to Hawaii have not been matured, it is planned to run one of the liners between Flavel, Or., San Francisco and this port, and the other between San Francisco, San Pedro and Honolulu, and back to San Francisco on a triangular route.

Such a service would give thousands of tourists in Southern California a direct line to the islands, and would undoubtedly increase travel to Hawaii to an appreciable extent.

BOROUGH PLANS.

The San Pedro Chamber of Commerce has written a letter to the Board of Freeholders requesting that no change be made in the provisions of the present charter relating to the right of the harbor towns to organize as a borough.

While there has been no recent agitation for a borough at San Pedro, the Chamber of Commerce desires the provision that was in the charter at the time of consolidation retained in the new charter in case it might seem desirable to exercise the privilege at some time in the future.

There has been some agitation for a borough at Wilmington recently, and reports that the provision might be stricken out in the new charter led to the request.

COUNCIL SESSIONS.

The Chamber of Commerce has also extended an invitation to the City Council to hold regular monthly sessions at San Pedro. This was recently proposed by Councilwoman Lindsey.

Charter restriction would prevent official sessions of the Council at the harbor, but it has been proposed that a meeting of the Council as a committee of the whole be held to consider harbor matters informally.

SUBMARINE WHARFAGE.

Business men in San Pedro have started a movement to provide free wharfage and water for the submarine flotilla to met the conditions recently offered by the city of Long Beach. While the city will be unable to offer free water, as has been done in Long Beach, the business men propose to raise a fund to pay for the water.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has secured a berth for use of the submarines from the Harbor Commission at the north end of the east channel in the outer harbor. The offer was telegraphed to the commander of the U.S.S. Cheyenne at Mare Island today.

HONOR GUESTS AT SAN DIEGO.

PAN-AMERICAN IDEA PROVES TO BE OUR SAFEGUARD FROM EUROPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 1.—That the development of the Pan-American idea is one of the greatest factors in better preparedness for war or from attacks of European nations was the keynote of an address made today by John Barrett, Director-General of the Pan-American Union at the exposition. This was Pan-American day at the fair and John Barrett and Dr. Ernesto Nelson, Argentina commissioner to the San Francisco exposition, were guests of honor.

Barrett said in his address that the Latin American republics have come to regard the Monroe doctrine as their own as well as the United States' and that in case of an attack on the United States from a foreign power the southern republics would come to our assistance as quickly as this country would aid them.

Barrett turned the first spadeful of earth for the ground-breaking of the San Diego exposition and again was present at the opening January 1. He said today that he and Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo have formed a sort of boosting club in the East to advertise the beautiful San Diego fair since their visit here in January.

Dr. Nelson delivered an address today as did Dr. Eugenio Dahne, who is on charge of the Brazilian exhibit at the exposition.

A luncheon was given at noon for Mr. Barrett and Dr. Nelson at the Cristobal by Dr. Dahne. A special programme of dancing by the Spanish dancers and speeches was held in the afternoon at the Brazilian exhibit.

Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago was the guest of President Davidson this morning at the exposition and this afternoon was tendered a reception by the Woman's Board in the women's headquarters. Mrs. Palmer will remain at Coronado for several days and will be entertained by a number of friends while here.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Florence Dombey Shreve, market mistress, tonight tendered her resignation to the City Commissioners, thus ending a municipal tempest which has raged in and out of the office of the Public Affairs Commissioner and involved all of the city fathers. The resignation was accepted.

In her communication to the Commissioners signifying her willingness to quit, Mrs. Shreve makes many remarkable assertions, the most startling of which were that, although the office of Affairs Commissioner was presided over by Frank M. Cates, it was in reality governed by Mrs. Cora M. Morgan, his stenographer, who was, at the beginning of the life of the commission form of government, dubbed the "Sixth Commissioner."

"Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Morgan has no official position in the city's affairs and is without authority to act, Commissioner Cates has given me notice that I must transact all market business with Mrs. Morgan," said Mrs. Shreve. "I endeavored in good faith to carry out the orders thus given me but found it impossible and at the same time to preserve the people's market and maintain my own dignity. I found that I could not get along with the dual form of government as now maintained in the department of affairs."

The Commissioners spent over an hour with Mrs. Shreve and her problems this morning. She complained that she was not given fair treatment by Commissioner Cates and his office assistant. Mr. Cates and Mrs. Shreve fired word-bombs at each other until the Commissioners called a halt and upheld the Affairs Commissioner. Whereupon Mrs. Shreve left the room in a huff, stating that she had decided to retain her position. But she changed her mind tonight, thus exercising a woman's prerogative.

The Commissioners ratified the appointment by Mr. Cates of Ernest E. Archer, formerly manager of the Long Beach bath-house, to be market master. Mr. Archer is a capable man who has extensive knowledge of mercantile affairs.

HOME OF TUNA.

The spawning place of the tuna which frequent the channel off the Southern California coast, and which are sought by an immense fleet of packing company boats, has been located at a point fifty miles south of Long Beach, according to Dr. R. L. Taylor, who yesterday attended a session of the county health officers at the office of Dr. Powers in Los Angeles, at which the Federal inspector gave the results of weeks of research.

DETECTS FIRE BY TELEPHONE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 1.—The telephone took its place as a fire detector early this morning when Miss Anna Ortmann, night operator at the telephone office, heard a queer noise on the wire from Grant's market on Orange street.

Thinking burglars had knocked over the telephone she called the police. They investigated and found a fire among some packing cases, started by sparks from a defective flue, getting a good headway. It was put out with less than $50 damage. Over the market is a rooming-house.

Foreign Exchange Again Touches a Low Record but Fresh War Orders and Buying by London Gives a Steady Tone to Late Dealings. Railroads are Generally Firmer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Widely divergent conditions helped unsettle today's market, and kept it in a state of ferment during the early session, with general improvement later. Further debasement of British, French and Italian exchanges to the lowest quotation ever officially recorded was counterbalanced by the news that Germany had complied with this country's protests to the extent of abandoning her policy of marine warfare. This news was followed by a sharp rebound of prices. In banking circles, however, there was no disposition to minimize the effect of the increased demoralization in international credits. Demand bills on London fell to 4.50, an overnight loss of 5¼ cents, the Paris checks at 6.09 represented a loss of 5 cents, or 4 cents under any rate hitherto quoted, while lires at 6.59 fell 8 cents under all previous rates. In the afternoon marked improvement was noted, sterling actually recovering in full at one time, while francs regained 8 cents to 6.01. Italian exchange hardened in sympathy, but the day's developments offered fresh proof of the immediate need for remedial measures. There was a marked increase of bond and stock sales for foreign account. Open selling embraced some of the inactive high-grade railway bonds so extensively held abroad. According to reports, large amounts of these and similar securities have recently been absorbed here at private sales. Except for the first hour, prices were tending downward, and in the final dealings, which witnessed another meteoric rise in motors and kindred issues, trading was light. Railroad shares derived fresh stimulus from favorable statements of earnings, and the specialties rose on a mixture of war order rumors, together with manipulation. General Motors hained 21¼ to 240¼, a new record; Willys-Overland, 8 to 183; Crucible Steel, 9¼ to 84, and Studebaker 4¾ to 113¼. United States Steel sold up to 75¾, 2 points over its early low. Total sales amounted to 676,000 shares. Bonds were irregular, due largely to the heavy foreign offerings. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,755,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Active Traders on Higher Price Levels—Upward Movement in Big Jim and Investment Continues.

Increased activity in oil stocks was the dominant feature of yesterday's session of the exchange. Union was a heavy trader at the firm price of 59.00, and an even higher mark is expected in the near future. Associated was up half a point at 43.50, and 50 shares of Amalgamated brought 66.00. Home Telephone is still a trifle weak at 47.00, and there was no demand whatsoever for the common stock. Los Angeles Investment continues to sell in considerable quantity at rising prices, and the stock reached .48 in the morning, only to fall away half a point at the close. Quite a flurry was exhibited in Big Jim, and the combined efforts of the bulls elevated the stock to the new high mark of .39¾. Twenty-five shares of Union Provident sold for 58.50, and an informal sale of 500 shares of United Oil was recorded at the normal figure of .20¼.

TOOK GIRL TO THWART CUPID.

MOTHER IN SEARCH UNDERGOES GREAT TRIBULATIONS.

Fifteen-year-old Mexican Maid is Located by Parent—Another Woman Brought Her Here from Guaymas to Save Her from Suitor She Disliked.

Because she loved Pauline Morales, a Mexican girl of 15, and disliked one Rosario, the girl's suitor, Mrs. Mabel Lucero, late of La Paz and Guaymas, told Judge Reeve in the Juvenile Court yesterday that she had fled with the girl from Mexico to American soil, thus thwarting the love design of Rosario.

This confession cleared up a mystery which had enlisted the professional services of Attorney Frank Dominguez at the solicitation of Mariana Figuero de Morales, Pauline's mother. When her daughter disappeared from her home in Guaymas, Mex., Mrs. De Morales started for Los Angeles. Her tribulations on foot, horseback and train were graphically related.

Arriving among strangers, the frantic mother appealed to Attorney Dominguez, who located the girl at Juvenile Hall. She had been taken up by juvenile officers, who were afraid she might fall into bad hands. She is petite, but not acquainted with the wiles of a great city. The solution of Pauline's disappearance came when Judge Reeve asked the mother why her daughter left home. The answer to the question was given by Mrs. Lucero, who said Rosario was infatuated with Pauline. She protested against Pauline's being returned to her mother.

Judge Reeve, however, granted Mrs. De Morales's petition, and mother and daughter are preparing to leave the city for their Mexican home today.

WITHIN THE LAW.
NO DIVORCE FOR WIFE.

A husband may come home late at night and lie about where he has been; he may show indifference to his baby and not see it more than three times in as many months; he may invite friends to his home for Christmas dinner and show up at 1 o'clock in the morning after they have departed, but, because the Legislature has so ruled, these things do not constitute extreme cruelty.

Thus it is that Mrs. Mildred H. Bracken, a former moving-picture actress, was denied a decree of divorce yesterday from Bertram Bracken, director of the Balboa Amusement Company. The testimony showed clear proof of desertion, and on this ground Mrs. Bracken will probably file suit when the year period has elapsed. Disappointment was writ expressively on the features of the attractive young wife.

The Brackens were married in 1911. Shortly after that happy event they set sail for the South Sea Islands as members of a moving-picture company. Mrs. Bracken testified that they stopped at Tahiti because her husband "had a fuss" with the manager of the company and was discharged. Mrs. Bracken elected to continue with the company.

The court wanted to know why she did not come back with her husband. She said she had a contract and thought she ought to carry out its provisions.

"Have you the contract?"

"It was a verbal contract," was the reply.

"The decree is denied," said the court, who ordered Mr. Bracken to continue paying his wife $25 a week, which he has been doing since they separated.

"A great many things have been testified about," commented the court, "but none of them amount to anything. Of course, the things told about were wrong, but if divorces were granted on these charges, the files of the court would be full of cases."

CONSCIENCE TELLS.
GAINS LAD NEW CHANCE.

"Give me another chance, judge, and I will go to school regularly, tend to father's store when he asks me to, never be away from home after 9 o'clock at night without my parents' permission, be a dutiful son and report to the probation officer every Saturday."

These rules, self-imposed by Max Venier, 10 years old, were a surprise to Judge Reeve yesterday, as Max voluntarily came into court and confessed that he had violated his probation given for another offense.

"You can make out an order for me now," continued the youth, "committing me to Whittier, and it will be ready if I fall down again."

"Very well," assented the court. "If you break any of the conditions on this committment, it will become effective."

Max thanked the court and left with a happy expression, for he had done what he thought was right.

"EX-CON" HOUNDED?
SAYS RECORD HAUNTS HIM.

Declaring that he had been blackmailed for years by former inmates of San Quentin prison, J. W. Fox plead to Judge Craig yesterday to be admitted to probation on a charge of having stolen an automobile.

According to Fox, he has been hounded from the day he left the bleak walls of San Quentin until that day not long ago in Los Angeles, when he weakened and committed a crime. He had passed a term in prison for passing worthless checks, he said, and when released he promised himself he was going to be good.

He assumed an alias and sought a job. When he had been working for some weeks, he saw the face of an ex-convict who knew him. The former convict, said Fox, threatened to tell his employer unless he gave him money.

"I gave him $20 and a while later I moved on," he said. "The next job I got was just the same thing. One after another ex-convicts would spot me and threaten to expose my former prison record if I did not pay them money.

"When I became engaged to a good woman, was saving money and thought I had escaped at last, along these human vultures came again. Judge they won't let a man be good. They forced me to steal to keep me from being exposed."

Judge Craig took the application under advisement and may make known his decision today.

WILL FILED.
FULLERTON ESTATE.

The will of John H. Fullerton, filed for probate yesterday, provided for his widow, Ellen M. Fullerton; Mabel A. Fullerton, a daughter by a former marriage; a half-sister, Arabella Todd, a nephew and two neices. The estate is valued at $65,000 and includes acreage at Zelzah, Owensmouth and Chatsworth, and the home place at No. 556 Norton avenue, this city.

Miss Fullerton is bequeathed her father's gold sleeve buttons worth $175, a life estate in real property and a building in Townshend, Vt., and $250. A fund of $10,000 is placed in trust with the Security Trust and Savings Bank, the income to be paid Miss Fullerton during her life. At her death it goes to the widow.

Mrs. Fullerton receives the personal effects and $10,000. She will also be paid the income on a trust fund of $15,000. In the event of her death it will go to Arabella Todd, the half-sister. The latter is bequeathed $400, and the nephew and nieces receive $300 each. The residue of the estate is given to the widow.

HE LIKED GAMING.
DESERTED HIS WIFE.

W. M. Scott was a street car conductor. An attractive student of Stanford University became enamored of him, and they were married at San Bernardino four years ago. But Mrs. Scott says that the gaming table had more attractions for him than his home. He left her in 1913 to join a theatrical troupe, leaving unpaid gambling debts behind. She says her father settled these debts.

Yesterday Mrs. Scott was in the divorce court seeking a decree on these and other alleged grounds. She charged failure to provide for two years. Judge Monroe granted the decree.

INS AND OUTS ABOUT THE COURTS.

PLEA HALTS TRIAL. The plea of Saul H. Kaminsky, an insurance broker, that his wife, Mollie E. Kaminsky, forgive him and take him back, halted the trial of Mrs. Kaminsky's divorce suit, set for trial in Judge Monroe's court yesterday. Incompatibility is one of the causes of their disagreement. Through her counsel, Mrs. Kaminsky asked that the case be continued to enable her to consider her husband's proposition. The court set the trial down for October 21. The Kaminskys have been separated more than a year.

WANTS WIFE'S STORY. After hearing what Edwin T. Gill claimed was the cause of his domestic infelicity, the court continued Mr. Gill's suit for divorce yesterday until his wife can be brought into court and tell her story. Mr. Gill testified that Mrs. Gill deserted him in May, 1912. She took the children with her, he said, but sent them back to him because she could not earn enough to support them. She told him, he said, when she left him that she did not propose to let the children spoil her fun.

PLACED ON TRIAL. C. B. Sanderson, an autoist, who is charged with manslaughter for running down and killing Carl A. Erickson, was placed on trial before Judge Craig yesterday. It is expected that the evidence will be presented today and that the case will go to jury tonight. The accident occurred May 20 at Spence street and Stephenson avenue.

ABOUT SOUTH AMERICA.

Director-general of Pan-American Union Pleased with Opportunity to Tell Angelenos Trade Facts.

Hon. John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union, is pleased to have the opportunity of talking of commercial relations with South America to the business men of Los Angeles. Mr. Barrett said as much when he passed through the city on the way to San Diego, and added that he would have much to tell that is new regarding future trade.

The distinguished visitor will reach Los Angeles from San Diego at 7:15 o'clock Friday morning. He will be guest of honor at a private dinner party in the evening before making the principal address at an informal smoker at the Chamber of Commerce.

It is expected Mr. Barrett will give an outline of the recent conference held in Washington with members of the leading commercial and financial institutions of the South American states. This meeting was called especially to consider ways and means of bringing to normal conditions international trade, that was so disrupted by the European war, and to arrive at a working basis for closer commercial relations between the American continents.

JUNKMEN MUST PAY CITY MORE.

COUNCIL TENTATIVELY APPROVES HIGHER LICENSE.

Purpose of Increase is to Eliminate Dealers Who Act as "Fences" and Receive Stolen Goods—They Must also Furnish Police with Reports of Goods Bought.

The Police Commission's suggestion that licenses for junk dealers be raised from $5 to $25 a month was tentatively approved by the City Council yesterday, when it instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance in line with the ideas of the Police Commission.

Recent investigations by the police have shown that large consignments of stolen brass, copper and valuable junk have been disposed of to junk dealers who were, in reality, operating fences and protecting the thieves. Several prosecutions have been successful and Chief Snively believes that a new ordinance raising the license fee and requiring payment for three months in advance and also requiring daily reports to the police showing purchases of goods that may have been stolen will assist in stamping out the trade in stolen metal.

It is believed that the new ordinance, if passed, will drive out of business many of the irresponsible junk dealers who, either through design or ignorance, have been hindering the police in their efforts to apprehend junk thieves.

WILL CHANGE JOBS.
SWITCH IN CHARITY WORK.

The resignation of L. B. Williams, acting director of the Municipal Charities Commission, will be presented to the City Council today with a request from the Charities Commission for an emergency ordinance providing for the appointment of an executive secretary to the commission at $150 a month, who will take charge of the work immediately. Mr. Williams, who is an expert of national reputation in charity work, will enter the employ of the county as director of outdoor relief and it is understood that he will receive $300 a month—the salary now paid by the city. The resignation is to be effective September 5.

In his work for the county director Williams will practically continue his work which was done by the city prior to the consolidation of city and county charity activities.

NEW HEALTH OFFICER.
APPOINTMENT IS MADE.

Dr. Lyle G. McNeile was appointed yesterday to the position of deputy Health Commissioner. The position is a new one and under Health Commissioner Powers, Dr. McNeile will look after maternity cases among the indigent poor. Health Commissioner Powers has asked the Civil Service Commission to certify to the names of ten trained nurses to take the positions created by the initiative ordinance providing for inspection and service to tubercular cases.

Parkway on the Table.

The ordinance of intention to order by aquisition by condemnation the land along the Arroyo Seco for a parkway came before the Council again yesterday and was laid on the table until March 1, 1916. This action permits the city to retain control of the parkway site and prevent encroachment of industries until such time as the city is ready to carry out the costly improvements that have been under consideration for years.

Librarian is Wanted.

Examinations for a children's librarian and for a deputy assessor will be held September 18 and 22, respectively, by the City Civil Service Commission. The librarian will receive $60 to $75 a month and because of the desirability of engaging home one with previous experience in that line, the residence requirements of one year in Los Angeles has been waived.

SHORT FREEDOM.

Bert Hand, whom the county officers allege is wanted in Bluffton, Ind., for a statutory offense committed against his sister-in-law four years ago, made application for release from the County Jail on writ of habeas corpus yesterday, through his attorneys. The writ is made returnable this morning. Hand is alleged to have been a fugitive for two years, after having been released on bail from jail at Bluffton.

Plan to Sell Fruit.

prices for foreign lemons in New York, probably in the history of the importing business.

"For the year ending June 30, 1910, the average selling price of imported lemons in New York was $2.90; in 1911, $3.55; in 1912, $2.38; in 1913, $4.38; in 1914, $3.11, and in 1915, $2.02 a box. The New York price of foreign lemons for the fiscal year, which is a leading factor in establishing values throughout the country, is only slightly more than the average cost of producing and placing a box of lemons on the cars in California."

WEATHER BIG FACTOR.

Among the other depressing influences were the worst climatic conditions for the consumption of lemons that the country has ever seen. Twice only since the last of April has the average eastern temperature reached the normal; twice only since the last of May has the central temperature reached the normal; and at no time since May has the average temperature reached the normal in the western part of the United States.

The California lemon growers also had to operate under the disadvantage of having been practically out of the market the year before, due to the tardy recovery of the trees from damage by frost. As a result, the crop of 1914-1915, which was 122 per cent. in excess of that of the previous year, went into a market where the Italian lemon was doubly entrenched in domination by the tariff and its almost complete usage during the previous season.

But the handicap of the lemon only brings the success of the Valencia into higher relief.

"Through national advertising," says Mr. Powell's report, "the demand of the consumer for the Sunkist Valencia orange is increasing everywhere. The trade has learned that the Valencia is comparatively free from decay; that it is the only summer fruit that can be handled without excessive loss, and it can be shipped into the country towns and to the mountain and seaside resorts. The good color and eating quality of the Valencia, and the freedom from decay, have combined to give the growers of the Sunkist Valencias a splendid financial return."

On the subject of decay, Mr. Powell pointed out that climatic conditions of nearly unprecedented character cost the State's growers from $15,000 to $50,000 a week during February and part of March, through spoilage. A disinclination on the part of the jobbers to handle California oranges followed, but bettered conditions and assiduous advertising, according to Mr. Powell, resulted in a slowly-increasing demand from late March until the naval season ended.

The total cost of distribution, marketing, advertising and dealer-promotion work, to exchange shippers, last year averaged 6¼ cents a box, or slightly over 2 per cent. of the delivered value of the fruit. The average cost of the district exchange work was slightly under 1 cent a box, making the total average cost of the exchange and district exchange service, including all advertising costs, slightly over 7 cents a box. This was somewhat higher than the year before, due to more extensive advertising.

The shipments by the exchange were 62⅛ per cent. of the total from the State. This represented the largest volume, as well as the largest proportion of the total crop, ever handled. Ten years ago the exchange forwarded 47 per cent. of the crop, five years ago 59 per cent. and three years ago 60 per cent.

During the year the traffic department of the exchange secured a return of $159,506 to shippers through claims against the railroads for pilferage, overcharge and loss and damage in transit.

A summary of the report of the Fruit Growers' Supply Company was given in Mr. Powell's report. It showed a total business for the year of $3,200,000, while the value of packing-house materials supplied the associations was approximately $2,440,000, or $400,000 in excess of the previous year, while the traffic in oil and orchard heaters, due to normal climatic condition during the winter, dwindled to next to nothing.

The amount of material furnished exchange members through the supply company may be judged by reference to representative articles. During the fiscal year it furnished 12,000,000 boxes, or 2100 carloads of box shooks; 16,500 kegs of nails; $236,675 worth of fertilizer; 1,500,000 pounds of cyanide of sodium, and 420,000 pounds of cover crop seeds.

Mr. Powell will leave today on his regular three months' inspection of the eastern agencies, as a preface to the opening of a new shipping season.

JITNEY DRIVER HELD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 1.—William Sapp, jitney driver, who is charged with manslaughter in the death of Meyer S. Rafield of Los Angeles in an automobile-buggy collision on South Main street, August 22, has been bound over to the Superior Court and his bail was reduced from $1000 to $500 by Justice Cox.

Children Gone.

Baron left again, his wife says, and she was stranded in Milan with ten centimes in her purse. Friends supplied her with the means to reach England, where she found some of his relatives and from them got enough money to pay debts incurred when the second son was born. Then her mother sent for her and she returned to Los Angeles. Later on the Baron returned also, for reasons which his wife hints may not have been altogether creditable to him.

Since their return the support he has given his family has been very precarious, the Baroness says. Finally they went to the home of Mrs. Kukulska and the wife took up stenography again. The husband made various trips away from the city, but never was very explicit as to where he had been. He kept talking of going to Oregon or Washington to make a fresh start and urged that his wife prepare to go with him. She declared she would stay with her mother until he got located and was able to provide a home for her and the two boys.

There were many wrangles over the subject, and frequent threats, by the husband, it is said, that he would take the children away. Finally came the climax. About a month ago the husband went to the house on Myrtle avenue and said that he wanted to take the boys out for a walk. Putting on their little hats, the mother started them off with their father, and never has she seen them since.

From San Bernardino and Fresno the Baron sent letters to his wife, stating that he was going to send for her, but for a long time, she says, she has heard nothing from him or her sons, and her grief is so serious that her friends have determined some radical steps must be taken. She believes that her husband and the two boys may be in Fresno at this time.

BROWNSVILLE (Tex.), Sept. 2.—The bullet riddled bodies of two Americans, who were early today kidnaped by Mexican bandits about 12 miles north of here, were found today in the bed of a dry lake.

They were Earl Donaldson, a farmer who came here from Fayette, Mo., two weeks ago, and an engineer named Smith, engaged in concrete construction work on an irrigation canal. The bodies were brought to Brownsville tonight.

Donaldson, Smith and Stanley Dodds, a contractor building an irrigation pumping station, were captured by the Mexicans. Because one of the band told the others that Dodds was a German he was not harmed, but his hat and shoes were taken. The pumping station and an automobile were burned by the bandits.

Later in the day the Mexicans became engaged in a running fight with a detachment of United States infantry and in the excitement Dodds escaped. He telephoned from a distant ranch house tonight that he was safe.

The fight between the Mexicans and the American detachment resulted in the death of one Mexican and the escape of the fifteen others, who composed the band. No American was hurt.

Officers said tonight that Aniceto Pizano, a Mexican, who was engaged in the Los Tuitos fight last month and escaped to Mexico (and whose name later was signed to a circular distributed in Mexico urging Mexicans to rise in arms against Americans, was the leader of the band.
